Akron Driver Dies In Crash Near Minerva

Body Found 7 Hours After Car's Plunge Off Route 30 Turn

County's 1960 Traffic Toll
4 KILLED

This date in 1959—1 Killed!

'DON'T DRIVE LIKE 60'

A 23-year-old Akron heating firm employe was killed early Sunday morning when his car plunged off Route 30 near Bayard, went through a fence, hit two trees and landed 250 feet from the road, where his body was found 7 hours later.

Patrick Macken of Akron was pronounced dead at the scene about 2½ miles east of Minerva.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Macken's car apparently sped off the highway at a slight curve about 1:15 a. m. It struck a tree, crashed through a fence and hit another tree, scattering wreckage along the path.

The shattered auto and Macken's body were discovered about 8 a. m. by a passing motorist.

His death marked the county's fourth traffic fatality so far this year, compared to one at the same time in 1959.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Joan Macken, and an infant daughter, Michale.

Services will be held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. at the St. Paul Catholic Church at Akron.

Girl And 2 Men Hurt In Route 45 Accident

A Lisbon girl and two Youngstown men were injured in a Route 45 traffic crash near Wellsville early Sunday morning, while an East Liverpool man's car was wrecked in a mishap near Salem last night.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a car driven by David Moore, 28, of Youngstown skidded sideways into an oncoming auto on Route 45 about a tenth of a mile north of Wellsville at 1:15 a. m. yesterday.

Officers said Moore lost control on a curve and hit a southbound coach driven by Robert Parfitt, 30, of 1006 St. Clair Ave.

Sandra Hammett, 21, of E. Vine St., Lisbon, and Robert Hollander, 26, of Youngstown, passengers in Moore's car, were treated at City Hospital, along with Moore.

The girl suffered bruises of the forehead and right knee, while Hollander was treated for a cut of the forehead. Moore had abrasions of the back and a cut of the forehead.

Parfitt's 1956 coach received extensive damage in the front, while the right side of Moore's 1953 sedan was damaged. Moore was charged with reckless operation.

Roy Sprowl, 24, of High St. was cited by the patrol last night after his car went into a ditch along Route 14 north of Salem in an effort to halt at the scene of a previous highway accident.

Sprowl tried to halt for traffic ahead and lost control of his car, which veered off the road, demolishing the 1952 sedan, officers said. He was cited for failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

Man Escapes After Knifing Local Woman

Police today pressed the search for a man who attacked a W. 9th St. woman Sunday night while she walked toward her home, cutting her on the right hand while she struggled to free herself from his grasp.

Mrs. Elaine Hebron, 29, of 514 W. 9th St. told police the unknown assailant grabbed her from behind while she walked in the 300 block after stopping her once to seek information.

Mrs. Hebron told police she struggled and screamed and the man finally released her and fled into an alley. She said she couldn't recall when she was cut.

Mrs. Hebron was treated at City Hospital about 10 p. m. yesterday for lacerations of the thumb, little finger and palm of the right hand which required 15 sutures to close.

The assault victim told Police Lt. Clyde W. Boso her assailant was a man in his early 20's and had a medium build. He was about 5 feet 9 and had blonde or light brown hair, she said, and was wearing blue jeans and a red plaid jacket.

Mrs. Hebron told police she had been to a funeral home with friends and left them at 5th and Market Sts. about 9:30 to walk home.

When she reached W. 9th St., she became aware someone was following her, police were told. The man passed her and continued walking on W. 9th St. until she reached Landsdowne St., when he stopped and asked her "Where do the Jones' live?'" Mrs. Hebron told Lt. Boso.

Mrs. Hebron said she told the man she didn't know the family and suggested he ask some of the residents living nearby. She had proceeded about 100 feet west when the assailant grabbed her from the rear.

The victim said he threw his arms around her and she started to scream and twisted around to face him.

'This is a knife, baby'," Mrs. Hebron said the man told her.

She said she continued to struggle and scream and the assailant finally released her and fled.

Mrs. Hebron ran to the home of Mrs. Helen Wilson, 322 W. 9th St., and asked her to notify police and her husband of the incident. Mrs.

House Begins Fight For New Housing Aids

Democrats Call For Billion Dollars In Federal Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats launched a drive for a billion dollars of special federal housing aids today. Rep. Albert M. Rains (D-Ala) said home construction will sag badly this spring unless Congress acts.

Rains' statement was made at the start of hearings by the housing subcommittee.

The Rains bill would authorize the Federal National Mortgage Assn. to buy up at ace value a billion dollars of outstanding mortgages of $13,500 or less, which are guaranteed or insured by the Veterans Administration or the Federal Housing Administration.

FNMA customarily buys mortgages at a discount, or less than face value, in its secondary market purchases.

Rains said government purchase of a billion dollars of FHA and GI mortgages "would be a powerful stimulus to overcome the shortage of funds for FHA and GI loans."

He stated it would help home owners avoid the present necessity of resorting to second mortgages, land sales contracts and other forms of convention mortgage financing which he called "costly and potentially dangerous to the home buyer."

Such practices are not permitted in FHA and GI loans.

"The blunt truth is that the preponderance of expert opinion tells us we can expect a substantial decline in housing this spring unless we take corrective action," Rains said.

"We know further that all of the decline in housing starts during the past year has taken place in the FHA and VA sector which produces the large majority of lower priced homes."

Ike Hits Talk Of Giveaway In Aid Plan

President Defends Balanced Budget Efforts In Speech

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that criticism of the administration's foreign aid program as a giveaway plan indicates abysmal ignorance.

In an informal talk at a breakfast meeting of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards, the President also spoke out in defense of his plans for a balanced budget in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Eisenhower told his audience of about 1,000 at a downtown hotel they have an obligation to familiarize themselves with the issues which face the United States.

He spoke of the need to curb inflation and avoid debasement of the dollar.

Some individuals, the President went on, are "going along in a sort of cloud believing that one (political) party or another party has all the virtues and the others none."

He added that such people are "completely uninterested, particularly if registering or taking part in political action interferes with their golf or their shooting or any other recreation."

That remark from Eisenhower, who both golfs and hunts, drew a laugh.

As for the administration's controversial foreign aid program, the President noted that it often is criticized as a give-away plan.

"Nothing is more indicative of abysmal ignorance," Eisenhower said.

If the United States abandons the people of free nations which need help, Eisenhower said, "we are going to have to pay the bill" in currency costing much more than dollars.

Drillers Spur Their Efforts To Save 440

COALBROOK, South Africa (AP) — A high speed drill today bored steadily toward 440 men trapped deep in a coal mine since Thursday.

Fresh rockslides clogged the main shaft with tons of earth, halting underground rescue efforts. Mine officials ordered an emergency shaft sunk to try to get food and air to the men if they are still alive.

Managers of the Clydersdale colliery, where the massive rockfall occurred, rushed the drill here from an iron mine in the northern Transvaal.

The drill, which bores a hole 15 inches in diameter, pentrated 80 feet within a couple of hours, then struck a rock formation. Engineers estimated it would take 40 hours to reach the area where the men are trapped.

East End Post Plans Annual Dimes Project

The annual "Crock of Dimes" campaign, sponsored by American Legion Post 374, will be conducted Tuesday from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. at Pennsylvania Ave. and Dewey Ave.

Pontiff Opens Key Synod On Catholic Life

770 Articles To Be Considered During Week-Long Session

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today invoked the spiritual guidance of St. Peter and St. Paul as Rome's First Diocesan Synod began deliberations to meet the challenges of modern times.

White and yellow papal banners fluttered from Vatican buildings for the event—the first since the great apostles made Rome the center of Christian faith.

The Pope formally opened the synod—an ecclesiastical gathering—Sunday at the Basilica of St. John Lateran, his episcopal see as Bishop of Rome.

The week-long deliberations, which will consider 770 proposed articles covering many aspects of conduct both for Roman Catholic clergy and laymen, began today in the Vatican's Hall of Benedictions. A year's preparation preceded the formal opening of the synod.

Synod sessions are secret. Vatican sources said, however, the articles deal with many aspects of modern life, including a television, radio, smoking, the use of automobiles by priests and other clergymen, and the appearance of priests and other members of religious orders in public places. Some of these articles may not be published officially for a year, some Vatican sources said.

The opening deliberative session was preceded by a Mass celebrated by the Pope in the Sistine Chapel.

Then, seated at his throne, the 78-year-old supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church delivered the first of several addresses he will make before the synod. He spoke in Latin. His address was devoted primarily to the priest and his mission.

"The person of the priest," he said, "is sacred, his life must be holy."

10 Young Explorers Rescued From Cave

WELLS, England (AP) — Ten young cave explorers were rescued today after being trapped by flood waters in a cavern.

The explorers were cut off for eight hours in a series of underground caves and tunnels known as St. Cuthbert's Swallet just outside the Somerset village or Priddy. Torrential rain flooded an underground stream flowing through the caves.

Disarmament, Berlin Issues Are Reviewed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two groups of Allied diplomats begin meetings here today to forge proposals for disarmament and Berlin negotiations with the Soviet Union later this year.

Discussions on the Berlin problem are expected to produce a new debate among the major Western powers over their differences about how to counter Soviet pressure for an end to Allied protection of West Berlin.

The British government reportedly is interested, for instance, in negotiating some new status for West Berlin in an effort to strike a bargain with the Soviets. On the other hand, West Germany wants to avoid any concessions to the Soviets on this issue, including those offered during the foreign ministers meeting at Geneva last summer.

Discussion of the Berlin and German questions will be conducted in the meeting beginning today by representatives of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany. The purpose is to get an agreed position of the four powers in advance of the summit conference at Paris in May.

The disarmament policy group is composed of representatives of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy. Those five Allied countries will open a new round of talks on arms reduction and control at Geneva in mid-March.

Dr. Dale Williams Asks Renomination For School Board

The president of the Hancock County Board of Education was among 4 who entered West Virginia's primary May 10 by filing for nomination today and over the weekend in the county Courthouse in New Cumberland.

Dr. W. Dale Williams, a New Cumberland dentist, filed for renomination to his second term as a member of the non - partisan County Board of Education.

Other new candidates include R. H. Miller of Weirton, for member of the Board of Education from Butler District; William G. Brewer, a Democrat, for constable of Grant District, and Mike Musulin, a Democrat, for constable of Butler District.

With only 11 days left until the Feb. 6 deadline, the primary slate has reached a total of 40 — 29 Democrats, 8 Republicans and 3 for non-partisan posts.

At the last general election in November 1958, figures showed a registration of 12,327 Democrats, 8,081 Republicans and 33 Independents in the county.

Dr. Williams also is president of the West Virginia Association of County School Boards and is a member of the Medical Staff of Weirton General Hospital, the American Dental Association and

19 Are Dead In Fighting; 153 Injured

Army Now Appears In Control In Riots Over De Gaulle Plan

ALGIERS (AP) — Armed diehard French rightists held out today behind makeshift barricades in the heart of Algiers.

Dawn found the capital quiet but tense in the wake of Sunday night's fighting and panic that left 19 persons dead and 153 wounded.

The army seemed firmly in control, except for two pockets where about 1,000 insurgents were holed up.

The uprising against President Charles de Gaulle's self-determination policy pitted Frenchman against Frenchman in Algeria, already bleeding from a five-year revolt of nationalists.

A stiff military censorship was imposed on outgoing news dispatches, but there was no objection to calling Sunday's rising a fight to keep Algeria French.

Trucks of paratroopers lined Avenue Pasteur along the western flank of the barricaded areas. The holdouts showed signs of their all-night watch as they silently stared at passers-by who hurried along in the bleak dawn.

Despite a military order banning assembly of more than three persons, groups gathered around the barricaded area and stared grimly at the insurgents who had hoisted tattered French tricolors.

Here and there merchants who shuttered their windows when the rioting broke out Sunday night began to open their stores.

The three Algiers morning daily newspapers, all censored, sold quickly. They printed dispatches reporting minor demonstrations of sympathy in Oran and Constantine.

Inside the barricaded area rebellious groups sang a rousing Marseillaise.

The Government Building on Forum Hill, scene of Sunday night's clash, looked like an armed camp. Steel-helmeted police and riot squads spread out army rations in the lobbies and corridors.

The Echo d'Alger said in a front page editorial that "French blood has been spilled climaxing the disillusionment of which we are drinking the bitter chalice for so many years." Alain de Serigny, publisher of the newspaper, took part in Sunday's demonstration.

The army said that among the victims were 8 policmen killed and 80 wounded.

Leaders of the rebellious Frenchmen, who had counted on army sympathy and support, admitted they were fighting a losing battle. The supreme commander of the French forces in Algeria stood stoutly behind De Gaulle and warned "the mutiny will not win."

A band of several hundred insurgents held out on the grounds of Algiers University in the center of the capital and in the adjacent Rue Michelet for a last-ditch stand after police and troops broke up mobs of demonstrators that swelled to 20,000.

The diehards defied an appeal from De Gaulle to lay down their arms.

Gen. Maurice Challe, supreme French military commander in Algeria, clamped martial law in the capital and imposed censorship on all outgoing news dispatches. There were no reports of trouble outside the city of Algiers.

The Paris government banned public meetings throughout France

More Snow Flurries Forecast For Tuesday

More snow flurries are scheduled Tuesday, along with a drop in the temperature, the Ohio weatherman said today.

Comparatively warm weather returned to the area today, with a high of 30-35 forecast for this afternoon. The low tonight will be 20-25, the weatherman said.

Dam 8 at Newell recorded a high of 31 at 2 p. m. Sunday. The overnight low was 22. A few mild snow flurries fell in the area this morning.

Addresses West Virginia House

Humphrey Directs Attack Upon 'Pockets Of Poverty'

CHARLESTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today there are "too many pockets of depression and despair" in the United States for any American "to feel complacent about our national strength."

Humphrey, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination and may run in the West Virginia preferential primary, expressed this point of view in a speech prepared for the House of Delegates.

"The fact that the West Virginia Legislature is grappling with questions of supplying food for the hungry and other welfare measures points up the bitter fact that the prosperity we hear so much about is certainly not a general prosperity," he said.

"Poverty is always a tragedy, any time and any place. But poverty in a land that is enjoying a national product close to 500 billion dollars is more than a tragedy — it is a national scandal."

Humphrey said it is clear that the greatest hope for eliminating poverty is regular employment at decent wages.

"That," he said, "means a number of things."

"It means making it easier — not harder — for unions to organize the unorganized and bring them the economic benefits of collective bargaining.

Tugs Win Life-Death Duel After Two Vessels Collide

ABOARD A PLANE OVER THE ENGLISH COAST (AP) — On the crinkled waters of the Spithead Channel today six ships played tug-of-war—with life or death as the prize.

Four of the ships were British tugs. Their task was to pull apart an American freighter and a Norwegian tanker locked together after a shattering collision. The American ship's nose was firmly fixed in the tanker's port bow as gradually the two drifted toward the shallows.

Fire was the biggest danger. The tanker's cargo was highly inflammable oil. Yet another peril was a big fort planted in the channel to beat off mine-laying planes in World War II.

The tugs won their battle—and just in time. Soon the two ships were under tow and on their way to safety.

This correspondent watched the last stages of the drama from a low-circling plane. A big gap showed in the tanker's side, like a slice from a gigantic cake. The American ship's bow was shattered. As the plane swooped low, you could see right into the freighter's forward hold, littered with crumpled packing cases, and see waves on the other side.

Three men stood on the foredeck of the tanker, the 11,000-ton Gorm of Loso. One looked up briefly to wave to the plane. Then he turned back with the others anxiously

Girl And 2 Men Hurt In Route 45 Accident

A Lisbon girl and two Youngstown men were injured in a Route 45 traffic crash near Wellsville early Sunday morning, while an East Liverpool man's car was wrecked in a mishap near Salem last night.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a car driven by David Moore, 28, of Youngstown skidded sideways into an oncoming auto on Route 45 about a tenth of a mile north of Wellsville at 1:15 a. m. yesterday.

Officers said Moore lost control on a curve and hit a southbound coach driven by Robert Parfitt, 30, of 1006 St. Clair Ave.

Sandra Hammett, 21, of E. Vine St., Lisbon, and Robert Hollander, 26, of Youngstown, passengers in Moore's car, were treated at City Hospital, along with Moore.

The girl suffered bruises of the forehead and right knee, while Hollander was treated for a cut of the forehead. Moore had abrasions of the back and a cut of the forehead.

Parfitt's 1956 coach received extensive damage in the front, while the right side of Moore's 1953 sedan was damaged. Moore was charged with reckless operation.

The British government reportedly is interested, for instance, in negotiating some new status for West Berlin in an effort to strike a bargain with the Soviets. On the other hand, West Germany wants to avoid any concessions to the Soviets on this issue, including those offered during the foreign ministers meeting at Geneva last summer.

Discussion of the Berlin and German questions will be conducted in the meeting beginning today by representatives of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany. The purpose is to get an agreed position of the four powers in advance of the summit conference at Paris in May.

The disarmament policy group is composed of representatives of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy. Those five Allied countries will open a new round of talks on arms reduction and control at Geneva in mid-March.

4 More Enter As Hancock's Filings Grow

Dr. Dale Williams Asks Renomination For School Board

The president of the Hancock County Board of Education was among 4 who entered West Virginia's primary May 10 by filing for nomination today and over the weekend in the county Courthouse in New Cumberland.

Dr. W. Dale Williams, a New Cumberland dentist, filed for renomination to his second term as a member of the non - partisan County Board of Education.

Other new candidates include R. H. Miller of Weirton, for member of the Board of Education from Butler District; William G. Brewer, a Democrat, for constable of Grant District, and Mike Musulin, a Democrat, for constable of Butler District.

With only 11 days left until the Feb. 6 deadline, the primary slate has reached a total of 40 — 29 Democrats, 8 Republicans and 3 for non-partisan posts.

At the last general election in November 1958, figures showed a registration of 12,327 Democrats, 8,081 Republicans and 33 Independents in the county.

Dr. Williams also is president of the West Virginia Association of County School Boards and is a member of the Medical Staff of Weirton General Hospital, the American Dental Association and

19 Are Dead In Fighting; 153 Injured

Army Now Appears In Control In Riots Over De Gaulle Plan

ALGIERS (AP) — Armed diehard French rightists held out today behind makeshift barricades in the heart of Algiers.

Dawn found the capital quiet but tense in the wake of Sunday night's fighting and panic that left 19 persons dead and 153 wounded.

The army seemed firmly in control, except for two pockets where about 1,000 insurgents were holed up.

The uprising against President Charles de Gaulle's self-determination policy pitted Frenchman against Frenchman in Algeria, already bleeding from a five-year revolt of nationalists.

A stiff military censorship was imposed on outgoing news dispatches, but there was no objection to calling Sunday's rising a fight to keep Algeria French.

Trucks of paratroopers lined Avenue Pasteur along the western flank of the barricaded areas. The holdouts showed signs of their all-night watch as they silently stared at passers-by who hurried along in the bleak dawn.

Despite a military order banning assembly of more than three persons, groups gathered around the barricaded area and stared grimly at the insurgents who had hoisted tattered French tricolors.

Here and there merchants who shuttered their windows when the rioting broke out Sunday night began to open their stores.

The three Algiers morning daily newspapers, all censored, sold quickly. They printed dispatches reporting minor demonstrations of sympathy in Oran and Constantine.

Inside the barricaded area rebellious groups sang a rousing Marseillaise.

The Government Building on Forum Hill, scene of Sunday night's clash, looked like an armed camp. Steel-helmeted police and riot squads spread out army rations in the lobbies and corridors.

The Echo d'Alger said in a front page editorial that "French blood has been spilled climaxing the disillusionment of which we are drinking the bitter chalice for so many years." Alain de Serigny, publisher of the newspaper, took part in Sunday's demonstration.

The army said that among the victims were 8 policmen killed and 80 wounded.

Leaders of the rebellious Frenchmen, who had counted on army sympathy and support, admitted they were fighting a losing battle. The supreme commander of the French forces in Algeria stood stoutly behind De Gaulle and warned "the mutiny will not win."

A band of several hundred insurgents held out on the grounds of Algiers University in the center of the capital and in the adjacent Rue Michelet for a last-ditch stand after police and troops broke up mobs of demonstrators that swelled to 20,000.

The diehards defied an appeal from De Gaulle to lay down their arms.

Gen. Maurice Challe, supreme French military commander in Algeria, clamped martial law in the capital and imposed censorship on all outgoing news dispatches. There were no reports of trouble outside the city of Algiers.

The Paris government banned public meetings throughout France

More Snow Flurries Forecast For Tuesday

More snow flurries are scheduled Tuesday, along with a drop in the temperature, the Ohio weatherman said today.

Comparatively warm weather returned to the area today, with a high of 30-35 forecast for this afternoon. The low tonight will be 20-25, the weatherman said.

Dam 8 at Newell recorded a high of 31 at 2 p. m. Sunday. The overnight low was 22. A few mild snow flurries fell in the area this morning.

Addresses West Virginia House

Humphrey Directs Attack Upon 'Pockets Of Poverty'

CHARLESTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today there are "too many pockets of depression and despair" in the United States for any American "to feel complacent about our national strength."

Humphrey, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination and may run in the West Virginia preferential primary, expressed this point of view in a speech prepared for the House of Delegates.

"The fact that the West Virginia Legislature is grappling with questions of supplying food for the hungry and other welfare measures points up the bitter fact that the prosperity we hear so much about is certainly not a general prosperity," he said.

"Poverty is always a tragedy, any time and any place. But poverty in a land that is enjoying a national product close to 500 billion dollars is more than a tragedy — it is a national scandal."

Humphrey said it is clear that the greatest hope for eliminating poverty is regular employment at decent wages.

"That," he said, "means a number of things."

"It means making it easier — not harder — for unions to organize the unorganized and bring them the economic benefits of collective bargaining.

Along English Coast

Tugs Win Life-Death Duel After Two Vessels Collide

ABOARD A PLANE OVER THE ENGLISH COAST (AP) — On the crinkled waters of the Spithead Channel today six ships played tug-of-war—with life or death as the prize.

Four of the ships were British tugs. Their task was to pull apart an American freighter and a Norwegian tanker locked together after a shattering collision. The American ship's nose was firmly fixed in the tanker's port bow as gradually the two drifted toward the shallows.

Fire was the biggest danger. The tanker's cargo was highly inflammable oil. Yet another peril was a big fort planted in the channel to beat off mine-laying planes in World War II.

The tugs won their battle—and just in time. Soon the two ships were under tow and on their way to safety.

This correspondent watched the last stages of the drama from a low-circling plane. A big gap showed in the tanker's side, like a slice from a gigantic cake. The American ship's bow was shattered. As the plane swooped low, you could see right into the freighter's forward hold, littered with crumpled packing cases, and see waves on the other side.

Three men stood on the foredeck of the tanker, the 11,000-ton Gorm of Loso. One looked up briefly to wave to the plane. Then he turned back with the others anxiously

Jaycee Group Wins Awards

Two project awards were won by the East Liverpool chapter at the quarterly Junior Chamber of Commerce All-State meeting over the weekend at Cleveland.

The local Jaycees won a first place for its Home Show, entered in the profit-making division, and a third for its Get-Out-The-Vote campaign, entered in the external activities division.

The Home Show was held in November at the Veterans of Foreign Wars building. After the judging, the report manual on the project was picked up by state officials for study and possible publication in the state Jaycee magazine, Ohio's Tomorrow.

The local chapter held a mock election in city schools as part of its Get-Out-The-Vote drive.

W. Edward Adkins, president, and George Hales and John B. (Jack) Hales, directors, attended the session Saturday and Sunday.

They attended personnel development forums Saturday afternoon and organizational forums Sunday morning.

A 50-cent state dues increase was adopted. Each local chapter now will have to pay this much more to the state organization each six months for each member. The East Liverpool delegation opposed the move and their objections were included as part of the official minutes.

Gov. Cecil Underwood of West Virginia was guest speaker at Sunday's dinner.

Ohioans Turn Fairway Into A Landing Strip

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP)—Two Ohio men rolled down the fairway of the 11th hole at Bonnie View golf course just northwest of the Baltimore city limits Sunday.

What? Golf in January — in Maryland?

No. They were in an airplane.

Neither the pilot, Robert G. Minor, 39, of Middletown, nor his passenger, Fred Wood, 31, of Gallipolis, was hurt as they landed their single-engine, four - place Beechcraft Bonanza. Its tail was slightly damaged.

Minor told Baltimore County police they decided to land on the golf course because he "had trouble with his radio, he didn't know exactly where he was, and it was getting dark fast."

The two, employes of a Middletown mortuary, were en route to New York City to pick up a body for the funeral home (McCoy-Leffler). They said they would take off again this morning.

Youth Shot By Police After Fleeing From Car

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police fired six shots Sunday in pursuing James Sullivan, 20, accused by a woman of grabbing her as she left a church service.

One of the shots struck Sullivan in the left thigh. Another bullet narrowly missed 3½-year-old Geraldine Butler who was asleep in her home. The slug was found in the child's mattress.

Patrolmen Ralph Burks and Herbert Burns said they found Sullivan helping Mrs. Beatrice Williams, 38, from the ground behind a voting booth. She told the police Sullivan dragged her there after accosting her when she came out of church services.

The patrolmen put Sullivan in their car to await questioning, but he opened the door and fled. They took after him, firing the shots.

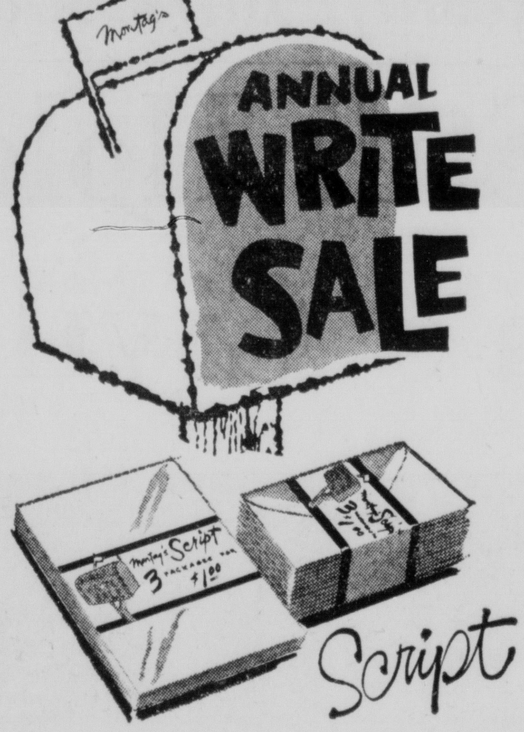

1960 Budget Accepted For St. John's Church

The 1960 budget was accepted at the annual congregational meeting of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church Sunday morning during the morning worship. The Rev. Charles W. Kampmeyer, pastor, conducted the meeting.

The congregation decided to hold a coverdish dinner preceding the next congregational meeting in July. The date will be announced later.

Deaths and Funerals

Thomas Smith Claimed At 56

Thomas J. Smith, 1016 Florence St., a craneman at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. died this morning at 1:45 at City Hospital after an illness of 9 months. He was 56.

He was born in Lisbon Aug. 30, 1903, a son of Thomas Smith, who now resides in East Liverpool, and the late Margaret Hays Smith. He lived here virtually all his life and worked at the Crucible for the last 26 years.

He was a member of Local 1212, United Steelworkers Union, and the Dads Club of the Veteran of Foreign Wars.

Besides his father, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Lillian Ralston Smith, at home; a step-son, Specialist Elmer E. Ralston, stationed with the Army in Korea; a daughter, Mrs. Sarah Jane Shingler in Florida; four step-daughters, Mrs. Greta Gochenour and Mrs. Mariam Lamp, both of Warren, Mrs. Kathleen Oliver of East Liverpool, and Miss Bernice Ralston at home; three brothers, Merle Smith and Damon Smith, both of East Liverpool, and Henry Smith in California; a sister, Mrs. Mildred Witt in California, and 13 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and night.

Requiem Mass Held For Jules A. Burgun

High requiem mass was held at 10 this morning in St. James Catholic Church at Pittsburgh for Jules A. Burgun of Wilkinsburg, a ceramic artist, who died Friday night in Shadyside Hospital at Pittsburgh after a long illness. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery in Wilkinsburg.

A frequent visitor in East Liverpool, Mr. Burgun was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jules A. Burgun. His father was a glass manufacturer in Pittsburgh and Jeannette. Mr. Burgun, born in Fostoria, was educated in Brooklyn and later lived in New York City, where he was a glassware designer for Tiffany & Co., jewelers.

For a time he had charge of the Royal Decorating Co. of Pittsburgh, which his father founded after his retirement from glass manufacturing. Mr. Burgun entered the hospital in November because of failing health.

He leaves a brother, Dr. Joseph A. Burgun of Pittsburgh, and six sisters, Mrs. E. J. Barrett of Beaver, Mrs. William Muller of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Mrs. Florence Lacock of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Walter Merton of Pompano Beach, Fla., Mrs. Marie Leibensperger of Wilkinsburg and Miss Margaret Burgun of Washington, D. C.

Miss Worthington

Services will be held Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. in Old Trinity Episcopal Church at Tiffin for Miss Grace Worthington, 48, of Tiffin, a native of East Liverpool, who died Saturday in Mercy Hospital at Tiffin.

Miss Worthington, former librarian in several northeastern Ohio cities, was a graduate of Heidelberg College in 1934. She taught school in 1938.

During the next eight years, she was a librarian at Lakewood, Vermilion and Lorain. She worked in the Heidelberg College library from 1946 until 1952 and until her death was employed in the Hopewell-Loundon school library.

Okey Hudson

Okey H. Hudson, 68, died suddenly Sunday morning at 9:30 at his home on Route 45 in Madison Township, near Glasgow.

Preparing to attend church, he suffered an apparent heart attack. He had been in ill health for several months.

He was born in Jackson County, W. Va., near Ripley, Dec. 4, 1891, son of the late Thomas R. and Ellen Freshour Hudson. He came to Wellsville about 50 years ago and was employed as a heater in the former Wellsville Works of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Co for 18 years before the dismantling of the plant. He then worked for some years at the Follansbee (W Va.) steel mill. For 13 years prior to his retirement in May 1958, he worked as a kilnfireman and then as a kilndrawer at the Sterling China Co. He lived in Wellsville until 20 years ago, when he moved to Madison Township. He was a member and trustee of the Central Methodist Church of Wellsville and a member of the Yellow Creek Grange.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Dova Keenan Hudson, at home; a son, Hilbert C. Hudson of Salem; a daughter, Mrs. Lewis E. McCollough of Salineville; a sister, Mrs. Lessie Hartley of Delaware, Ohio; two brothers, B. H. Hudson of Parkersburg, and Everett Hudson of Ripley, and a granddaughter.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. William A. Hewitt, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Charles Nitschke of Dennison, a former pastor. Burial will be in Yellow Creek Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and night.

Mrs. Florence Ryan

Mrs. Florence Irene Ryan of Toronto died suddenly of an apparent heart attack Sunday night at 7:45 at her home. She was 57.

She was born at Fostersville, Ohio, July 24, 1902, daughter of the late James and Ellen Connor Cashman. She was a member of the St. Francis Roman Catholic Church at Toronto.

She leaves four daughters, Mrs. William Alcock and Mrs. Glen Hill, both of Toronto, Mrs. Ted Smith of East Liverpool and Miss Elizabeth Joanne Ryan, at home; three sons, Thomas Ryan at home, Michael Austin Ryan of Chicago, and Richard Ryan, stationed with the Army at Ft. Dix, N. J., and two sisters, Mrs. John Newbold and Mrs. John Comer, both of Toronto. Her husband, John Ryan, died May 19, 1959, and a brother, Edward Connor, died in 1951.

Friends may call at the Turel Funeral Home at Toronto after 7 tonight. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Homer Burris

Mrs. Grace L. Burris of Oakmont, wife of Homer Burris, died Sunday morning at 9:15 at City Hospital after an illness of 5 years. She was 52.

She was born at Glenville, Pa., Feb. 28, 1907, and lived in this vicinity about 35 years.

She also leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Derouin of New Brighton; three sons, Robert Burris, Homer Burris Jr., and Paul Burris, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Thayer, all of East Liverpool; a brother, Harold Derouin of Pittsburgh; two sisters, Mrs. Elsie Majors of Monaca and Mrs. Elizabeth Winters of Colton, Calif., and 12 grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ, and the Rev. Archie McGaffick of Hookstown. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery at Chester.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and night.

Simon Schmader

Simon P. Schmader of Pittsburgh, formerly of Shippingport, died Saturday at 9:15 a. m. at the Aliquippa Hospital, where he was a patient 9 days. He was 61.

He was born in Leeper, Pa., Clarion County, Aug. 5, 1898, and resided in Shippingport about 30 years. He was a retired engineer for the National Transit Oil Co., with branches at Shippingport. He had lived in Pittsburgh for the last three years.

He leaves a son, Richard Schmader of Aliquippa.

Friends may call at the Welch Funeral Home at Hookstown this afternoon and tonight. The body will be sent to the Moore Funeral Home at Leeper Tuesday, where services and burial will be held.

John Davis

John B. Davis of Monaca, formerly of East Liverpool, died Saturday about 1:40 p. m. at the Beaver County Home Hospital in Brighton Township after an illness of several years. He was 85.

He was a retired carpenter.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Henry Weigel of Monaca, and 3 step-sons.

Services will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Batcheior Funeral Home in Monaca. Burial will be in the Calcutta United Presbyterian Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

Raymond Patterson

Raymond J. Patterson, 61, of Enon Valley R. D. 1 died Saturday at 11:04 a. m. in his home.

Born July 16, 1898, in Enon Valley, he was a member of the Bethel United Presbyterian Church.

3 mile north of Salem at 5:50 p. m.

The patrol said a car driven by David Huffman, 22, of Salem tried to slow for traffic ahead and skidded into the left side of an oncoming auto operated by Joseph Righetti, 32, of Fredericktown, Pa.

Huffman suffered a laceration of the scalp and a passenger, James Toothman, 19, of Salem, received a laceration of the skull, possible internal injuries and abrasions. They were treated at Salem Central Clinic. Huffman was charged with reckless operation.

Cars Damaged Heavily In Dewey Ave. Mishap

Two autos were damaged extensively in a crash Saturday afternoon on Dewey Ave. Ext., one of two mishaps in the city over the weekend, police reported.

John Jeffries, 412½ 3rd St., Wellsville, told police he was headed north on Dewey Ave. about 1 p. m. Saturday when he hit a bump in the road and sideswiped the parked car of Herbert Hughes, 810 Dewey Ave.

Police said there was extensive damage to the left front and side of Jeffries' 1953 sedan and heavy damage to the left side of Hughes' car.

Richard Lewis of Irondale R. D. 1 told police Saturday night the left front fender of his car was damaged when struck by a hit-skip driver while he was parked on Dresden Ave. Lewis gave police the license number of the West Virginia auto.

2 Teen-Agers Escape In Newell Area Crash

Two Hancock County Teen-agers escaped injury in a traffic accident Saturday afternoon at 4:45 on the Congo Rd., south of Newell, county sheriff's deputies reported today.

Deputies said the autos were driven by Joyce Ann Wilson, 16, of 822 Neptune Ave., Chester, and Clarence R. Barnhart, 16, of 308 Grant St., Newell.

The sheriff's office said Miss Wilson was attempting a left turn off the Kenilworth Rd. onto Congo Rd. when her 1952 two-door sedan skidded on ice and struck Barnhart's 1959 model sedan, traveling north.

The girl's auto, owned by the Big 3 Auto Sales of Chester R. D. 1, was damaged to the extent of $200, deputies reported. The Newell youth's car, owned by Clarence L. Barnhart, had about $35 damage, they added. Deputies issued no citations.

and "all manifestations in public places" to prevent demonstrations by supporters of the Algerian rightwingers on the mainland.)

The French rightists set up a three-man junta led by Pierre LaGaillarde, a Parliament deputy. Wearing the uniform of a reserve paratroop lieutenant, the bearded six-foot LaGaillarde barricaded himself in the university with several hundred youthful followers.

The two others in the junta — Joseph Ortiz, leader of the National French Front, and Jacques Susini, leader of right-wing student organizations — seized a corner bank building.

In the band with Ortiz and Susini were several uniformed officers of the Algerian home guard. They hoisted a red, white and blue tricolor flag in front of their makeshift barricade.

French troops who have been fighting Algerian nationalists in the interior were hurried to Algiers to help police restore order.

The simmering resentment of European settlers against De Gaulle's Algerian policy was sparked into revolt by his firing of Gen. Jacques Massu as military and civilian commander of the Algiers area.

Motorist Fined $10

SALINEVILLE — Ora Haught of R. D. 2 was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Kenneth Leishman Saturday on a charge of improper backing. He was cited Jan. 16 on E. Main St. after his car hit one owned by Frank Pisarski of R. D. Haught also agreed to pay $45 damage to the other car.

Knifing

Deaths and Funerals

Thomas Smith Claimed At 56

Thomas J. Smith, 1016 Florence St., a craneman at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., died this morning at 1:45 at City Hospital after an illness of 9 months. He was 56.

He was born in Lisbon Aug. 30, 1903, a son of Thomas Smith, who now resides in East Liverpool, and the late Margaret Hays Smith. He lived here virtually all his life and worked at the Crucible for the last 26 years.

He was a member of Local 1212, United Steelworkers Union, and the Dads Club of the Veteran of Foreign Wars.

Besides his father, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Lillian Ralston Smith, at home; a step-son, Specialist Elmer E. Ralston, stationed with the Army in Korea; a daughter, Mrs. Sarah Jane Shingler in Florida; four step-daughters, Mrs. Greta Gochenour and Mrs. Mariam Lamp, both of Warren, Mrs. Kathleen Oliver of East Liverpool, and Miss Bernice Ralston at home; three brothers, Merle Smith and Damon Smith, both of East Liverpool, and Henry Smith in California; a sister, Mrs. Mildred Witt in California, and 13 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and night.

Requiem Mass Held For Jules A. Burgun

High requiem mass was held at 10 this morning in St. James Catholic Church at Pittsburgh for Jules A. Burgun of Wilkinsburg, a ceramic artist, who died Friday night in Shadyside Hospital at Pittsburgh after a long illness. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery in Wilkinsburg.

A frequent visitor in East Liverpool, Mr. Burgun was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jules A. Burgun. His father was a glass manufacturer in Pittsburgh and Jeannette. Mr. Burgun, born in Fostoria, was educated in Brooklyn and later lived in New York City, where he was a glassware designer for Tiffany & Co., jewelers.

For a time he had charge of the Royal Decorating Co. of Pittsburgh, which his father founded after his retirement from glass manufacturing. Mr. Burgun entered the hospital in November because of failing health.

He leaves a brother, Dr. Joseph A. Burgun of Pittsburgh, and six sisters, Mrs. E. J. Barrett of Beaver, Mrs. William Muller of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Mrs. Florence Lacock of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Walter Merton of Pompano Beach, Fla., Mrs. Marie Leibensperger of Wilkinsburg and Miss Margaret Burgun of Washington, D. C.

Miss Worthington

Services will be held Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. in Old Trinity Episcopal Church at Tiffin for Miss Grace Worthington, 48, of Tiffin, a native of East Liverpool, who died Saturday in Mercy Hospital at Tiffin.

Miss Worthington, former librarian in several northeastern Ohio cities, was a graduate of Heidelberg College in 1934. She taught school in 1938.

During the next eight years, she was a librarian at Lakewood, Vermilion and Lorain. She worked in the Heidelberg College library from 1946 until 1952 and until her death was employed in the Hopewell-Loundon school library.

Okey Hudson

Okey H. Hudson, 68, died suddenly Sunday morning at 9:30 at his home on Route 45 in Madison Township, near Glasgow.

Preparing to attend church, he suffered an apparent heart attack. He had been in ill health for several months.

He was born in Jackson County, W. Va., near Ripley, Dec. 4, 1891, son of the late Thomas R. and Ellen Freshour Hudson. He came to Wellsville about 50 years ago and was employed as a heater in the former Wellsville Works of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Co. for 18 years before the dismantling of the plant. He then worked for some years at the Follansbee (W. Va.) steel mill. For 13 years prior to his retirement in May 1958, he worked as a kilnfireman and then as a kilndrawer at the Sterling China Co. He lived in Wellsville until 20 years ago, when he moved to Madison Township. He was a member and trustee of the Central Methodist Church of Wellsville and a member of the Yellow Creek Grange.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Dova Keenan Hudson, at home; a son, Hilbert C. Hudson of Salem; a daughter, Mrs. Lewis E. McCollough of Salineville; a sister, Mrs. Lessie Hartley of Delaware, Ohio; two brothers, B. H. Hudson of Parkersburg, and Everett Hudson of Ripley, and a granddaughter.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. William A. Hewitt, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Charles Nitschke of Dennison, a former pastor. Burial will be in Yellow Creek Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and night.

Mrs. Florence Ryan

Mrs. Florence Irene Ryan of Toronto died suddenly of an apparent heart attack Sunday night at 7:45 at her home. She was 57.

She was born at Fostersville, Ohio, July 24, 1902, daughter of the late James and Ellen Connor Cashman. She was a member of the St. Francis Roman Catholic Church at Toronto.

She leaves four daughters, Mrs. William Alcock and Mrs. Glen Hill, both of Toronto, Mrs. Ted Smith of East Liverpool and Miss Elizabeth Joanne Ryan, at home; three sons, Thomas Ryan at home, Michael Austin Ryan of Chicago, and Richard Ryan, stationed with the Army at Ft. Dix, N. J., and two sisters, Mrs. John Newbold and Mrs. John Comer, both of Toronto. Her husband, John Ryan, died May 19, 1959, and a brother, Edward Connor, died in 1951.

Friends may call at the Turel Funeral Home at Toronto after 7 tonight. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Homer Burris

Mrs. Grace L. Burris of Oakmont, wife of Homer Burris, died Sunday morning at 9:15 at City Hospital after an illness of 5 years. She was 52.

She was born at Glenville, Pa., Feb. 28, 1907, and lived in this vicinity about 35 years.

She also leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Derouin of New Brighton; three sons, Robert Burris, Homer Burris Jr., and Paul Burris, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Thayer, all of East Liverpool; a brother, Harold Derouin of Pittsburgh; two sisters, Mrs. Elsie Majors of Monaca and Mrs. Elizabeth Winters of Colton, Calif., and 12 grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ, and the Rev. Archie McGaffick of Hookstown. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery at Chester.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and night.

Simon Schmader

Simon P. Schmader of Pittsburgh, formerly of Shippingport, died Saturday at 9:15 a. m. at the Aliquippa Hospital, where he was a patient 9 days. He was 61.

He was born in Leeper, Pa., Clarion County, Aug. 5, 1898, and resided in Shippingport about 30 years. He was a retired engineer for the National Transit Oil Co., with branches at Shippingport. He had lived in Pittsburgh for the last three years.

He leaves a son, Richard Schmader of Aliquippa.

Friends may call at the Welch Funeral Home at Hookstown this afternoon and tonight. The body will be sent to the Moore Funeral Home at Leeper Tuesday, where services and burial will be held.

John Davis

John B. Davis of Monaca, formerly of East Liverpool, died Saturday about 1:40 p. m. at the Beaver County Home Hospital in Brighton Township after an illness of several years. He was 85.

He was a retired carpenter.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Henry Weigel of Monaca, and 3 step-sons.

Services will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Batcheor Funeral Home in Monaca. Burial will be in the Calcutta United Presbyterian Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

Raymond Patterson

Raymond J. Patterson, 61, of Enon Valley R. D. 1 died Saturday at 11:04 a. m. in his home.

Born July 16, 1898, in Enon Valley, he was a member of the Bethel United Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edrie Wiley Patterson; two sons, James Ray Patterson of Enon Valley R. D. 1 and William H. Patterson of New Castle; a daughter, Mrs. Elsie Conley of New Castle; a brother, Wilbur Patterson of Enon Valley, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Howard of Mahoningtown.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Turner Funeral Home in Ellwood City. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 2 to 4 this afternoon and from 7 to 9 tonight.

Houses Divided Against Themselves

It is supposed to show a lack of sportsmanship to call attention to the North-South split in the Democratic party. This is one of those things that are supposed to be known about but not talked about, like a wayward uncle who has done time.

But if Democrats, themselves, call attention to the split, it is all right for them to do this because hey are merely having a showdown on an intra-party problem. They always have such discussions at their nominating conventions anyway; there will be no secret about the North-South split this year.

The first rumble of the discussion already has been heard in Washington, where Northern Republicans have pointed out the already obvious fact that Congress is tied in knots over the North-South Democratic split and cannot get its work done efficiently.

This observation was called for after it became known that Democrats were trying to break a North-South deadlock over civil rights in this session of Congress by circulating a petition to get a moderate bill out of the House Rules Committee, where it is tied up tight by a segregationist chairman from Virginia.

"Each day we see the Democratic party expending its energies on party civil war," said Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican policy committee. "In the end, the Democrats can obtain intra-party peace only by compromising and camouflaging vital issues before they reach the public. Theirs is a strategy of negativism."

The issue is not trivial, nor is it confined to civil rights. It permeates every part of the legislative branch. The party that controls Congress with top-heavy majorities in both the Senate and House is reduced to log-rolling and wheedling to accomplish the most desirable ends. Moreover, the party split has direct bearing on the operation of the two-party system in politics. One-party Southern states are the key to Democratic electoral college strength and must be kept from bolting by concessions odious to Northern members of both parties.

It is unsporting to point out such things, unless Democrats point them out first. The petition to get the civil rights issue out of the hands of a committee dominated by a segregationist from Virginia brings the problem into the open.

Private Schools Won't Disappear

The president of Colorado College, Louis T. Benezet, scared the mortar boards off guests at the annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges a few days ago with one of those typical American speeches about "disappearance."

He said all but a few private colleges and universities would disappear if they didn't quit pricing themselves out of competition with state universities. Only in America, the land of the bulldozer, the iron ball and the dynamite blast, is it tempting to predict that anything as well established as private schools will disappear.

President Benezet's reasoning runs like this: "The search for the student who can pay all his bills approaches the level of prayer. The traditional role of college as the American opportunity for the poor but ambitious youth is being gradually confined to the scholarship athlete."

But moving in the direction of his reasoning, he has reached, unerringly, a wrong conclusion, in our opinion. There will be no disappearance of private education. It will become, instead, one of the prized prerogatives of two classes of privilege.

First will be the privileged students of unusual mental attainments but limited resources who can qualify for the richest academic scholarships. Most of these will choose to go to private schools. These schools, themselves, are deep in the scholarship business. It is the way they select the top-flight students they need to give them their academic prestige—their most precious asset.

Second will be high-ability students who can meet all the entrance requirements of the high-prestige schools and whose families can pay their own way. This self-sufficiency will become increasingly one of the nation's status symbols: it already is.

Unfortunately, private schools will be unable to grow in proportion to the population. Crash building programs will be in the province of tax-supported schools. The private institutions will be up against it to grow moderately while raising enough voluntary money to pay their faculties. But they will not disappear.

Their stability will be underwritten by popular demand for a service that never can be offered by tax-supported colleges and universities, which always will be restricted by the nature of their support.

Two Years Would Be Just Fine

A subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee has made a thunderous indictment of retired military officers who take jobs with suppliers of military hardware.

It lists 762 of these men who have gone to work for 100 of the largest suppliers, some of them at substantial salaries, all of them at salaries that are solid additions to their retirement pay. The inference to be drawn from the association is that the retirees had something of special value to offer their new employers.

The subcommittee recommends, therefore, that no retired officer should be permitted to sell anything to the Pentagon within two years, if he goes to work for a military hardware supplier. That would put a crimp in employment prospects.

Two thoughts about this proposed reform repress enthusiasm.

First is the thought that military officers are honorable men — as honorable as the members of Congress. They are entitled to the best disposition they can make of their talents after they retire. Early retirement and the prospect of private employment are two of the lures that attract military careerists.

The other thought is about kettles and pots.

Senators and representatives never run out of insinuations when they talk about possible "conflicts of interest" on the part of civilians tapped for government service, or retired officers tapped for private employment. They insist that everybody should come to Washington naked and leave it the same way.

Yet, senators and representatives are indifferent to their own "conflicts of interest." They frequently come to Washington to grind a specific ax and, after grinding it tirelessly, take it with them in their luggage when they move their offices from federal property into a private office building down the street.

If all retiring congressmen waited two years before selling their services, the country would think that was about right. Otherwise, it's hard to see why only lieutenant generals and vice admirals should be required to take the economic veil.

Tammany Hasn't Learned From The Past

By Raymond Moley

Hulan E. Jack, Harlem leader and president of the Borough of Manhattan, entangled himself in a mess of lies and double talk and thus brought about his indictment for violation of the law. He has been indicted by a New York grand jury and his future is squarely in the uneasy lap of Gov. Rockefeller and of the trial court.

This suggests two observations: First, that the Democratic machine for which Tammany is the common name, has about run its alloted span of rule and loose morals and easy ways have, as always, appeared after several years of control over the government of the city. Second, that profuse expenditures of federal money are just as much a field for corruption as was the old flow of private money from contractors, seekers of franchises and bootleggers.

The essential pattern is the same. The quick buck begets the slick operator.

TAMMANY HALL along with the political power which it has always maintained in the Democratic party in New York City is only a few weeks younger than the government of the United States. It was founded on May 12, 1789.

Without pursuing its cycle of rule, corruption, and periodic downfalls in its first century of life, we find that since it began its second century in 1889 it has invited and suffered disaster four times.

A reform mayor, William L. Strong, was elected in 1894, but Tammany came back with Robert A. Van Wyck in 1897.

In 1901 another reformer, Seth Low, was elected but lasted only two years. Tammany came back with the son and namesake of Gen. George B. McClellan as mayor.

Again, in 1914, New York turned to reform with John Purroy Mitchell. He lasted four years and Tammany with Brooklynite John Hulan was elected in 1918.

Things went on until Fiorello LaGuardia was elected in 1933. He served 12 years. The present span of years of Democratic control in New York City, which began with the election of William O'Dwyer, has reached 14 years.

It will have reached 16 years when the term of Mayor Robert Wagner expires. This will be the longest stretch enjoyed by the Democratic machine of which Manhattan's Tammany is now a junior partner—in 70 years.

But the recurrent symptoms are developing fast. Mayor Wagner is stirring uneasily and somewhat wistfully, looking toward the possibility of getting out by way of a vice presidential nomination. That is likely to be a vain hope.

IN THE LAST YEAR several bad embarrassments have been revealed. The major ones have been concerned with housing under the Title I federal legislation.

Now the Tammany president of the Borough of Manhattan, Hulan Jack, has been indicted for allegedly accepting a gratuity from a man, Sidney J. Ungar, who has been interested in slum clearance projects.

It seems, according to the district attorney, that Jack, who is a big shot in Harlem politics, had his apartment remodeled at the expense of Ungar.

After the newspapers gave the transaction some airing, Jack, Ungar, and the man who did the work formulated a plan to have it seem that Mrs. Jack paid for the work. This exploded and then the story was that there was a loan from Ungar. Then came the indictment.

Responsibility for action concerning the removal of Jack from his elective office rests with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. This is a tough problem for the governor, since there has already been a hue and cry in Harlem to the effect that Jack is being persecuted because of his color.

The contention is that there are lots of miscreants of another color and they, too, should be investigated. That may lead to more trouble for the Wagner regime.

So the cycle runs as always. The graft differs in kind but morally there is identity. Big money freely dispensed in contracts, or prostitution, or bootleg liquor, or the numbers racket, or housing still attracts rapacious people.

New York gets bigger and richer but Tammany never learns from the past.

Civil Rights Action

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Will Congress pass a civil rights bill this year? Most likely. What kind? A moderate one. Why moderate? Several reasons, all political.

For instance: The Democrats control Congress. If the Northern Democrats tried to ram through a tough bill, it would probably cause a party-splitting filibuster by Southern Democrats. In this election year the Democrats don't want splits.

Civil rights legislation is still a stinging issue, made so by the South's resistance to public school integration and its treatment of Negroes.

There is pressure for action—from organized labor, Negroes, and Northern liberals. The push in Congress for action is mainly from those in the liberal group and most of them are from industrial centers where Negro votes count.

Last year President Eisenhower proposed a seven-point program. No action. This year he still talks of wanting action. But he has been vague so far, has shown no signs of real fight on the issue.

Republicans are playing quiet now, letting Democrats fight among themselves.

But when the showdown comes, Republicans, if they have any hope of denting Democratic control of Congress, will have to make some showing of lining up on the side of civil rights if they hope for any of that Northern Negro vote.

Then there are those Democrats considered presidential possibilities. Of necessity they must be self-conscious about the problem. None of them illustrates this more than Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats.

This week he confidently predicted a civil rights bill would be passed in 1960. As a man credited with big hopes for the presidency, Johnson can't afford to alienate his fellow Southern Democrats. He'll need their support going into the convention.

But the Southerners alone couldn't nominate him. He would need acceptance by the Northerners, particularly Northern liberals. And he is far from being the liberals darling.

He would have a better claim on their attention if he could get a civil rights bill through. But it would be politically unwise for him to try to force a tough bill on the South.

The chances, therefore, are that he will steer through a bill not to harsh for the Southerners to digest, even though they preferred none at all, and although not strong enough to delight the liberals, at least some kind of bill which they could consider better than nothing.

If anybody could get through a bill at all, Johnson seems the one to do it. First, because of his control in the Senate; second, because he's a compromiser; third, because he did it once before.

In 1957, he engineered the first civil rights bill to clear Congress in 82 years. It was far less than Negro leaders wanted, far more than Southerners liked. But at least it broke the ice of almost a century.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Forty-five Boy Scouts of the Orchard Grove Methodist Episcopal Church and their fathers attended the Father and Son banquet in the church basement.

More than 100 were converted during a revival campaign at the Boyce Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Vodrey of E. 4th St. left for a tour of Florida.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — M. L. Clendenning was named chairman of the Wellsville Census Committee.

J. T. Croxall was re-elected chairman of the Board of Health for the 21st consecutive year.

C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh, director of music education at Lincoln High School, Midland, began his duties as choir director of the First Church of Christ here.

TEN YEARS AGO — Temperatures soared to 70 degrees, a near all-time January high for the East Liverpool district.

Keith Casto of High St., a World War II veteran, was added to the city's list of special police.

J. M. Wells Jr. was named president of the East Liverpool Country Club, succeeding E. K. Koos.

Red-Handed Hoax

By David Lawrence

Anti-Semitism Called Communistic Plot

The Communists have put over a gigantic hoax. They have almost persuaded a gullible world to believe that the West German people are responsible for the outbreaks of anti-Semitism in recent weeks. Actually, proof now has been obtained that the whole thing is a Communist plot.

David Lawrence

The Soviet government maintains an active apparatus of agents in all countries, including the United States. The same technique that was employed in West Germany was used throughout the world. It is one of the boldest pieces of propaganda that the Communists have ever tried. Will they continue to get away with it?

Already they have been assisted by the persons who pooh-pooh all Communist espionage and artificial provocations. Yet no such coordinated activity as the world has been witnessing could possibly be just the work of hooligans or persons bent on playing pranks.

Some individuals doubtless can be found who engaged in it without inspiration but the facts now coming to light show that the Communists, acting through their apparatus in East Germany, started it all in West Germany as a political maneuver to discredit the Adenauer government.

A PRESS DISPATCH from Bonn on Jan. 20 says:

"The West German government announced today that it has proof the Communists are behind many recent anti-Semitic incidents.

"An official spokesman said after a full-scale cabinet meeting that the ministers discussed at length the question of Communist inspiration of the rash of anti-Jewish activities. He said that the interior ministry, in co-operation with the state governments, will publish a white paper on the subject at some future date still to be determined.

"Even today," he added, 'it can be said that Communist actions can be proven in three different areas or in three different roles. These are: (1) as instigators, (2) as perpetrators and (3) in making full propaganda use of the incidents to defame the federal republic as a glance at the (East German) Soviet Zone press shows.' "

Some of the evidence comes in the form of a confession by Bernhard Schlottmann, 22, treasurer of the neo-Nazi National Students' Federation, that he was under East German secret orders to stir up neo-Nazi activity in West Berlin.

Another youngster, Wolfgang Solondz, who illegally crossed the border into West Berlin last year, has just been arrested as a Communist agent. He had become a member of the National Youth of Germany, a "rightist" organization which was banned last week and boasted that he could get weapons from the Soviet zone.

THE WEST GERMAN defense ministry has issued a paper based on reports of its intelligence service.

It says that, at a special meeting on Jan. 23 last year, the Central Committee on the Communist party in the Soviet zone laid plans to develop anti-Semitic incidents as a means of damaging the reputation of the Bonn government.

The committee's propaganda section was instructed to start a campaign to indicate that anti-Semitism was being revived.

The report further says that the East German Communist authorities planned the organization of "action commandos" to desecrate Jewish monuments, while the Communist underground in West Germany was given orders to co-operate in any activities that could create unrest in the federal republic.

Students in an East Berlin university, according to the report, were advised that anti-Semitic demonstrations would be staged in West Berlin and that they should take part not only in these but in any rally, whether it was for or against the Jews.

In December, the Defense Ministry says, an order was issued by the East German authorities that incidents were to be created in due time prior to the "summit" meeting in May.

What could be more natural than for a propaganda chief sitting in Moscow to order Communist agents everywhere, including those in the United States, to stir up antagonism against the West German government on the theory that this would weaken Chancellor Adenauer's influence with the other governments of the free world and bring about the withdrawal of the Allies from West Berlin?

THE GAME is plain to see, and from now on more and more evidence can be expected to be revealed showing how the Communists engineered the anti-Semitic disturbances for political purposes.

It certainly should show the American people that in their midst are active Communists who do Moscow's bidding.

Just a few days ago J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, said that, while the Communists in this country aren't large in numbers, they have a hard core of workers who are ready to do almost anything that Moscow commands.

It's too bad that so many people in America regard the Communist menace as just something Sen. Joe McCarthy dreamed up.

Moscow has been more effective inside the United States since the Wisconsin senator's efforts to uncover the Communist plots were defeated than it was before, though the "achievement" of Klaus Fuchs in stealing the atomic-bomb secrets still ranks as the most successful piece of infiltration of modern times.

Shake Hands, Rover

By Truman Twill

I have wondered for years about boredom on the other side of the fence, where the grass is greener. The Presidency of the United States, for instance.

It has become customary to talk about this job as if it were the toughest on earth — a man-killer. Personally, I think this talk is promulgated by politicians, who know no more about hard work than a pig knows about Christmas.

A politician's idea of work is to go campaigning every few years, wear himself to a frazzle, then go somewhere for a six-week vacation before getting back on the job. I don't think politicians know what hard work is, in the sense of plugging away at a job day in and day out, year in and year out.

Besides, if they think the presidency is such a rough deal why do they drool about it the way they do? No, I suspect that the worst thing about the presidency is the same as the worst thing about most jobs — not the work but the boredom.

I have an idea this accounts for presidential journeys. I suspect the President is sitting on the edge of the bed some night peeling off his socks and scratching his shins and says to his missus:

"After a day like this I wonder why I didn't have sense enough to stay in the pickle works, where there was something to look forward to, if it was nothing but a smooth cucumber.

"This afternoon while I was listening to old Senator Gasbag drone on I imagined I was on the go again. It's the only thing I enjoy about this job any more — the traveling. Truth is, I'm a homebody at heart, as you darned well know. But anything that breaks up the routine is worth the effort, even if I have to eat fried snails.

"I know now what made old Coolidge play jokes on the Secret Service men. The poor guy was trying to keep from going stir-crazy. He was trying to kid himself that he was a first-class human, with a mind of his own. He wasn't his own man, no more than I am.

"Day in and day out, week in and week out, month in and month, year in and year out, the same guff. Sign my name. Shake hands, Rover. Sit up and bark like a good boy. Read another speech. Remember another bunch of names. Smile at the birdie.

"Walk over that way. Walk back this way. Lift the hat. Put the hat on. Shake hands, Rover. Listen to another silly question. Try not to give another silly answer. Smooth the ruffled feathers. Be nice to the ambassador's wife. Remember you are being watched. Don't yawn. Say something hearty. Smile. Wave. Sign another paper. Hold another meeting.

"Great balls of fire, what do they take me for? For the money I'm getting do they think they own me? By the way, these socks are okay. Most comfortable I've worn. Anything I hate it's a sock that bunches up around the heel. If you had anything to do with these, matey, congratulations.

"Even a new pair of socks relieves monotony of a job like this. Maybe the only way I could be happy would be to get a job where I could make up all the rules fresh each morning and revise them after lunch. I just don't thrive on the kind of regimentation that goes on around this dump.

"Sure, I know about all the little boys — and little girls, too, these days — dreaming of being President of the United States. Well, I got news for 'em, the little dopes. They should maybe get into the drive-in restaurant business, instead, where they could meet interesting people and take a day off whenever they'd had it up to here. That's where I've had it as of now. President . . . schmesident! You can have it."

Houses Divided Against Themselves

It is supposed to show a lack of sportsmanship to call attention to the North-South split in the Democratic party. This is one of those things that are supposed to be known about but not talked about, like a wayward uncle who has done time.

But if Democrats, themselves, call attention to the split, it is all right for them to do this because hey are merely having a showdown on an intra-party problem. They always have such discussions at their nominating conventions anyway; there will be no secret about the North-South split this year.

The first rumble of the discussion already has been heard in Washington, where Northern Republicans have pointed out the already obvious fact that Congress is tied in knots over the North-South Democratic split and cannot get its work done efficiently.

This observation was called for after it became known that Democrats were trying to break a North-South deadlock over civil rights in this session of Congress by circulating a petition to get a moderate bill out of the House Rules Committee, where it is tied up tight by a segregationist chairman from Virginia.

"Each day we see the Democratic party expending its energies on party civil war," said Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican policy committee. "In the end, the Democrats can obtain intra-party peace only by compromising and camouflaging vital issues before they reach the public. Theirs is a strategy of negativism."

The issue is not trivial, nor is it confined to civil rights. It permeates every part of the legislative branch. The party that controls Congress with top-heavy majorities in both the Senate and House is reduced to log-rolling and wheedling to accomplish the most desirable ends. Moreover, the party split has direct bearing on the operation of the two-party system in politics. One-party Southern states are the key to Democratic electoral college strength and must be kept from bolting by concessions odious to Northern members of both parties.

It is unsporting to point out such things, unless Democrats point them out first. The petition to get the civil rights issue out of the hands of a committee dominated by a segregationist from Virginia brings the problem into the open.

Tammany Hasn't Learned From The Past

By Raymond Moley

Hulan E. Jack, Harlem leader and president of the Borough of Manhattan, entangled himself in a mess of lies and double talk and thus brought about his indictment for violation of the law. He has been indicted by a New York grand jury and his future is squarely in the uneasy lap of Gov. Rockefeller and of the trial court.

This suggests two observations: First, that the Democratic machine for which Tammany is the common name, has about run its alloted span of rule and loose morals and easy ways have, as always, appeared after several years of control over the government of the city. Second, that profuse expenditures of federal money are just as much a field for corruption as was the old flow of private money from contractors, seekers of franchises and bootleggers.

The essential pattern is the same. The quick buck begets the slick operator.

TAMMANY HALL along with the political power which it has always maintained in the Democratic party in New York City is only a few weeks younger than the government of the United States. It was founded on May 12, 1789.

Without pursuing its cycle of rule, corruption, and periodic downfalls in its first century of life, we find that since it began its second century in 1889 it has invited and suffered disaster four times.

A reform mayor, William L. Strong, was elected in 1894, but Tammany came back with Robert A. Van Wyck in 1897.

In 1901 another reformer, Seth Low, was elected but lasted only two years. Tammany came back with the son and namesake of Gen. George B. McClellan as mayor.

Again, in 1914, New York turned to reform with John Purroy Mitchell. He lasted four years and Tammany with Brooklynite John Hulan was elected in 1918.

Things went on until Fiorello LaGuardia was elected in 1933. He served 12 years. The present span of years of Democratic control in New York City, which began with the election of William O'Dwyer, has reached 14 years.

It will have reached 16 years when the term of Mayor Robert Wagner expires. This will be the longest stretch enjoyed by the Democratic machine of which Manhattan's Tammany is now a junior partner—in 70 years.

But the recurrent symptoms are developing fast. Mayor Wagner is stirring uneasily and somewhat wistfully, looking toward the possibility of getting out by way of a vice presidential nomination.

That is likely to be a vain hope.

IN THE LAST YEAR several bad embarrassments have been revealed. The major ones have been concerned with housing under the Title I federal legislation.

Now the Tammany president of the Borough of Manhattan, Hulan Jack, has been indicted for allegedly accepting a gratuity from a man, Sidney J. Ungar, who has been interested in slum clearance projects.

It seems, according to the district attorney, that Jack, who is a big shot in Harlem politics, had his apartment remodeled at the expense of Ungar.

After the newspapers gave the transaction some airing, Jack, Ungar, and the man who did the work formulated a plan to have it seem that Mrs. Jack paid for the work. This exploded and then the story was that there was a loan from Ungar. Then came the indictment.

Responsibility for action concerning the removal of Jack from his elective office rests with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. This is a tough problem for the governor, since there has already been a hue and cry in Harlem to the effect that Jack is being persecuted because of his color.

The contention is that there are lots of miscreants of another color and they, too, should be investigated. That may lead to more trouble for the Wagner regime.

So the cycle runs as always. The graft differs in kind but morally there is identity. Big money freely dispensed in contracts, or prostitution, or bootleg liquor, or the numbers racket, or housing still attracts rapacious people.

New York gets bigger and richer but Tammany never learns from the past.

Civil Rights Action

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Will Congress pass a civil rights bill this year? Most likely. What kind? A moderate one. Why moderate? Several reasons, all political.

For instance: The Democrats control Congress. If the Northern Democrats tried to ram through a tough bill, it would probably cause a party-splitting filibuster by Southern Democrats. In this election year the Democrats don't want splits.

Civil rights legislation is still a stinging issue, made so by the South's resistance to public school integration and its treatment of Negroes.

There is pressure for action—from organized labor, Negroes, and Northern liberals. The push in Congress for action is mainly from those in the liberal group and most of them are from industrial centers where Negro votes count.

Last year President Eisenhower proposed a seven-point program. No action. This year he still talks of wanting action. But he has been vague so far, has shown no signs of real fight on the issue.

Republicans are playing quiet now, letting Democrats fight among themselves.

But when the showdown comes, Republicans, if they have any hope of denting Democratic control of Congress, will have to make some showing of lining up on the side of civil rights if they hope for any of that Northern Negro vote.

Then there are those Democrats considered presidential possibilities. Of necessity they must be self-conscious about the problem. None of them illustrates this more than Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats.

This week he confidently predicted a civil rights bill would be passed in 1960. As a man credited with big hopes for the presidency, Johnson can't afford to alienate his fellow Southern Democrats. He'll need their support going into the convention.

But the Southerners alone couldn't nominate him. He would need acceptance by the Northerners, particularly Northern liberals. And he is far from being the liberals darling.

He would have a better claim on their attention if he could get a civil rights bill through. But it would be politically unwise for him to try to force a tough bill on the South.

The chances, therefore, are that he will steer through a bill not to harsh for the Southerners to digest, even though they preferred none at all, and although not strong enough to delight the liberals, at least some kind of bill which they could consider better than nothing.

If anybody could get through a bill at all, Johnson seems the one to do it. First, because of his control in the Senate; second, because he's a compromiser; third, because he did it once before.

In 1957, he engineered the first civil rights bill to clear Congress in 82 years. It was far less than Negro leaders wanted, far more than Southerners liked. But at least it broke the ice of almost a century.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Forty-five Boy Scouts of the Orchard Grove Methodist Episcopal Church and their fathers attended the Father and Son banquet in the church basement.

More than 100 were converted during a revival campaign at the Boyce Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Vodrey of E. 4th St. left for a tour of Florida.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — M. L. Clendenning was named chairman of the Wellsville Census Committee.

J. T. Croxall was re-elected chairman of the Board of Health for the 21st consecutive year.

C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh, director of music education at Lincoln High School, Midland, began his duties as choir director of the First Church of Christ here.

TEN YEARS AGO — Temperatures soared to 70 degrees, a near all-time January high for the East Liverpool district.

Keith Casto of High St., a World War II veteran, was added to the city's list of special police.

J. M. Wells Jr was named president of the East Liverpool Country Club, succeeding E. K. Koos.

Red-Handed Hoax

By David Lawrence

Anti-Semitism Called Communistic Plot

The Communists have put over a gigantic hoax. They have almost persuaded a gullible world to believe that the West German people are responsible for the outbreaks of anti-Semitism in recent weeks. Actually, proof now has been obtained that the whole thing is a Communist plot.

David Lawrence

The Soviet government maintains an active apparatus of agents in all countries, including the United States. The same technique that was employed in West Germany was used throughout the world. It is one of the boldest pieces of propaganda that the Communists have ever tried. Will they continue to get away with it?

Already they have been assisted by the persons who pooh-pooh all Communist espionage and artificial provocations. Yet no such coordinated activity as the world has been witnessing could possibly be just the work of hooligans or persons bent on playing pranks.

Some individuals doubtless can be found who engaged in it without inspiration but the facts now coming to light show that the Communists, acting through their apparatus in East Germany, started it all in West Germany as a political maneuver to discredit the Adenauer government.

A PRESS DISPATCH from Bonn on Jan. 20 says:

"The West German government announced today that it has proof the Communists are behind many recent anti-Semitic incidents.

"An official spokesman said after a full-scale cabinet meeting that the ministers discussed at length the question of Communist inspiration of the rash of anti-Jewish activities. He said that the interior ministry, in co-operation with the state governments, will publish a white paper on the subject at some future date still to be determined.

"Even today," he added, 'it can be said that Communist actions can be proven in three different areas or in three different roles. These are: (1) as instigators, (2) as perpetrators and (3) in making full propaganda use of the incidents to defame the federal republic as a glance at the (East German) Soviet Zone press shows.' "

Some of the evidence comes in the form of a confession by Bernhard Schlottmann, 22, treasurer of the neo-Nazi National Students' Federation, that he was under East German secret orders to stir up neo-Nazi activity in West Berlin.

Another youngster, Wolfgang Solondz, who illegally crossed the border into West Berlin last year, has just been arrested as a Communist agent. He had become a member of the National Youth of Germany, a "rightist" organization which was banned last week and boasted that he could get weapons from the Soviet zone.

THE WEST GERMAN defense ministry has issued a paper based on reports of its intelligence service.

It says that, at a special meeting on Jan. 23 last year, the Central Committee on the Communist party in the Soviet zone laid plans to develop anti-Semitic incidents as a means of damaging the reputation of the Bonn government.

The committee's propaganda section was instructed to start a campaign to indicate that anti-Semitism was being revived.

The report further says that the East German Communist authorities planned the organization of "action commandos" to desecrate Jewish monuments, while the Communist underground in West Germany was given orders to co-operate in any activities that could create unrest in the federal republic.

Students in an East Berlin university, according to the report, were advised that anti-Semitic demonstrations would be staged in West Berlin and that they should take part not only in these but in any rally, whether it was for or against the Jews.

In December, the Defense Ministry says, an order was issued by the East German authorities that incidents were to be created in due time prior to the "summit" meeting in May.

What could be more natural than for a propaganda chief sitting in Moscow to order Communist agents everywhere, including those in the United States, to stir up antagonism against the West German government on the theory that this would weaken Chancellor Adenauer's influence with the other governments of the free world and bring about the withdrawal of the Allies from West Berlin?

THE GAME is plain to see, and from now on more and more evidence can be expected to be revealed showing how the Communists engineered the anti-Semitic disturbances for political purposes.

It certainly should show the American people that in their midst are active Communists who do Moscow's bidding.

Just a few days ago J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, said that, while the Communists in this country aren't large in numbers, they have a hard core of workers who are ready to do almost anything that Moscow commands.

It's too bad that so many people in America regard the Communist menace as just something Sen. Joe McCarthy dreamed up.

Moscow has been more effective inside the United States since the Wisconsin senator's efforts to uncover the Communist plots were defeated than it was before, though the "achievement" of Klaus Fuchs in stealing the atomic-bomb secrets still ranks as the most successful piece of infiltration of modern times.

Shake Hands, Rover

By Truman Twill

I have wondered for years about boredom on the other side of the fence, where the grass is greener. The Presidency of the United States, for instance.

It has become customary to talk about this job as if it were the toughest on earth — a man-killer. Personally, I think this talk is promulgated by politicians, who know no more about hard work than a pig knows about Christmas.

A politician's idea of work is to go campaigning every few years, wear himself to a frazzle, then go somewhere for a six-week vacation before getting back on the job. I don't think politicians know what hard work is, in the sense of plugging away at a job day in and day out, year in and year out.

Besides, if they think the presidency is such a rough deal why do they drool about it the way they do? No, I suspect that the worst thing about the presidency is the same as the worst thing about most jobs — not the work but the boredom.

I have an idea this accounts for presidential journeys. I suspect the President is sitting on the edge of the bed some night peeling off his socks and scratching his shins and says to his missus:

"After a day like this I wonder why I didn't have sense enough to stay in the pickle works, where there was something to look forward to, if it was nothing but a smooth cucumber.

"This afternoon while I was listening to old Senator Gasbag drone on I imagined I was on the go again. It's the only thing I enjoy about this job any more — the traveling. Truth is, I'm a homebody at heart, as you darned well know. But anything that breaks up the routine is worth the effort, even if I have to eat fried snails.

"I know now what made old Coolidge play jokes on the Secret Service men. The poor guy was trying to keep from going stir-crazy. He was trying to kid himself that he was a first-class human, with a mind of his own. He wasn't his own man, no more than I am.

"Day in and day out, week in and week out, month in and month, year in and year out, the same guff. Sign my name. Shake hands, Rover. Sit up and bark like a good boy. Read another speech. Remember another bunch of names. Smile at the birdie.

"Walk over that way. Walk back this way. Lift the hat. Put the hat on. Shake hands, Rover. Listen to another silly question. Try not to give another silly answer. Smooth the ruffled feathers. Be nice to the ambassador's wife. Remember you are being watched. Don't yawn. Say something hearty. Smile. Wave. Sign another paper. Hold another meeting.

"Great balls of fire, what do they take me for? For the money I'm getting do they think they own me? By the way, these socks are okay. Most comfortable I've worn. Anything I hate it's a sock that bunches up around the heel. If you had anything to do with these, matey, congratulations.

"Even a new pair of socks relieves monotony of a job like this. Maybe the only way I could be happy would be to get a job where I could make up all the rules fresh each morning and revise them after lunch. I just don't thrive on the kind of regimentation that goes on around this dump.

"Sure, I know about all the little boys — and little girls, too, these days — dreaming of being President of the United States. Well, I got news for 'em, the little dopes. They should maybe get into the drive-in restaurant business, instead, where they could meet interesting people and take a day off whenever they'd had it up to here. That's where I've had it as of now. President . . . schmesident! You can have it."

By The Associated Press

At least 13 people were killed in accidents that befell them in Ohio between 6 p. m. last Friday and midnight Sunday. Eleven of them were victims of the No. 1 threat, traffic.

Lives cut short ranged from that of a two-year-old boy killed with his father when their car left U.S. 25 and rolled down an embankment near Wapakoneta to that of an 86-year-old Cincinnatian who apparently succumbed to exposure after a fall down the steps of his home.

The first of the above was one of two double-fatal mishaps. The other came when two young men died as a freight train hit their car at a crossing near Uhrichsville. The exposure death and a drowning accounted for the non-traffic toll.

There were no deaths in fires but a fireman was killed when his fire truck upset en route to a blaze near Paulding.

The fatalities:

Saturday

Mrs. Elsie Riley, 37, Chillicothe, drowned when she fell into Paint Creek, five miles west of Chillicothe.

Judy McManus, 17, Hamden, when a car in which she was riding overturned on Ohio 160 five miles east of Hamden (Vinton County).

Albert Weist, 86, Cincinnati, apparently froze to death after falling down the front steps at his home.

Mrs. Anna Dufner, Cleveland, struck by an auto on a Cleveland street.

Ralph C. Bird, 24, and his son, Gerald, 2, Rt. 1, Harrod, when their car left U.S. 25 and rolled down a 40-foot embankment 1½ miles southeast of Wapakoneta.

Jerry Lee Blevins, 20, Cincinnati, when his car collided head-on with a gasoline trailer-truck on Ohio 3 near Washington Court House.

Sunday

Patrick Macken, 23, Akron, when his car left U.S. 30 and hit a tree 3½ miles east of Minerva, in Columbiana County.

Richard K. Sohn, 46, Sherwood, an assistant chief of the Sherwood Volunteer Fire Department, when his fire truck upset on U.S. 127, north of Paulding, while en route to a blaze.

Jerry A. Kirns, 22, and James E. Larkin, 20, both of the Port Washington area, when a freight train hit their car at a railroad crossing about three miles west of Uhrichsville (Tuscarawas County).

Cleveland Smith, 36, Middletown, when his car collided with a tractor-trailer truck on Ohio 4 at the junction of Ohio 63 south of Middletown.

Roscoe Rowe, 35, Cincinnati, when his car veered off Harrison Pike in eastern Hamilton County and overturned.

Class Head Named

watching the waves lapping over the listing ship's port side.

The freighter, the 6,125-ton Santa Alicia, showed not a sign of life above decks. Twenty of the crew had been taken off because of the risk of fire.

But men were still at work down below. Soon after the ships came apart the Santa Alicia's crew started churning to help the tugs avoid the dangerous shallows.

A tug called the Flying Kestrel took the Santa Alicia in charge, towing her stern first to keep seawatr out of her gaping forward hold.

The tanker, heavily laden and much the larger ship, had two tugs. One was ahead and the other alongside.

As slowly they moved up channel toward Southampton, fire floats cruised with them. Two destroyers and a frigate kept guard to clear other shipping from their path.

The Santa Alicia, owned by Grace Lines of New York, was sailing out of Southhampton for New York when she collided head-on with the Gorm, out of Oslo, in pre-dawn darkness.

The ships were doing about six knots in a choppy sea. There was no fog. There were no casualties from the collision.

Extended Pact Averts Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Steel Co., the only major steel producer still lacking a labor contract with the United Steelworkers, has agreed with the union to operate under an extension of the old pact.

The agreement removed the threat of a strike at Pittsburgh Steel's six plants Tuesday when a Taft - Hartley injunction expires.

The injunction sent employes of most of the major steel firms in the nation back to work last Nov. 7 after a 116-day strike. All of the other big companies since have signed new agreements with the USW.

Pittsburgh Steel, which employs about 8,000 USW members, has been holding out for a reduction in incentive pay rates. Present pay schedules were not disclosed.

The steel firm claims its incentive rates are far above the industry average. The firm said it had agreed to most other terms of agreement the union made with other companies.

Workers would have been free to renew the strike Tuesday if the old pact had not been extended.

The extension agreement may be canceled by either side after five days notice is given.

Pittsburgh Steel employes voting last week in a National Labor Relations Board election turned down the company proposal to cut incentive rates.

Four firms are still at odds with the union out of 96 steel companies that were named as defendants in the original T-H injunction action.

'Dimes' Drive Realizes $200

More than $200 was collected Saturday by Wellsville American Legion Post 70 in its "Block of Dimes" drive held in conjunction with the March of Dimes campaign. Final plans also have been announced for the annual "Mothers' March on Polio" campaign Wednesday night.

Post 70 conducted its collection on Main St. between 5th St. and Shingler Alley. Auxiliary members solicited funds at the 4th St. square and served hot coffee to those working, according to Robert Lowther, commander. The Junior Chamber of Commerce also assisted.

James Laughlin, city chairman, said the city has been divided into sections for the door-to-door solicitation Wednesday night, which will be conducted by members of various Parent-Teacher Associations.

Heading the drive for the schools are Mrs. Frances Farina, Confraternity of Christian Mothers of the Immaculate Conception Parochial School; Jack Lanam, McKinley; Mrs. Ethel Clark, MacDonald; Mrs. Wanda Hanlon, Garfield, and Mrs. Betty Glass, Fairview at Hillcrest.

The territory each will cover is McKinley, east end of town to 5th St.; MacDonald, 5th to 10th St.; Confraternity, 10th to 14th St., and Garfield, 14th to the west end of town.

Each volunteer will carry a paper sack in which to collect the funds and to use as identification. Laughlin urged residents to turn on their porch lights the night of the drive to let volunteers know that someone is at home and also to light strange walks and steps.

Dick Kevan and Donald Wellington are serving as co-chairmen of the city drive.

Chester Donates $300 In Annual Dimes Drive

Some $300 was collected for the March of Dimes drive in Chester over the weekend, J. Paul Finley, chairman of the Kiwanis-sponsored campaign, said today.

A traffic solicitation held on Carolina Ave. by 12 club members Saturday netted $316, while a collection taken at a high school basketball game Friday night by the Key Club realized $14.

A house - to - house canvass will be held Wednesday night by women's groups, along with the Kiwanis Club.

"It means restoring the economic health of dozens of chronically depressed areas. I am sure you share the bitter regret that the President vetoed the distressed areas bill, as well as another bill that has so much meaning for your state — the coal research bill."

Two other things he said should be done are:

"The immediate consideration by the federal government of an export subsidy on coal where foreign competition and cut-rate prices injure American producers and shippers.

"A determined effort to find greater uses for our vast coal resources in our foreign aid program, particularly to the underdeveloped countries that are beginning their industrialized programs. . ."

Lions Group At Lisbon Postpones Benefit Sale

LISBON — The Lisbon Lions Club Cracker Jack day will be held Saturday. It was postponed last Saturday because of cold weather, according to W. E. Hiscox, president.

The Lions will stop motorists for donations for their sight Saving Fund. They decided that it was too cold to stop cars and ask people to roll down their windows last Saturday, so they are hoping for milder weather this week, Hiscox said.

Inquest Slated In Road Death

An inquest is scheduled tonight at 7:30 in New Cumberland as the aftermath of a two-car head-on collision early Friday night on the Route 30 hill in back of Chester in which a city man was killed and 3 were injured seriously.

A six-member coroner's jury impaneled by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland will hear testimony and will investigate the accident in which Paul E. Ammon, 46, of 848 Fairview St. was killed.

Mr. Ammon was a passenger in an east-bound auto driven by his son, Cpl. Ronald Ammon, 20. The youth's grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Fenton, 60, of 411 Monroe St., also was a passenger.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said today that the driver of the second auto — Charles R. Logston, 23, of Aliquippa — faces a charge of involuntary manslaughter, a misdemeanor in West Virginia.

Logston's auto careened across the center line on a sharp curve midway up the twisting hill and smashed headon into the Ammon auto, deputies said.

County authorities have placed a detainer against the Aliquippa driver until he is released from City Hospital, where he is listed in "good" condition with severe lacerations.

Cpl. Ammon is in "fair condition with lacerations of the right leg, right cheek and abrasions of the right arm. Mrs. Fenton also is in "fair" condition with lacerations and a possible back injury.

Services were to be held today at 2 at the Martin Funeral Home for Mr. Ammon, who was the county's first traffic fatality of 1960.

Constables Cited 313 In '59, Report Shows

Constables in St. Clair, Madison and 10 other Columbiana County townships patroled a total of 92,326 miles and made 313 arrests during 1959, according to a summary released today by Roy Painter of Hanoverton, president of the county Constables Association.

Painter said the officers investigated 171 traffic accidents, recovered $19,972 in property, served 723 civil papers and investigated 103 enterings. A total of 1,237 warnings were issued.

Other townships represented were Middleton, Unity, Fairfield, Salem, Perry, Washington, Franklin, Hanover, Butler and Knox.

At least 13 people were killed in accidents that befell them in Ohio between 6 p. m. last Friday and midnight Sunday. Eleven of them were victims of the No. 1 threat, traffic.

Lives cut short ranged from that of a two-year-old boy killed with his father when their car left U.S. 25 and rolled down an embankment near Wapakoneta to that of an 86-year-old Cincinnatian who apparently succumbed to exposure after a fall down the steps of his home.

The first of the above was one of two double-fatal mishaps. The other came when two young men died as a freight train hit their car at a crossing near Uhrichsville. The exposure death and a drowning accounted for the non-traffic toll.

There were no deaths in fires but a fireman was killed when his fire truck upset en route to a blaze near Paulding.

The fatalities:

Saturday

Mrs. Elsie Riley, 37, Chillicothe, drowned when she fell into Paint Creek, five miles west of Chillicothe.

Judy McManus, 17, Hamden, when a car in which she was riding overturned on Ohio 160 five miles east of Hamden (Vinton County).

Albert Weist, 86, Cincinnati, apparently froze to death after falling down the front steps at his home.

Mrs. Anna Dufner, Cleveland, struck by an auto on a Cleveland street.

Ralph C. Bird, 24, and his son, Gerald, 2, Rt. 1, Harrod, when their car left U.S. 25 and rolled down a 40-foot embankment 1½ miles southeast of Wapakoneta.

Jerry Lee Blevins, 20, Cincinnati, when his car collided head-on with a gasoline trailer-truck on Ohio 3 near Washington Court House.

Sunday

Patrick Macken, 23, Akron, when his car left U.S. 30 and hit a tree 3½ miles east of Minerva, in Columbiana County.

Richard K. Sohn, 46, Sherwood, an assistant chief of the Sherwood Volunteer Fire Department, when his fire truck upset on U.S. 127, north of Paulding, while en route to a blaze.

Jerry A. Kirns, 22, and James E. Larkin, 20, both of the Port Washington area, when a freight train hit their car at a railroad crossing about three miles west of Uhrichsville (Tuscarawas County).

Cleveland Smith, 36, Middletown, when his car collided with a tractor-trailer truck on Ohio 4 at the junction of Ohio 63 south of Middletown.

Roscoe Rowe, 35, Cincinnati, when his car veered off Harrison Pike in eastern Hamilton County and overturned.

Class Head Named

EAST PALESTINE — Flavel Grim, 166 E. Martin St., was elected president of Class No. 1 of the Methodist Church Sunday morning, succeeding James Nesbitt. The 65-year-old class is the oldest organization of the church. Installation will be held Feb. 7.

Tugs

watching the waves lapping over the listing ship's port side.

The freighter, the 6,125-ton Santa Alicia, showed not a sign of life above decks. Twenty of the crew had been taken off because of the risk of fire.

But men were still at work down below. Soon after the ships came apart the Santa Alicia's crew started churning to help the tugs avoid the dangerous shallows.

A tug called the Flying Kestrel took the Santa Alicia in charge, towing her stern first to keep seawatr out of her gaping forward hold.

The tanker, heavily laden and much the larger ship, had two tugs. One was ahead and the other alongside.

As slowly they moved up channel toward Southampton, fire floats cruised with them. Two destroyers and a frigate kept guard to clear other shipping from their path.

The Santa Alicia, owned by Grace Lines of New York, was sailing out of Southhampton for New York when she collided head-on with the Gorm, out of Oslo, in pre-dawn darkness.

The ships were doing about six knots in a choppy sea. There was no fog. There were no casualties from the collision.

Extended Pact Averts Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Steel Co., the only major steel producer still lacking a labor contract with the United Steelworkers, has agreed with the union to operate under an extension of the old pact.

The agreement removed the threat of a strike at Pittsburgh Steel's six plants Tuesday when a Taft - Hartley injunction expires.

The injunction sent employes of most of the major steel firms in the nation back to work last Nov. 7 after a 116-day strike. All of the other big companies since have signed new agreements with the USW.

Pittsburgh Steel, which employs about 8,000 USW members, has been holding out for a reduction in incentive pay rates. Present pay schedules were not disclosed.

The steel firm claims its incentive rates are far above the industry average. The firm said it had agreed to most other terms of agreement the union made with other companies.

Workers would have been free to renew the strike Tuesday if the old pact had not been extended.

The extension agreement may be canceled by either side after five days notice is given.

Pittsburgh Steel employes voting last week in a National Labor Relations Board election turned down the company proposal to cut incentive rates.

Four firms are still at odds with the union out of 96 steel companies that were named as defendants in the original T-H injunction action.

'Dimes' Drive Realizes $200

More than $200 was collected Saturday by Wellsville American Legion Post 70 in its "Block of Dimes" drive held in conjunction with the March of Dimes campaign. Final plans also have been announced for the annual "Mothers' March on Polio" campaign Wednesday night.

Post 70 conducted its collection on Main St. between 5th St. and Shingler Alley. Auxiliary members solicited funds at the 4th St. square and served hot coffee to those working, according to Robert Lowther, commander. The Junior Chamber of Commerce also assisted.

James Laughlin, city chairman, said the city has been divided into sections for the door-to-door solicitation Wednesday night, which will be conducted by members of various Parent-Teacher Associations.

Heading the drive for the schools are Mrs. Frances Farina, Confraternity of Christian Mothers of the Immaculate Conception Parochial School; Jack Lanam, McKinley; Mrs. Ethel Clark, MacDonald; Mrs. Wanda Hanlon, Garfield, and Mrs. Betty Glass, Fairview at Hillcrest.

The territory each will cover is McKinley, east end of town to 5th St.; MacDonald, 5th to 10th St.; Confraternity, 10th to 14th St., and Garfield, 14th to the west end of town.

Each volunteer will carry a paper sack in which to collect the funds and to use as identification. Laughlin urged residents to turn on their porch lights the night of the drive to let volunteers know that someone is at home and also to light strange walks and steps.

Dick Kevan and Donald Wellington are serving as co-chairmen of the city drive.

Chester Donates $300 In Annual Dimes Drive

Some $300 was collected for the March of Dimes drive in Chester over the weekend, J. Paul Finley, chairman of the Kiwanis-sponsored campaign, said today.

A traffic solicitation held on Carolina Ave. by 12 club members Saturday netted $316, while a collection taken at a high school basketball game Friday night by the Key Club realized $14.

A house - to - house canvass will be held Wednesday night by women's groups, along with the Kiwanis Club.

"It means restoring the economic health of dozens of chronically depressed areas. I am sure you share the bitter regret that the President vetoed the distressed areas bill, as well as another bill that has so much meaning for your state — the coal research bill."

Two other things he said should be done are:

"The immediate consideration by the federal government of an export subsidy on coal where foreign competition and cut-rate prices injure American producers and shippers.

"A determined effort to find greater uses for our vast coal resources in our foreign aid program, particularly to the underdeveloped countries that are beginning their industrialized programs. . ."

Lions Group At Lisbon Postpones Benefit Sale

LISBON — The Lisbon Lions Club Cracker Jack day will be held Saturday. It was postponed last Saturday because of cold weather, according to W. E. Hiscox, president.

The Lions will stop motorists for donations for their sight Saving Fund. They decided that it was too cold to stop cars and ask people to roll down their windows last Saturday, so they are hoping for milder weather this week, Hiscox said.

Inquest Slated In Road Death

An inquest is scheduled tonight at 7:30 in New Cumberland as the aftermath of a two-car head-on collision early Friday night on the Route 30 hill in back of Chester in which a city man was killed and 3 were injured seriously.

A six-member coroner's jury impaneled by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland will hear testimony and will investigate the accident in which Paul E. Ammon, 46, of 848 Fairview St. was killed.

Mr. Ammon was a passenger in an east-bound auto driven by his son, Cpl. Ronald Ammon, 20. The youth's grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Fenton, 60, of 411 Monroe St., also was a passenger.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said today that the driver of the second auto — Charles R. Logston, 23, of Aliquippa — faces a charge of involuntary manslaughter, a misdemeanor in West Virginia.

Logston's auto careened across the center line on a sharp curve midway up the twisting hill and smashed headon into the Ammon auto, deputies said.

County authorities have placed a detainer against the Aliquippa driver until he is released from City Hospital, where he is listed in "good" condition with severe lacerations.

Cpl. Ammon is in "fair condition with lacerations of the right leg, right cheek and abrasions of the right arm. Mrs. Fenton also is in "fair" condition with lacerations and a possible back injury.

Services were to be held today at 2 at the Martin Funeral Home for Mr. Ammon, who was the county's first traffic fatality of 1960.

Constables Cited 313 In '59, Report Shows

Constables in St. Clair, Madison and 10 other Columbiana County townships patroled a total of 92,326 miles and made 313 arrests during 1959, according to a summary released today by Roy Painter of Hanoverton, president of the county Constables Association.

Painter said the officers investigated 171 traffic accidents, recovered $19,972 in property, served 723 civil papers and investigated 103 enterings. A total of 1,237 warnings were issued.

Other townships represented were Middleton, Unity, Fairfield, Salem, Perry, Washington, Franklin, Hanover, Butler and Knox.

Plane's Wreckage Hunted As Crash Quiz Is Extended

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Navy today planned to probe the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico for wreckage of a National Airlines plane that carried 42 persons to their death two months ago.

Investigators hoped the wreckage might tell them whether a bomb explosion sent the DC7B hurtling into the water Nov. 16.

They also sought to determine if a missing Tampa man was one of the 29 persons whose bodies have not yet been found.

The missing man, William A. Taylor, 69, was a friend of Robert Vernon Spears who was listed as a heavily insured passenger on the plane but turned up alive in Phoenix, Ariz., last week.

The FBI said the 65-year-old naturopath, who took out $100,000 flight insurance in his own name, had blasting equipment in his luggage when he was arrested.

Taylor's divorced wife said she believed Spears may have hypnotized Taylor into taking his place on the doomed plane.

Two Navy Vessels headed toward the tip of Louisiana to investigate an object, located by sound gear, under several hundred feet of water.

Diving experts said there was no way to tell in advance what the object was. It might be the plane. It might be just the hulk of an old ship.

Weather Outlook For Ohio Regions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

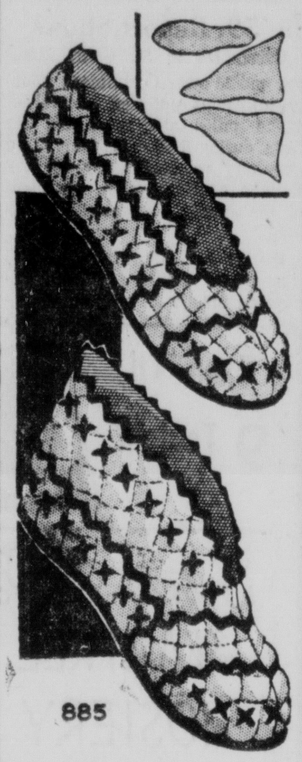

Afternoon temperatures Sunday were a little warmer with Chesapeake reaching 35, Columbus 28, and Cincinnati 29.

Cloudiness varied greatly during the night. Clear skies at Cincinnati permitted the temperature to drop to 18. Columbus was 22 and Cleveland 20.

Light snow flurries were occurring early this morning at Youngstown, Cleveland and Mansfield and over most of the northeastern counties.

South winds will moderate temperatures today, but a new cold air mass over central Canada is forecast to move southeastward, covering Ohio by Tuesday night. Temperatures will rise very little on Tuesday and light snow flurries will be rather general.

They Are All 'Johns', But There's No Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — You might cause quite a scramble if you barged into a meeting of the Atomic Energy Commission and yelled: "Hey, John, you're wanted on the phone."

It happens that all four members of the AEC have the same first name — John A. McCone, chairman; Dr. John H. Williams, scientist-member; John S. Graham; and John F. Floberg.

The men who shape the nation's atomic destiny insist the situation causes no confusion.

McCone, being the boss, is always addressed at meetings as either "Mr. Chairman" or "Mr. McCone."

Floberg usually is called "Jack." Dr. Williams answers to either "Doc" or "Johnny."

"So you see," grins Commissioner Graham, "that leaves me as the only real John."

Chairman McCone is the only one who calls everyone else John.

Cupid Provides Alibi For Speeding Driver

CENTRAL FALLS, R.I. (AP)—Bertrand R. Duhamel, 22, Woonsocket, had a novel alibi in District Court Sunday where he appeared for driving 100 miles an hour.

He told the court he was driving with the girl he loves when a rival for her affections pulled up in front of them and drove at 10 miles an hour.

Duhamel said he became infuriated and put on a burst of speed, just when state troopers appeared.

He was fined $10.

'Credits' For Social Security Explained By Regional Office

If you are in employment or self-employment that counts toward Social Security, be sure that you get credit for your earnings, William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown regional Social Security office, reminded today.

The amount of benefits which may become payable to you and your dependents or survivors are figured from the average earnings credited to your Social Security account, he said. To become eligible for any benefits, you must have been in work covered by Social Security for a certain length of time, he added.

If your earnings are not correctly reported, benefit payments to you and your family may be reduced; if your work under Social Security is not reported you will not get credit for years which you may need to be insured at time of retirement or in case of your disability or death, McCauley warned.

McCauley said that most people now reaching 65 need to have at least 4½ years of earnings on their Social Security account. People reaching 65 later will need even more credits. A man born in 1906 or later or a woman born in 1909 or later will need 10 years of Social Security credit. For disability benefit payments from 50 to 65 at least 5 years of social Security Credit are needed, he said.

An employed person should make sure that his employer reports his wages correctly; if he works for himself he should report his net earnings when he files his income tax return and pay the Social Security tax on those earnings every year, McCauley said.

Failure to make a yearly report is a violation of the law and can result in penalties and interest charges on unpaid Social Security taxes, he said. Failure to report also can result in the wiping out of Social Security insurance protection altogether. The law says that earnings must get on the record within 3 years, 3 months and 15 days after the taxable year in which they were earned. As an example, McCauley pointed out that a self-employed person who failed to report his 1955 earnings by April 15, 1959, can never get Social Security credit for that year.

Guard against the possibility of losing earnings credits of your insured status by reporting regularly and correctly, he said. Also ask for a statement of your Social Security account at least once every three years, McCauley added.

'Love Letter' Arrives But It's 12 Years Late

SALE LAKE CITY, Utah (AP —Mrs. Frank Siciliano Jr. got a love letter from Los Angeles the other day. She was thrilled. Her husband? Oh, he was. too.

The letter was from him.

He wrote it to her 12 years go, two years before they got married, when he was working in Los Angeles.

Nobody could figure out exactly where that missive had been since it was sent, postmarked Sept. 5, 1947.

Teachers Sought For Army Schools

Teaching positions will be available in Army-operated schools for American children in Korea, Japan, Okinawa, Germany and France for the 1960-61 school year, according to the Army General Depot at Columbus.

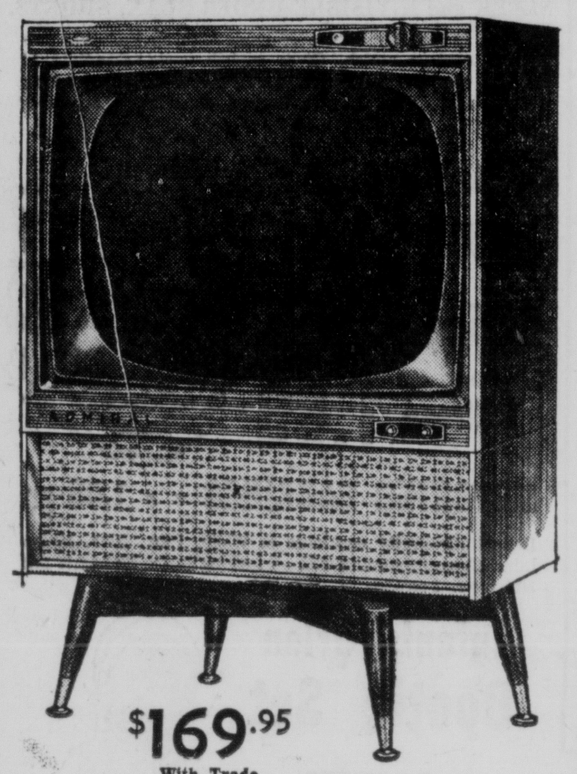

The greatest number of vacancies will be for elementary teachers, who should be qualified to teach multiple grades. Secondary teachers must be qualified for and expect to teach more than one subject.

Qualifications include a bachelor's degree, teacher training and two years' experience.

Government transportation is furnished and rent-free quarters are available in most areas. The tour of duty is one year.

To assure consideration for the coming school year, inquiry regarding application procedure should be made to: Commanding General, Columbus General Depot, U. S. Army, Columbus 15.

Now Science Stops Useless* Coughing with a Tiny Tablet and a sip of water!

* What is useless coughing?
There are two kinds of coughs: 1. Productive—the occasional useful cough that clears the throat and bronchial tubes. DONDRIL does not interfere with the useful cough. 2. Non-Productive—the nagging cough that racks the body, uselessly, and serves no purpose. DONDRIL stops useless coughing.

Controls nerves that control coughing due to colds and excessive smoking. Helps break up bronchial congestion—raises phlegm.

NEW YORK, N. Y. (Special) A major breakthrough in cough control is now announced with the introduction to the public of a new anti-cough tablet. It's a tiny tablet...to be taken with a sip of water. Working through the bloodstream, this remarkable tablet stops useless coughing up to 6 full hours. Called DONDRIL Anti-Cough Tablets, this entirely new concept in cough control is now available without prescription.

The astonishing relief offered by DONDRIL is made possible by a combination of three great medicines...a unique antitussive, a medically-proven decongestant and an exclusive antihistamine. DONDRIL has twice the effectiveness of codeine, yet is non-narcotic. Get DONDRIL Anti-Cough Tablets. Money back if not satisfied.

'Love Letter' Arrives But It's 12 Years Late

SALE LAKE CITY, Utah (AP —Mrs. Frank Siciliano Jr. got a love letter from Los Angeles the other day. She was thrilled. Her husband? Oh, he was, too.

The letter was from him.

He wrote it to her 12 years go, two years before they got married, when he was working in Los Angeles.

Nobody could figure out exactly where that missive had been since it was sent, postmarked Sept. 5, 1947.

Teachers Sought For Army Schools

Teaching positions will be available in Army-operated schools for American children in Korea, Japan, Okinawa, Germany and France for the 1960-61 school year, according to the Army General Depot at Columbus.

The greatest number of vacancies will be for elementary teachers, who should be qualified to teach multiple grades. Secondary teachers must be qualified for and expect to teach more than one subject.

Qualifications include a bachelor's degree, teacher training and two years' experience.

Government transportation is furnished and rent-free quarters are available in most areas. The tour of duty is one year.

To assure consideration for the coming school year, inquiry regarding application procedure should be made to: Commanding General, Columbus General Depot, U. S. Army, Columbus 15.

Now Science Stops Useless* Coughing with a Tiny Tablet and a sip of water!

Controls nerves that control coughing due to colds and excessive smoking. Helps break up bronchial congestion — raises phlegm.

* What is useless coughing? There are two kinds of coughs: 1. Productive—the occasional useful cough that clears the throat and bronchial tubes. DONDRIL does not interfere with the useful cough. 2. Non-Productive—the nagging cough that racks the body, uselessly, and serves no purpose. DONDRIL stops useless coughing.

NEW YORK, N. Y. (Special) A major breakthrough in cough control is now announced with the introduction to the public of a new anti-cough tablet. It's a tiny tablet...to be taken with a sip of water. Working through the bloodstream, this remarkable tablet stops useless coughing up to 6 full hours. Called DONDRIL Anti-Cough Tablets, this entirely new concept in cough control is now available without prescription.

The astonishing relief offered by DONDRIL is made possible by a combination of three great medicines...a unique antitussive, a medically-proven decongestant and an exclusive antihistamine. DONDRIL has twice the effectiveness of codeine, yet is non-narcotic. Get DONDRIL Anti-Cough Tablets. Money back if not satisfied.

Kennedy Bids In Hampshire

NASHUA, N.H. (AP) — With pledges of solid support from all the New England states at the Democratic National Convention in July, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) made his first pitch today to clinch these delegates.

He has a round of speeches, receptions, rallies and handshaking tours of factories here and in Manchester for his one-day stand in New Hampshire.

New Hampshire has only 11 votes in the national convention. The campaign here is important since New Hampshire's March 8 primary is the first in the nation.

Party leaders from all six New England states assured Sen. Kennedy Sunday night at a Boston dinner that he will have a solid New England bloc of 114 delegates when he goes to Los Angeles in July.

Kennedy was handed a check for $50,000—part of the net proceeds of a record $74,000 raised by Massachusetts' Jefferson-Jackson Committee at a $100 per plate affair.

Kennedy said the contribution will come in handy as he goes across the country in the next few months. He said he will enter five of six state primaries in his quest for delegates in a campaign he said is aimed to give the people in the Democratic party an opportunity to participate in the selection of their candidate—"instead of having a nominee handed to them."

Kennedy said it is the function and the duty of the Democratic party to provide the leadership the United States will need in the next decade.

Kennedy said if the Republicans elect Richard M. Nixon as the next president, "history shows he is likely to be reelected in 1964—and I'm not prepard to turn the country over to that kind of leadership for the next decade."

Scholar Roll Lists 26 At Hammondsville

HAMMONSVILLE — Twenty-six students attained the honor roll for the third six-week grading period in the elementary school, according to Mrs. Frieda Ault, principal. They are:

First grade, Sandra Burton, Darlene Cronin, Tim Crook, Tim Furbee, Rickey Householder and Debby Martin; second, Carol Moore, Rebecca Plunkett, Patricia Pysniak, Pam Saltsman and Sandra Wickham.

Third, Brenda Burton, Frank Gruszecki, Larry Hooper, Karen Pinkerton, Linda Roberts and Bonnie Rodgers; fourth, Larry Barber, Marsha Grafton and Evelyn Moore; fifth, Nancy Sholea, and Shirley Cronin, and sixth, Barbara Millhorn, Joann Koterba, Thomas Lysle and Karin Sholea.

Death Seen Suicide

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Matilda Piatt, 40, a recent divorcee, was found dead Sunday with a plastic bag over her head. Mrs. Piatt's body was found by her daughter, Leslie, 9, in their apartment in Rego Park, Queens. Police listed the death as an apparent suicide.

House Group Offers Figures On Second Mortgage Survey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Money lenders in the Columbus, Ohio, area are reported to charge up to 50 per cent of the face value when they buy second mortgages on homes.

The situation reportedly is somewhat better in the Cleveland area, where bankers might charge 25 per cent. In Cincinnati, no percentage was mentioned but then discount is said to be "minimum."

These reports are carried in a nationwide survey made by a House banking subcommittee on the tight money situation regarding home loans — particularly second mortgages.

A second mortgage is a loan to buyers lacking the full down payment to obtain the first or regular mortgage. It is payable over a much shorter period than the first mortgage.

Frequently the seller, needing cash, will sell the second mortgage note to a bank. It is here that he must pay a "discount" as much as half the value of the note.

That is, a bank might give him $1,000 for a second mortgage with a face value of $2,000.

Here is the report on the money situation in housing from Federal Housing Administration insuring offices in Ohio, in letters dated last September:

Forrest P. Smith, FHA director, Columbus: Second mortgages used extensively, particularly in the $10,000 to $13,000 house class. Banks charging sellers top discounts on FHA loans.

Second mortgages usually carry six per cent interest rate—"Sometimes higher and are being discounted from 30 per cent to 50 per cent, which is higher than a year ago."

William H. Hackman, FHA director, Cleveland:

"Second mortgage loans for five years bearing six or seven per cent interest are discounted as much as 25 per cent. This same discount prevailed as long as two years ago, but one lender willing to supply information indicated that they were extremely selective at the present time."

Edward C. Gabriel, FHA director, Cincinnati:

"A number of builders are using conventional financing, taking back second mortgages carrying a six per cent rate . . . We have no information with respect to the discounting of second mortgages in this area, and it is felt that any discounting that may exist would be at a very minimum figure."

Bishop, Target Of Reds To Retire In Germany

BERLIN (AP) — Bishop Otto Dibelius, under heavy fire from the Communists, announced today he will retire in 1961.

The head of the Lutheran Church in Germany will be 80 years old in May.

East German Communists have been attacking him heavily for his stand that a good Christian need not obey all the laws proclaimed in East Germany.

150 Aliens Registered At 4 Area Post Offices

Some 150 aliens have turned in address report forms at the East Liverpool, Wellsville, Midland and Chester post offices.

The deadline for returning the forms to the post offices is next Monday. The forms are not to be mailed.

Those who fail to file by the deadline are subject to possible fines, jail terms and deportation.

Seventy-eight have registered at the East Liverpool office, while 30 have signed up at Wellsville, which is "very light," Postmaster Elmer Evans said. About 75 sign up yearly at Wellsville, he noted.

Postmaster Angelo Cellini said some 350 register each year at the Midland office. Officials at Chester's post office today planned to tabulate the forms distributed so far.

A review of previous programs from the study book, "The Light of the Mountain," by Miss Irene Firth, president, highlighted the meeting of the WSCS at the Calvary Methodist Church Friday night.

The group sang "No East, No West" and Miss Firth, who was in charge of the devotions and program, closed with prayer.

The program featured a filmstrip, "Great Christian Missionaries," screened by Mrs. Carl Beighley, wife of the pastor. The film showed the life of Rev. Albert Schweitzer and his missionary work in Africa.

The president conducted business and roll call response was a Bible verse on service.

Mrs. William Jennings gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Dorothy Fagan the treasurer's.

Members were reminded of the district rally at the Masonic Temple at Steubenville Feb. 26 when Bishop and Mrs. Hazen Werner will tell of their African missionary journeys.

The group voted to make reservations for two girls of the congregation to attend the missionary school at Lakeside in July.

Miss Firth closed with a prayer from the "Methodist Women" magazine.

Mrs. Fagan served as hostess.

The next meeting will be Feb. 26 at the church with Mrs. Beighley as program chairman and Mrs. Lee Carroll hostess.

A review of previous programs from the study book, "The Light of the Mountain," by Miss Irene Firth, president, highlighted the meeting of the WSCS at the Calvary Methodist Church Friday night.

The group sang "No East, No West" and Miss Firth, who was in charge of the devotions and program, closed with prayer.

The program featured a filmstrip, "Great Christian Missionaries," screened by Mrs. Carl Beighley, wife of the pastor. The film showed the life of Rev. Albert Schweitzer and his missionary work in Africa.

The president conducted business and roll call response was a Bible verse on service.

Mrs. William Jennings gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Dorothy Fagan the treasurer's.

Members were reminded of the district rally at the Masonic Temple at Steubenville Feb. 26 when Bishop and Mrs. Hazen Werner will tell of their African missionary journeys.

The group voted to make reservations for two girls of the congregation to attend the missionary school at Lakeside in July.

Miss Firth closed with a prayer from the "Methodist Women" magazine.

Mrs. Fagan served as hostess.

The next meeting will be Feb. 26 at the church with Mrs. Beighley as program chairman and Mrs. Lee Carroll hostess.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 24, a green-eyed redhead, well proportioned and very mixed up.

Six months ago I fell in love with an ad executive. He was strangely evasive about where he lived but I never thought much about it. Yesterday he phoned to say he had a bad case of flu and could not make our date. I decided to surprise him with some hot chicken soup. I got his address from his boss.

Rick was sick all right and he became a lot sicker when he saw me at his door. At first he said he was too ill to let me in but I insisted. The first thing I noticed was a frilly robe on the back of a chair, then some satin bedroom slippers plus a woman's handbag and gloves. I asked for an explanation.

He told me a young girl he'd known in Peoria was out of work and friendless. She couldn't pay her rent so he let her move in for a few weeks. He swore there was nothing between them and begged me to have faith in him. Would you? — RED.

Dear Red: Would I what? Believe he's playing House Mother to a friendless girl from Peoria? No.

If your boy friend wanted to be a junior-grade philanthropist he could have advanced the girl some rent money — or asked a woman friend to take her in for a few weeks. Tell him to haul down the flag. Nobody in his right mind would salute it.

Return Engagement

Dear Ann: You helped me several months ago so I'm turning to you again. I'm so happy I followed your advice because now I realize how right you were.

I'm the girl with the withered left arm who wanted to wear my engagement ring on my crippled hand. You advised me to wear the ring on the other hand. You even explained why I wanted to wear the ring on my left hand. And you were right. I was subconsciously flaunting my deformity to show people I could get a wonderful fellow in spite of my handicap.

Now I'm making plans for the wedding. I've always wanted to wear a bridal gown but perhaps I shouldn't because of my arm. Do you think if I carried a large bouquet it would help? Please tell me what to do. I was wrong before and I may be wrong again. — S.C.

Dear S.C.: By all means wear a bridal gown and carry a large bouquet. And my heartiest congratulations!

Poor Relationship

Dear Ann: My husband and I moved into his mother's home when we married nine years ago. His mother has been employed all this time. We paid rent and took care of the utility bills.

Now his mother is retiring from her job and wants to sell us her home. She thinks she should live with us for nothing. She'll be getting a pension so it's not as if she will be penniless.

My husband feels this is perfectly all right. I say it isn't fair. She has three daughters besides this son. — DISGUSTED.

Dear Disgusted: Your signature tells me more than your letter. More important than whether or not your mother-in-law should pay is the fact that you have a poor relationship with her and therefore you shouldn't live together under any conditions.

It would be far better if your mother-in-law could get an apartment alone. I recommend this even if it means all four children must pitch in to supplement the pension.

Ann Landers will be glad to hlep you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

City Library To Experiment With Some Paperback Books

Bennett Cerf has said that paperback books have been the healthiest addition for his business "since cornflakes."

To quote the New York Times, "300 million copies of 7,000 titles were sold in paperback last year."

Following the trend, the Carnegie Public Library has started to experiment with a few titles in the paper format — usually books which will have only a temporary use or a very slight circulation.

Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said the public is invited to examine a few on this week's new book shelf — a series of six current poets including Reed Whitmore's "Self-Made Man" and Katherine Hoskins "Out In the Open."

Among two dozen novels in French are three by prize-winning authors, "La Peste" by Albert Camus, "The Silences of Colonel Bramble" by Andre Maurois, and Francois Mauriac's "Therese Desqueyroux." Here's an enjoyable way to brush up on a foreign language. This series is entitled "Le Livre de Poche."

Four books of interest to Christian study groups will be found in the new paper binding: from the Friendship Press is Emory and Myrta Ross' "Africa Disturbed" and Rockwell C. Smith's "People, Lands, and Churches." Meridian Books publishes a translation from a Frenchman commenting on the Apostle's Creed. The title is "The Faith of the Church" by Carl Barth.

Simon & Shuster has issued a fine study of the modern rural scene, "Farmer In a Business Suit." John Davis and Kenneth Hinshaw, the authors, were sponsored by the Foundation for American Agriculture.

Doubleday's series available in both paper and cloth binding is called "Anchor Books". The library believes that the Science Study section of his series is so fine that it has bought them in cloth. Science Fair participants will find inspiration here: "Soap Bubbles and the Forces Which Mold Them" by C. V. Boys, "The Neutron Story" by Donald Hughes, and "Magnets, the Education of a Physicist" by Francis Bitter.

James A. Coleman's "Relativity for the Layman" was endorsed by Einstein himself and it is fortunate that a new edition has become available. A highly technical book, but one which should intrigue the layman because of their vital importance in our defense system "Materials for Rockets and Missiles" by Robert G. Frank. Since the trend seems to be moving from discs to tapes in the audio industry, Robert and Mary Marshall's "Your Tape Recorder" is a timely new guide. Birds as house pets are experiencing a new vogue. G. Mandahl-Barth's "Cage Birds In Color" depicts 150 birds—also providing suggestions for care and feeding.

Ashley Montagu, who gained fame with his discussions of the superiority of women, has a lucid new text on "Human Heredity." The debate as to the effect of atomic energy's influence on future generations makes this book important. A lighter side of modern man can be found in Esquire's "Art of Keeping Fit." This is an amusing way for men to prevent going to seed.

Fiction, which is loaded with barbed darts intended for the medical profession, always creates discussion. Such a book is the "The Golden Scalpel" by Seymour Kern.

The competition between doctors for a practice in postwar Hollywood and Los Angeles is the background for this story.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove the lettering from sugar and salt bags?

A. Wet a bar of laundry soap and rub on the dry bag, repeating until the bag is covered with a thick layer of the soap. Then roll the bag up and let it stand for several hours before washing and boiling.

Q. Please tell me how I can clean such plaster ornaments as small statues, busts, vases, and the like?

A. One good way is to dip them into a solution of starch and water, let them dry, and then brush them off.

Q. How can I renovate a supply of putty that has become dry and hardened?

A. You can soften it up to a usable consistency simply by mixing it well wih a few drops of linseed oil.

Circuit Officer To Visit Church

Nicholas C. Karamalis, circuit supervisory minister over 18 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in Eastern Ohio and parts of West Virginia will be a guest of the East Liverpool congregation this week, accompanied by his wife.

Emerson Booth, presiding minister, said the special week of activity marks his second visit.

Karamalis will work with local ministers in their house-to-house educational program and counsel the congregation in its ministerial activities locally. Instructive talks and demonstrations will be featured throughout the week at the local Kingdom Hall.

Sunday afternoon at 3, Karamalis will give a public talk on "Walking Wisely In a Wicked World." The public is invited.

Both Mr. and Mrs Karamalis are graduates of the Watchtower Bible School of Gilead at South Lansing, N. Y., which trains ministers for missionary service in over 175 lands.

'Border' Theme Studied For Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State Fair Manager Rowland Bishop says his staff is looking into the possibility of giving the 1960 fair a "Hands Across The Border" theme.

Particular emphasis would be placed on the St. Lawrence Seaway as an example of Canadian-American cooperation, Bishop said.

However, the fair manager admitted that such an undertaking "usually takes two or three years to get underway."

Bishop made the statement on a forum - type television show here (Columbus Town Meeting, WBNS-TV) Sunday. But his plan for an international theme is opposed by Bryan T. Sandles of Springfield, secretary of the Clark County Fair Board.

Sandles told the TV audience that Ohio has enough resources to make the state the central theme of any state fair. "We should stick to our own scope," he said.

Divorce Court Marked By 'Fainting Client'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Attorney John Holt took 14 women seeking divorce into court and tried to calm their fears.

"It'll all be over in a few moments," he told the group. "Just watch."

Court convened and Holt went into action. He put his first client on the stand, asked her name. and she fainted.

Judo Is Popular

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP) — Two policemen have set up a judo course and find that about half of their students are women. Says one of the patrolmen, Ralph G. Froelich: "Some of them took the course just so they can walk up the street at night without being afraid."

Obedience Should Be Taught Early

If a youngster, three to six, continues misbehaving after you have said stop or no, he hasn't learned the alphabet of obedience. He hasn't learned it for one or all of the following reasons: You may not have been consistent; you may have at one time said no or don't for the same act of his that you had often totally ignored; you may have repeated the forbidding over and over, a little louder and more angrily each time. Then he went on until he thought you were mad enough to punish him or just to intercept him.

By Garry Meyers

WHEN THIS stage was reached you and he were so vexed at each other that you were unfit to punish him and he unfit to profit from punishment.

If you wish him to respect a word of forbidding, don't repeat this word in the same situation. Say it just once in a clear, normal tone. If it's not obeyed promptly, apply effective punishment at once.

Every time you repeat the forbidding word you inform the child that you had not meant it before. If you repeat no or don't ten times before you act, you have lied to him ten times. What liars some parents are!

INSTEAD OF punishing him after he has ignored your oft-repeated forbidding, you may merely intercept him.

For example your tot, four, is tormenting the puppy. After you have told him five or 20 times to stop it, you finally pull him bodily away from the puppy; or pen up the puppy in another room.

In this case your aim was merely to protect the pup and not to teach your child obedience. You were thinking of only this immediate instance, not of future similar ones. Usually this way of doing is even worse than final punishment.

OR, AS you are looking for an article in a drawer and this tot is about to seize something to his liking there, you may say no while you see him reching for the object and running off with it. You chase after him, run him down, wrench it from his hand. He had the fun of taking what he wanted and giving you a "merry chase."

Had this youngster known that you really meant no when you said it, and had heard you say it as quiet information, he would not have taken it in the first place. And why didn't you seize him right when he took the forbidden thing and give him an instant whack where whacks are safe and painful?

WHEN YOU are sure you should say no or don't say it just once in a moderate tone, if you wish your child to learn the alphabet of obedience.

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "To Spank or Not to Spank," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Employe Hurt At Ware Plant

A Wellsville man, hurt at work, was admitted over the weekend to City Hospital, where 5 adults and youngsters were treated after separate mishaps.

Bernard Ference, 37, of 1829 Clark Ave., Wellsville, is in "fair" condition with a possible fracture of the left ankle and abrasions of the right knee received in a fall from machinery at the Sterling China Co. Saturday.

Mrs. Virginia Douglas of Price St. was treated Sunday morning for possible fractures of two fingers of the right hand which became caught in a car door.

In a fall while skating yesterday, Richard Whittington, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Whittington of Calcutta, received a cut of the chin.

Mrs. Beatrice McCormick of Calcutta was treated yesterday morning for a laceration of the right thumb suffered on a can opener.

Walter Parson, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Parson, 1233 Erie St., received a dog bite of the right thigh Saturday.

Scott Burson, 1, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burson, 1065 St. George St., was treated for scalds of the chest suffered when hot coffee spilled on him Saturday.

Eva Marie Saint Shocks Audience With Four Letters

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Eva Marie Saint, the screen's favorite nice girl, shocked the movie colony Sunday night with her use of a four-letter word before a house full of the biggest names in the industry.

The occasion was the annual Screen Producers Guild dinner, one of the year's fanciest turnouts. The men who make the movies were there to honor Jack L. Warner, boss of Warner Bros., who was to receive the annual Milestone Award of the Guild.

Jack Benny was the master of ceremonies and Miss Saint was the first person he introduced. She was to present the Jesse L. Lasky Inter-Collegiate Film Award and Benny explained:

"This girl is so ethereal, so nice, that I could not do justice to presenting her. So I asked my friend, George Jessel, to write me an introduction for Miss Saint."

Benny then proceded with a flowery introduction.

When Miss Saint came to the podium to acknowledge the flowery introduction, she could only mutter:

"Aw — !"

Incentive Termed Vital To Reducing

What factor is of most importance in reducing — will power, diet or incentive? Will power is helpful in any endeavor, but since many people show strength of will in all areas of their lives except with respect to eating, obviously something more than will is needed. On the diet score, nutrition science is applied, best results are accomplished.

By Ida Jean Kain

It is however, the last factor—incentive — that is of first importance. When you are strongly motivated to reduce, you will muster the necessary will power, and look for ways and means by which to reach your goal. It doesn't matter so much what your reason for reducing is, so long as it is important to you.

MANY AN overweight makes up her mind to take action when the encroaching pounds threaten to force her into a still larger size dress. A reducer who signs herself, "A Happy Size 16," writes:

"I recognized the 'ticket collector' in your column as myself and want to report agan. When size 24½ became too small, I made up my mind to take action. Enroute home from shopping, I stepped on a scale — 203 pounds.

'Now, two years later: I weigh 146 pounds, and wear size 16 short —short because I am short-waisted. I still weigh-in once a month on a penny weighing machine. To me, the scales ticket is a teacher handing out marks!

"I have made the grade and I have all these lovely tickets to prove it. I am almost down to 140 pounds which my doctor says is my right weight."

Thank you friend for reporting again, and our heartiest congratulations. Love is the strongest motivating force of all. A young mother reported:

"One day my little boy came home with a black eye and a bloody nose. I found out he had pitched into a bigger boy because he had called me "Fatty!" Well, at 200 pounds, I was fat. The very next day I went to my doctor and started to diet — and for the first time I am succeeding."

—:—

WHILE WILL power and nutrition information are necessary to reducing, they are secondary factors. It takes more than nutrition knowledge to reduce.

"If you ar strongly motivated to lose weight, that is to say, when you have a genuine incentive, then actually carrying on with a diet is no hardship. You are doing what you want to do.

Of course you have to discipline yourself, and that is will power. But the point is, with a strong incentive you are willing.

Fires Kill 20 Across U.S.

By The Associated Press

More than 20 persons, most of them children, perished in fires scattered across the country Sunday.

Six persons, all Negroes, burned to death when flames enveloped a farm house near Manning, S.C. Three other persons were burned, two critically, in that fire. The fire started when gasoline spilled from a can and ran into an open fire. The room, crowded with 20 persons at a social gathering, was quickly enveloped in flames.

At Tompkinsville, Ky., six children of one Negro family were killed when fire swept a home. The parents escaped with one child. An eighth child was away from home.

Four children died in a fire at a Philadelphia home. The parents and one child were saved.

At Dallas, Tex., three children burned to death in a fire that destroyed their home.

A boy, 19, and a girl, 15, were found dead in the burned wreckage of an auto near Hardwick, Vt. Police believed they were overcome by carbon monoxide before an unexplained fire broke out.

Ohio Official To Assist In Policy On Aged Help

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's director of mental hygiene and correction, Dr. Robert A. Haines, is in Baltimore today, trying to help the Federal Social Scurity Administration solve a problem.

It's Bureau of Old - Age and Survivors Insurance is attempting to develop a policy on payment of old age, survivors' and disability insurance benefits to beneficiaries who are patients in mental hospitals. Some states collect such benefits to help offset the cost of caring for the patient.

Haines was invited as a consultant to present the state viewpoint and will be in Baltimore for two days.

DiSalle Will Study Recommendation For New Building

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said today he will pursue a recommendation for a new Industrial Commission building financed, in part, from the Workmen's Compensation Fund reserves.

The new building, to help relieve overcrowding in state offices, was recommended by the Governor's Committee on Reorganization.

DiSalle suggested a pooling of commission and highway funds might permit construction of a larger building that could house both departments. But the governor raised the question of whether Workmen's Compensation Fund reserves could be used for that purpose. He pointed out that attempts to use those funds have been balked on other occasions.

Plaster Repair Starts For Office At City Hall

Plastering of the receptionist's office in City Hall, where a huge chunk of plaster fell from a steel beam last fall, was started today.

H. R. Howard, contractor, said the work is expected to be completed by Tuesday.

Holes are being drilled in the beam so metal lath can be attached to hold the plaster, he explained.

The desks of Mrs. Lillian McKeever, receptionist, and Mrs. Marian Gerace have been moved into the combined office of Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver during the repairs.

A city man was sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after admitting the theft of a 20-cent package of meat from the A. & P. Super-market Saturday night.

Harry Agin of Avondale St. pleaded guilty to the charge filed by Charles Shriver, market manager.

William C. Palmer, 822 Broadway, Wellsville, meat department manager, said Agin first attempted to put a bottle of wine in his coat pocket, but was told to return it and leave the store. About an hour later, Again re-entered, picked up a package of salt pork and put it in his pocket and left, Palmer testified.

Again also was fined $10 and costs on a charge of intoxication.

Lava Lake Overflows; Two Villages Are Hit

HONOLULU (AP) — Bulldozers are raising the dikes which Sunday turned the flow of lava from Kilauea volcano back to its original channel.

The lava-filled lake back of the dikes brimmed over Saturday on the island of Hawaii and destroyed four buildings with the help of falling red-hot cinders the size of softballs.

The villages of Kapoho and Koae, evacuated before the 12-day eruption began, have lost five homes, a church and a community center. Damage is estimated unofficially at four million dollars.

LISBON — Thirty attended the training course for institutional representatives and members of troop committtees of the Boy Scouts Sunday at the Old Stone House at Camp McKinley, according to Kenneth Mugridge, district scout executive. Dr. Sherman Moore of Salem and other instructors presented a varied course. Certificates were presented by Dr. Moore.

Telephone Call Saves Six From Gas Fumes

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —A telephone call was credited with saving a family of six from serious illness and possible death Sunday.

William E. Johnson, 29, awoke feeling ill. He discovered his wife and their four children also had been stricken. Mrs. Johnson, 29, was unconscious.

Johnson staggered to a telephone to call his wife's mother, Mrs. O. E. Godwin. She and her brother-in-law J. B. Godwin, hurried to the Johnson home and managed to get them outside and call firemen and ambulances.

District Fire Chief Ben Dancy said the family became ill on gas fumes due to improper combustion of the fuel in a floor furnace.

Pilot Retrieves Door

SHREWSBURY, Mass. (AP) — A heavy door fell from a U.S. Marine Corps helicopter onto deserted Dean Park Sunday night. Then the pilot landed the craft nearby, retrieved the door, and flew back to the South Weymouth, Mass., Naval Air Station without mishap.

Hays, Gosney File For Delegate Race

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th Ohio District congressman, and Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county party chairman, filed Saturday with the County Election Board as candidates for district delegates to the Democratic National Convention in July in Los Angeles.

Hays and Gosney named Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as their first choice for the presidential nomination, listing George D. Nye of Waverly, former lieutenant governor, as second choice.

At the same time, Maurice Rapport of Thompson Ave. filed for district alternate to the Democratic convention, also naming DiSalle and Nye as his choices for the party's presidential nomination. Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, Jefferson County Democratic chairman, is scheduled to file for the second district alternate seat.

LISBON — Thirty attended the training course for institutional representatives and members of troop committtees of the Boy Scouts Sunday at the Old Stone House at Camp McKinley, according to Kenneth Mugridge, district scout executive. Dr. Sherman Moore of Salem and other instructors presented a varied course. Certificates were presented by Dr. Moore.

Telephone Call Saves Six From Gas Fumes

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —A telephone call was credited with saving a family of six from serious illness and possible death Sunday.

William E. Johnson, 29, awoke feeling ill. He discovered his wife and their four children also had been stricken. Mrs. Johnson, 29, was unconscious.

Johnson staggered to a telephone to call his wife's mother, Mrs. O. E. Godwin. She and her brother-in-law J. B. Godwin, hurried to the Johnson home and managed to get them outside and call firemen and ambulances.

District Fire Chief Ben Dancy said the family became ill on gas fumes due to improper combustion of the fuel in a floor furnace.

Pilot Retrieves Door

SHREWSBURY, Mass. (AP) — A heavy door fell from a U.S. Marine Corps helicopter onto deserted Dean Park Sunday night. Then the pilot landed the craft nearby, retrieved the door, and flew back to the South Weymouth, Mass., Naval Air Station without mishap.

Hays, Gosney File For Delegate Race

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th Ohio District congressman, and Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county party chairman, filed Saturday with the County Election Board as candidates for district delegates to the Democratic National Convention in July in Los Angeles.

Hays and Gosney named Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as their first choice for the presidential nomination, listing George D. Nye of Waverly, former lieutenant governor, as second choice.

At the same time, Maurice Rapport of Thompson Ave. filed for district alternate to the Democratic convention, also naming DiSalle and Nye as his choices for the party's presidential nomination. Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, Jefferson County Democratic chairman, is scheduled to file for the second district alternate seat.

New Tom Thumb Motor To Help Explore Space

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A new Tom Thumb rocket motor looks good for vital tasks in exploring space, a physicist said today.

This midget motor is no bigger than a man's thumb.

It works by shooting out electrified atoms and electrons at speeds of 22,000 miles an hour. This produces thrust, just as does the exhaust of chemical fuels to thrust up rockets.

The tiny engine is not strong enough to propel a rocket or satellite as its main energy.

But it could produce sidewise, forward or backward thrust to control the position and directioning of a satellite in space, said Dr. W. H. Bostick of Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N.J.

Such controls can be important in keeipng a weather-watcher or communications satellite in a precise orbit around the earth, or making it drop down lower, or fly up higher, to intercept a space ship, or refueling, or rescue missions. Or to keep a photographic eye pointing at the moon or distant stars for pictures.

Bostick and associates developed a laboratory model of the midget motor just last month. He described it today at opening sessions of the annual meeting of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences.

The midget is a plasma rocket motor, he explained.

Electrical energy vaporizes the tip of a wire in the motor. Off come positively charged atoms (ions) and electrons, which fly out of the engine, producing thrust.

This engine can develop 41 per cent efficiency for the electrical energy consumed, Bostick said. The energy is created in pulses. More wire can be thrust up as the tip is consumed.

In some respects, the plasma motor is simpler and lighter in weight than ion rocket engines, which produce thrust only from positively charged ions, the physicist said.

Playlet Presented For PTA Session

The COM Class of the Bethel Presbyterian Church provided the program at a meeting of the No. 16 School Parent-Teacher Association Friday night.

It presented a comedy, "Henry's Mail Order Wife." The Rev. William A. Hewitt of the Central Methodist Church led devotions, using as the topic, "Good Sportsmanship." He read II Timothy 2:5.

Mrs. Freda Schubert, principal, announced a school board meeting Feb. 15, when a film will be shown. It will be open to residents of the community. The room count was won by Mrs. Martha Serafy's second and third grades.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Charles Morgan and Mrs. Esther Boyd and their committee.

A panel discussion and special music by the parents' chorus will highlight the Feb. 26 meeting. Devotions will be conducted by the Rev. Joseph Varner of the Highlandtown Methodist Church.

'Missile Gap' Fears Hit By Air Secretary

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Will the Soviet Union have more ready-to-go missiles than the United States in any period through 1963?

"They might. I think it is doubtful, but they might. But in no way will we have an over-all deterrent gap," says Secretary of the Air Force Dudley C. Sharp.

Over-all deterrent strength is the important point, Sharp said Sunday in a television interview.

"It isn't whether they have a few more missiles than we have. The important thing is that our total over-all posture is such that they wouldn't dare attack without receiving such a formidable attack themselves that they would never want to do it," he added.

How big might the missile gap be?

If there is one, Sharp said, it will be smaller than the 3-1 superiority which former Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy said a year ago the Soviets might move to in in long-range missile superiority. Sharp declined to give a more specific estimate.

The Pentagon's view that there is no deterrent gap got support Sunday from Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass). He said in a radio interview "I do not agree that there is this great missile gap."

Saltonstall, senior Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said "we are ahead of the Russians in the general opinion on certain parts of the missile problem. They are ahead of us in the question of thrust."

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) Senate Democratic leader, mentioned what he called "the missile gap" in strongly criticizing Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr.

Johnson was out of town last week when Gates said on Capitol Hill that prior U.S. intelligence estimates of Soviet missiles and military power had been revised downward. Gates said this was done by basing estimates on "what the Soviet Union probably would do, as opposed to former estimates which were made on what they were capable of doing."

Johnson issued a weekend statement saying Gates had adopted a dangerous new method for estimating Soviet might.

2 Cub Scout Units Tour Pittsburgh Planetarium

Dens from Cub Pack 60 of St. Ann Catholic Church and Cub Pack 36 of Longs Run Presbyterian Church visited Buhl Planetarium at Pittsburgh Saturday afternoon as part of the Cub Scout theme for January, "Cub Scout Scientists."

January also is "Astronomy Month" for Scouts at the planetarium, featuring "Stars of the 50 States" as well as the ninth annual geography show, Hall of the Universe and 50 other science exhibits.

The boys were under the supervision of Don Ramsey, cubmaster of Pack 60; Mrs. Marie Means and Mrs. Dorothy McDevitt, den mothers of Pack 60; Henry Means, Mrs. Evelyn Copestick. den mother of Pack 36, and Mrs. Idella Gooding, assistant den mother of Pack 36. Don Lyle is cubmaster of Pack 36.

Lisbon Council To Act On Truck Regulations

LISBON — Third reading of an ordinance limiting truck travel to some streets and a resolution for right - of - way for sewers over properties in Grandview and Smith Additions face Village Council tonight at 7:30, according to Mayor Dean Stockman

This will be the new Council's second meeting of the year and it is not known if a successor will be appointed for W. J. Loudon, the only Democrat, who resigned due to ill health. Council has 30 days in which to fill the vacancy, otherwise it becomes the duty of the mayor.

Fremont Boy Wins Contest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A $200 prize and a four - year college scholarship were the possessions of Nick Baskey today after the Fremont boy was declared winner of the Prince of Peace Declamation Contest.

The contest finals, held Sunday night at Veterans Memorial Auditorium here, highlighted the opening session of the Ohio Pastors' Convention.

The six finalists, survivors from more than 3,000 Ohio youths, each gave a memorized speech of about 15 minutes in length before a panel of five judges.

Baskey spoke on "It's Almost Tomorrow."

Second place went to Sandye Atkins of Lancaster. Her speech, "War and Peace," won for her $100 and a three-year scholarship.

In third place was Mary Hall of Cleveland, who won $75 and a two-year scholarship. Her topic was "Peace, an Individual Affair."

The next three finalists each won $50.

They were Douglas Lathrem of Dayton, fourth; Grace Ann Hickey Rt. 1, St. Louisville (Licking County), fifth, and Sue Day of Toledo, sixth.

The 26 district winners in this 35th annual speech contest will be given a free trip to the United Nations in New York, along with the three top winners in the Prince of Peace essay contest, who were announced earlier.

Architect Dies At 93

CLEVELAND (AP)—William H. Nicklas, 93, who designed church buildings in 23 states and six Canadian provinces and was architect for several Cleveland Public Library branches, died Saturday at his home in Shaker Heights. He was a teacher and principal at New Philadelphia High School before coming to Cleveland in 1897.

Injuries Prove Fatal

CINCINNATI (AP) — Injuries sustained when the car in which he was riding collided head - on with a truck New Year's Eve in eastern Hamilton County caused the death Sunday of John T. Rhoades, 58, of Cincinnati.

Legal Tangle Marks Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A legal wrangle begins today in the Finch murder trial on the issue of whether pretty Carole Tregoff was trapped into incriminating herself.

The red-haired ex-model and her lover, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, are accused of plotting and killing his estranged wife.

As the trial enters its fourth week, the defense seeks to block introduction of Finch's preliminary hearing transcript. Attorneys claim Miss Tregoff, 23, testified without a prosecution warning of possible self-incrimination.

Miss Tregoff, who broke down during the hearing after admitting intimacies with the doctor, was arrested as she stepped from the witness stand. The prosecution said there were discrepancies in her testimony.

The state contends Finch and his young paramour ambushed Barbara Jean Finch, 36, when the brunette socialite returned to the Finch estate in suburban West Covina, July 18.

Her body, shot once in the back, was found sprawled on a lawn. Finch was arrested the next morning at what the prosecution describes as the love nest he shared with Miss Tregoff, his one-time secretary, in Las Vegas, Nev.

Retired Editor Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Stanley A. Knisely, city editor of the old Canton Daily News in World War I days, died Sunday in South Egremont, Mass. He lived there since retiring several years ago. He came to Cleveland from Canton in 1917 and was a newsman on the Cleveland Plain Dealer until 1921 when he became promotion manager for the National Paving Brick Assn. of Cleveland.

Jaunting cars are found in Ireland.

Shotgun Blast Strikes Man Sitting In His Car

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) — Leroy Larkin, 35, was wounded by a shotgun blast Sunday as he sat in his car on a farm in Greene County.

Police said the shot was fired by Mrs. Suzan Carpenter on whose land Larkin lived in a trailer. The Carpenter farm is about 20 miles from Waynesburg.

Mrs. Carpenter was quoted by police as saying she fired at a rabbit and accidentally hit Larkin. He was reported in fair condition at Greene County Memorial Hospital.

New Tom Thumb Motor To Help Explore Space

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A new Tom Thumb rocket motor looks good for vital tasks in exploring space, a physicist said today.

This midget motor is no bigger than a man's thumb.

It works by shooting out electrified atoms and electrons at speeds of 22,000 miles an hour. This produces thrust, just as does the exhaust of chemical fuels to thrust up rockets.

The tiny engine is not strong enough to propel a rocket or satellite as its main energy.

But it could produce sidewise, forward or backward thrust to control the position and directioning of a satellite in space, said Dr. W. H. Bostick of Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N.J.

Such controls can be important in keeipng a weather-watcher or communications satellite in a precise orbit around the earth, or making it drop down lower, or fly up higher, to intercept a space ship, or refueling, or rescue missions. Or to keep a photographic eye pointing at the moon or distant stars for pictures.

Bostick and associates developed a laboratory model of the midget motor just last month. He described it today at opening sessions of the annual meeting of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences.

The midget is a plasma rocket motor, he explained.

Electrical energy vaporizes the tip of a wire in the motor. Off come positively charged atoms (ions) and electrons, which fly out of the engine, producing thrust.

This engine can develop 41 per cent efficiency for the electrical energy consumed, Bostick said. The energy is created in pulses. More wire can be thrust up as the tip is consumed.

In some respects, the plasma motor is simpler and lighter in weight than ion rocket engines, which produce thrust only from positively charged ions, the physicist said.

Playlet Presented For PTA Session

The COM Class of the Bethel Presbyterian Church provided the program at a meeting of the No. 16 School Parent-Teacher Association Friday night.

It presented a comedy, "Henry's Mail Order Wife." The Rev. William A. Hewitt of the Central Methodist Church led devotions, using as the topic, "Good Sportsmanship." He read II Timothy 2:5.

Mrs. Freda Schubert, principal, announced a school board meeting Feb. 15, when a film will be shown. It will be open to residents of the community. The room count was won by Mrs. Martha Serafy's second and third grades.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Charles Morgan and Mrs. Esther Boyd and their committee.

A panel discussion and special music by the parents' chorus will highlight the Feb. 26 meeting. Devotions will be conducted by the Rev. Joseph Varner of the Highlandtown Methodist Church.

'Missile Gap' Fears Hit By Air Secretary

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Will the Soviet Union have more ready-to-go missiles than the United States in any period through 1963?

"They might. I think it is doubtful, but they might. But in no way will we have an over-all deterrent gap," says Secretary of the Air Force Dudley C. Sharp.

Over-all deterrent strength is the important point, Sharp said Sunday in a television interview.

"It isn't whether they have a few more missiles than we have. The important thing is that our total over-all posture is such that they wouldn't dare attack without receiving such a formidable attack themselves that they would never want to do it," he added.

How big might the missile gap be?

If there is one, Sharp said, it will be smaller than the 3-1 superiority which former Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy said a year ago the Soviets might move to in in long-range missile superiority. Sharp declined to give a more specific estimate.

The Pentagon's view that there is no deterrent gap got support Sunday from Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass). He said in a radio interview "I do not agree that there is this great missile gap."

Saltonstall, senior Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said "we are ahead of the Russians in the general opinion on certain parts of the missile problem. They are ahead of us in the question of thrust."

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) Senate Democratic leader, mentioned what he called "the missile gap" in strongly criticizing Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr.

Johnson was out of town last week when Gates said on Capitol Hill that prior U.S. intelligence estimates of Soviet missiles and military power had been revised downward. Gates said this was done by basing estimates on "what the Soviet Union probably would do, as opposed to former estimates which were made on what they were capable of doing."

Johnson issued a weekend statement saying Gates had adopted a dangerous new method for estimating Soviet might.

2 Cub Scout Units Tour Pittsburgh Planetarium

Dens from Cub Pack 60 of St. Ann Catholic Church and Cub Pack 36 of Longs Run Presbyterian Church visited Buhl Planetarium at Pittsburgh Saturday afternoon as part of the Cub Scout theme for January, "Cub Scout Scientists."

January also is "Astronomy Month" for Scouts at the planetarium, featuring "Stars of the 50 States" as well as the ninth annual geography show, Hall of the Universe and 50 other science exhibits.

The boys were under the supervision of Don Ramsey, cubmaster of Pack 60; Mrs. Marie Means and Mrs. Dorothy McDevitt, den mothers of Pack 60; Henry Means, Mrs. Evelyn Copestick, den mother of Pack 36, and Mrs. Idella Gooding, assistant den mother of Pack 36. Don Lyle is cubmaster of Pack 36.

Lisbon Council To Act On Truck Regulations

LISBON — Third reading of an ordinance limiting truck travel to some streets and a resolution for right - of - way for sewers over properties in Grandview and Smith Additions face Village Council tonight at 7:30, according to Mayor Dean Stockman

This will be the new Council's second meeting of the year and it is not known if a successor will be appointed for W. J. Loudon, the only Democrat, who resigned due to ill health. Council has 30 days in which to fill the vacancy, otherwise it becomes the duty of the mayor.

Fremont Boy Wins Contest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A $200 prize and a four - year college scholarship were the possessions of Nick Baskey today after the Fremont boy was declared winner of the Prince of Peace Declamation Contest.

The contest finals, held Sunday night at Veterans Memorial Auditorium here, highlighted the opening session of the Ohio Pastors' Convention.

The six finalists, survivors from more than 3,000 Ohio youths, each gave a memorized speech of about 15 minutes in length before a panel of five judges.

Baskey spoke on "It's Almost Tomorrow."

Second place went to Sandye Atkins of Lancaster. Her speech, "War and Peace," won for her $100 and a three-year scholarship.

In third place was Mary Hall of Cleveland, who won $75 and a two-year scholarship. Her topic was "Peace, an Individual Affair."

The next three finalists each won $50.

They were Douglas Lathrem of Dayton, fourth; Grace Ann Hickey Rt. 1, St. Louisville (Licking County), fifth, and Sue Day of Toledo, sixth.

The 26 district winners in this 35th annual speech contest will be given a free trip to the United Nations in New York, along with the three top winners in the Prince of Peace essay contest, who were announced earlier.

Architect Dies At 93

CLEVELAND (AP)—William H. Nicklas, 93, who designed church buildings in 23 states and six Canadian provinces and was architect for several Cleveland Public Library branches, died Saturday at his home in Shaker Heights. He was a teacher and principal at New Philadelphia High School before coming to Cleveland in 1897.

Injuries Prove Fatal

CINCINNATI (AP) — Injuries sustained when the car in which he was riding collided head - on with a truck New Year's Eve in eastern Hamilton County caused the death Sunday of John T. Rhoades, 58, of Cincinnati.

Legal Tangle Marks Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A legal wrangle begins today in the Finch murder trial on the issue of whether pretty Carole Tregoff was trapped into incriminating herself.

The red-haired ex-model and her lover, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, are accused of plotting and killing his estranged wife.

As the trial enters its fourth week, the defense seeks to block introduction of Finch's preliminary hearing transcript. Attorneys claim Miss Tregoff, 23, testified without a prosecution warning of possible self-incrimination.

Miss Tregoff, who broke down during the hearing after admitting intimacies with the doctor, was arrested as she stepped from the witness stand. The prosecution said there were discrepancies in her testimony.

The state contends Finch and his young paramour ambushed Barbara Jean Finch, 36, when the brunette socialite returned to the Finch estate in suburban West Covina, July 18.

Her body, shot once in the back, was found sprawled on a lawn. Finch was arrested the next morning at what the prosecution describes as the love nest he shared with Miss Tregoff, his one-time secretary, in Las Vegas, Nev.

Retired Editor Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Stanley A. Knisely, city editor of the old Canton Daily News in World War I days, died Sunday in South Egremont, Mass. He lived there since retiring several years ago. He came to Cleveland from Canton in 1917 and was a newsman on the Cleveland Plain Dealer until 1921 when he became promotion manager for the National Paving Brick Assn. of Cleveland.

Jaunting cars are found in Ireland.

Shotgun Blast Strikes Man Sitting In His Car

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) — Leroy Larkin, 35, was wounded by a shotgun blast Sunday as he sat in his car on a farm in Greene County.

Police said the shot was fired by Mrs. Suzan Carpenter on whose land Larkin lived in a trailer. The Carpenter farm is about 20 miles from Waynesburg.

Mrs. Carpenter was quoted by police as saying she fired at a rabbit and accidentally hit Larkin. He was reported in fair condition at Greene County Memorial Hospital.

Way Seen Cleared To Realign West Virginia Judicial Areas

If the Bar Associations of Hancock, Brook and Ohio Counties want the First Judicial District divided from the present three-county setup into one district for Hancock and Brooke Counties and another for Ohio County, they can be accomodated at this session of the State Legislature.

Sen. Herbert Traubert (D-Brooke) said today that legal opinions received over the weekend declared a judicial re-districting is permitted at the current budget session.

Only one re-districting proposal is listed specifically in the governor's proclamation for this budget session, that being for Putnam and Mason Counties. However, Sen. Traubert said any other re-districting proposals can be submitted as amendments to the Putnam-Mason bills.

So far, Judges J. Harold Brennan (R) and Judge J. J. P. O'Brien, (D), both of Wheeling, have filed for re-election for eight-year judgeships in the First Judicial District. No other candidates have filed.

The deadline for filing for candidates is Feb. 6 but Sen. Traubert said the deadline could be extended if the Hancock, Brooke and Ohio re-districting bill were to be enacted.

"I will support a proposal for a separate Hancock, Brooke and Ohio Judicial District at this term," he said, "if the bar associations of the three counties want it. This is logical and practically the only solution for the Northern Panhandle Court re-districting."

The passage of such a bill at this session would limit Judge Brennan and Judge O'Brien to Ohio County, as they reside in Wheeling. It also would be necessary for Hancock and Brooke attorneys to file for the judgeship in the proposed new Hancock - Brooke district.

The Bar Association of Hancock and Ohio Counties has endorsed both judges for re-election, but Brooke county has refused to go along.

Democrats Form New County Unit

LISBON — Lew Sowards of East Liverpool R. D. was elected president of the newly - organized Central Columbiana County Democratic Club at a meeting Saturday night with Samuel Sowards of W. Lincoln Way.

Milton Adkins was named vice president; Rex Teagarden, recording secretary; Walter Zeitler, treasurer, and George Batcha, Raymond Dille, Clay Poynter, Steve Barborak and Wilbur Dorsey, trustees.

The club will include members from Lisbon, Clarkson, West Point, Salineville, Rogers and Signal areas. Anyone interested may attend the next meeting Feb. 13 at 7 p. m. at the Village Hall.

John Kelly presided until officers were elected.

9 Policemen Are Slain By Angry African Mob

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Nine policemen were herded into a native hut and beaten to death by an enraged African mob Sunday night.

Police reinforcements, rushed to the clash scene in suburban Cato Manor, managed to restore an uneasy peace. Armed patrols roamed the area.

First word of trouble came when a radio operator at Cato Manor police station received a message saying: "Oh God, they are stoning us. Come and help us."

A strong police detachment was rushed to the area as thousands of residents in the town barricaded themselves in their homes. At the scene they found nine police battered to death and one severely injured.

An unofficial account said police had gone into the suburb to investigate the murder of an African.

Innocent, Officer Says In Alleged Burglaries

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—City Patrolman Charles B. Miller, suspended following his arrest in seven breakings and enterings, claims he is innocent. He also criticizes the way he was taken into custody.

Mayor Robert O. Ellis, meanwhile, says all the details in the case have not been made available to city council or his office and he asks that they be brought out into the open.

Miller, 41, a policeman almost 14 years, was called into headquarters Saturday while on duty and arrested by Police Chief Herman Frazier and two other officers.

Lewis Moreland, 31, who resigned last March to become a furniture salesman after seven years on the police force, was arrested a short time earlier at his home.

Frazier said Miller and Moreland were charged with furnishing protection to two other men during alleged burglaries last February and March. The police chief said cash and merchandise totalings $5,300 were taken.

Sea Island cotton, the "aristocrat of cotton fibers," is grown almost exclusively in the British West Indies and Puerto Rico, and in very small quantities.

Midland Plant Pact Expiring

A contract extension agreement of the Treadwell Construction Co. at Midland and Local 1274, United Steelworkers, ends Tuesday and the company has refused to agree to another extension, Joe Krivan of Aliquippa. union staff representative, said.

Though the union has not said it will strike, the possibility exists, Krivan said. He said he spoke to company officials today and asked for an extension, which was refused. No further talks have been set.

The company at times employs about 200. Dale Kibble of East Liverpool is local president. Employes returned to work Nov. 13 after a strike that began June 30.

Talks with Local 4999 and Guy Gengarella & Sons of Midland, a hauling firm, were scheduled today at 1 p. m. Talks between Mackintosh-Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. and Local 1269 were held Thursday and new talks may be held this week or next, Krivan said.

Talks between the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. of East Liverpool and Local 1322 may be held this week or next following the return of Daniel Richman, company president, who has been out of town about a week, the company said.

Talks with Midland Borough and Local 5059, borough employes' local, will not be held until after the borough's budget is made known, Krivan said.

County Tax Collection Tops $2 Million Mark

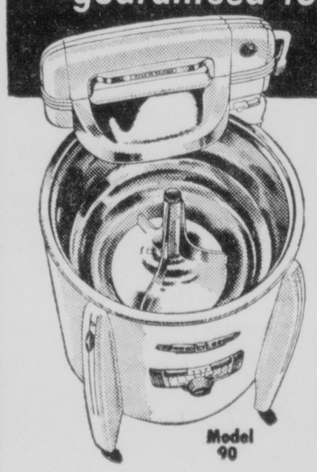

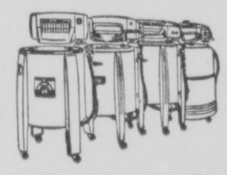

LISBON — Approximately $2,047,815 has been collected as of Jan. 19 on real estate taxes for the first half of 1959 and payable by Jan. 20, according to County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge.

Estimated first half total taxes to be paid were listed at $2,432,168, or $4,864,336 for the full year. Mail payments for Jan. 20-22 postmarked before Jan. 20 still must be processed, Judge said.

BIG EYE for OUTER SPACE

The making of a mirror for one of those giant telescopes that probes millions of light years into space is a job that has few equals for long labor and precision.

A new member of the family of famed observatory mirrors is the 84-inch telescope mirror blank that has just been completed at the Corning Glass Works at Corning, N.Y. It will be installed at the new Kitt Peak Observatory near Tucson, Arizona. The 4,000-pound disk, though not the world's largest, is the biggest glass blank ever produced by placing solid chunks of glass on the mold and sagging them into a single piece under intense heat.

Nine pieces of glass —one weighing 2,976 pounds —were melted down to form the disk. This was started in January, 1959. The completed blank is 13 inches thick and has a center hole 26 inches in diameter.

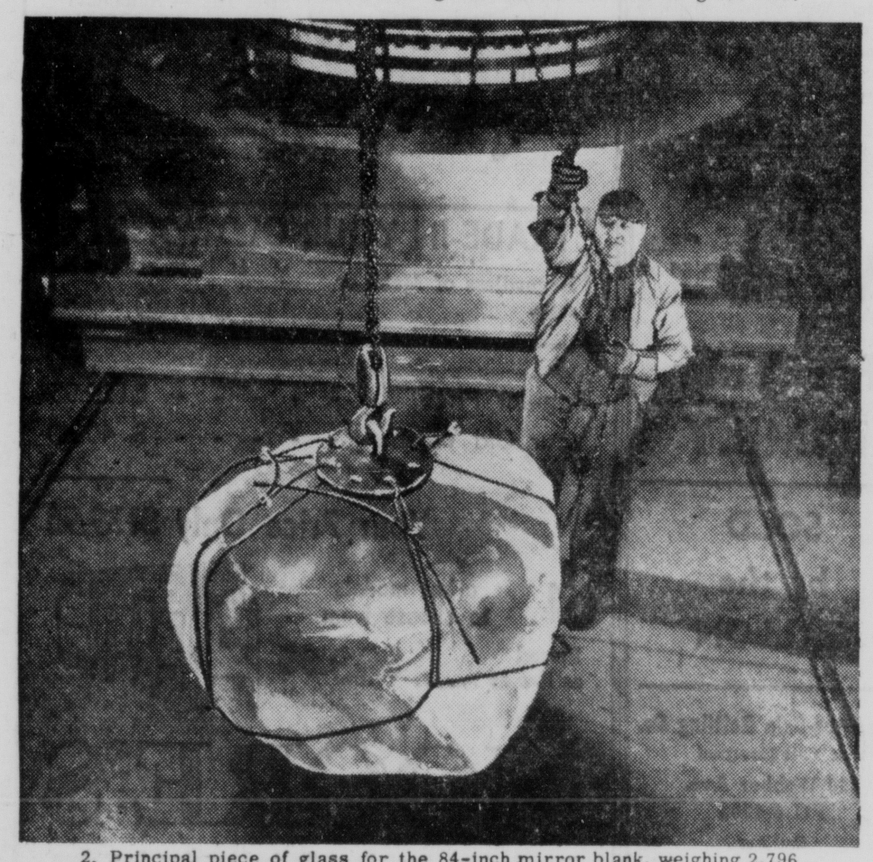

For seven months this huge piece of glass lay sealed in an annealing oven for controlled cooling following melt-down. Controlled cooling was necessary to eliminate stress in the glass.

But more work lies ahead. The disk has now been shipped to Tucson where a special optical shop has been set up for grinding and polishing the huge mirror. The job is expected to take 24 months. The final precision finishing, involving removal of a few millionths of an inch of glass, will be done after the mirror has been installed in the telescope and fixed on a star. This work is expected to take another year.

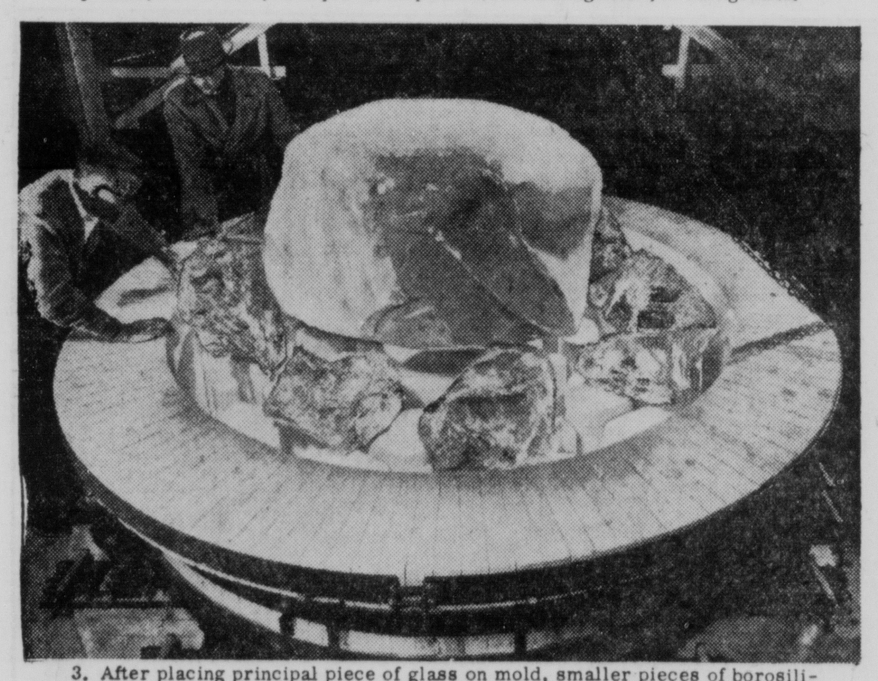

The long process of making the huge mirror blank at Corning is pictured here.

1. Prior to casting the mirror blank, craftsmen set in place the ceramic cores which provide a ribbed design on the back face of the glass disk.

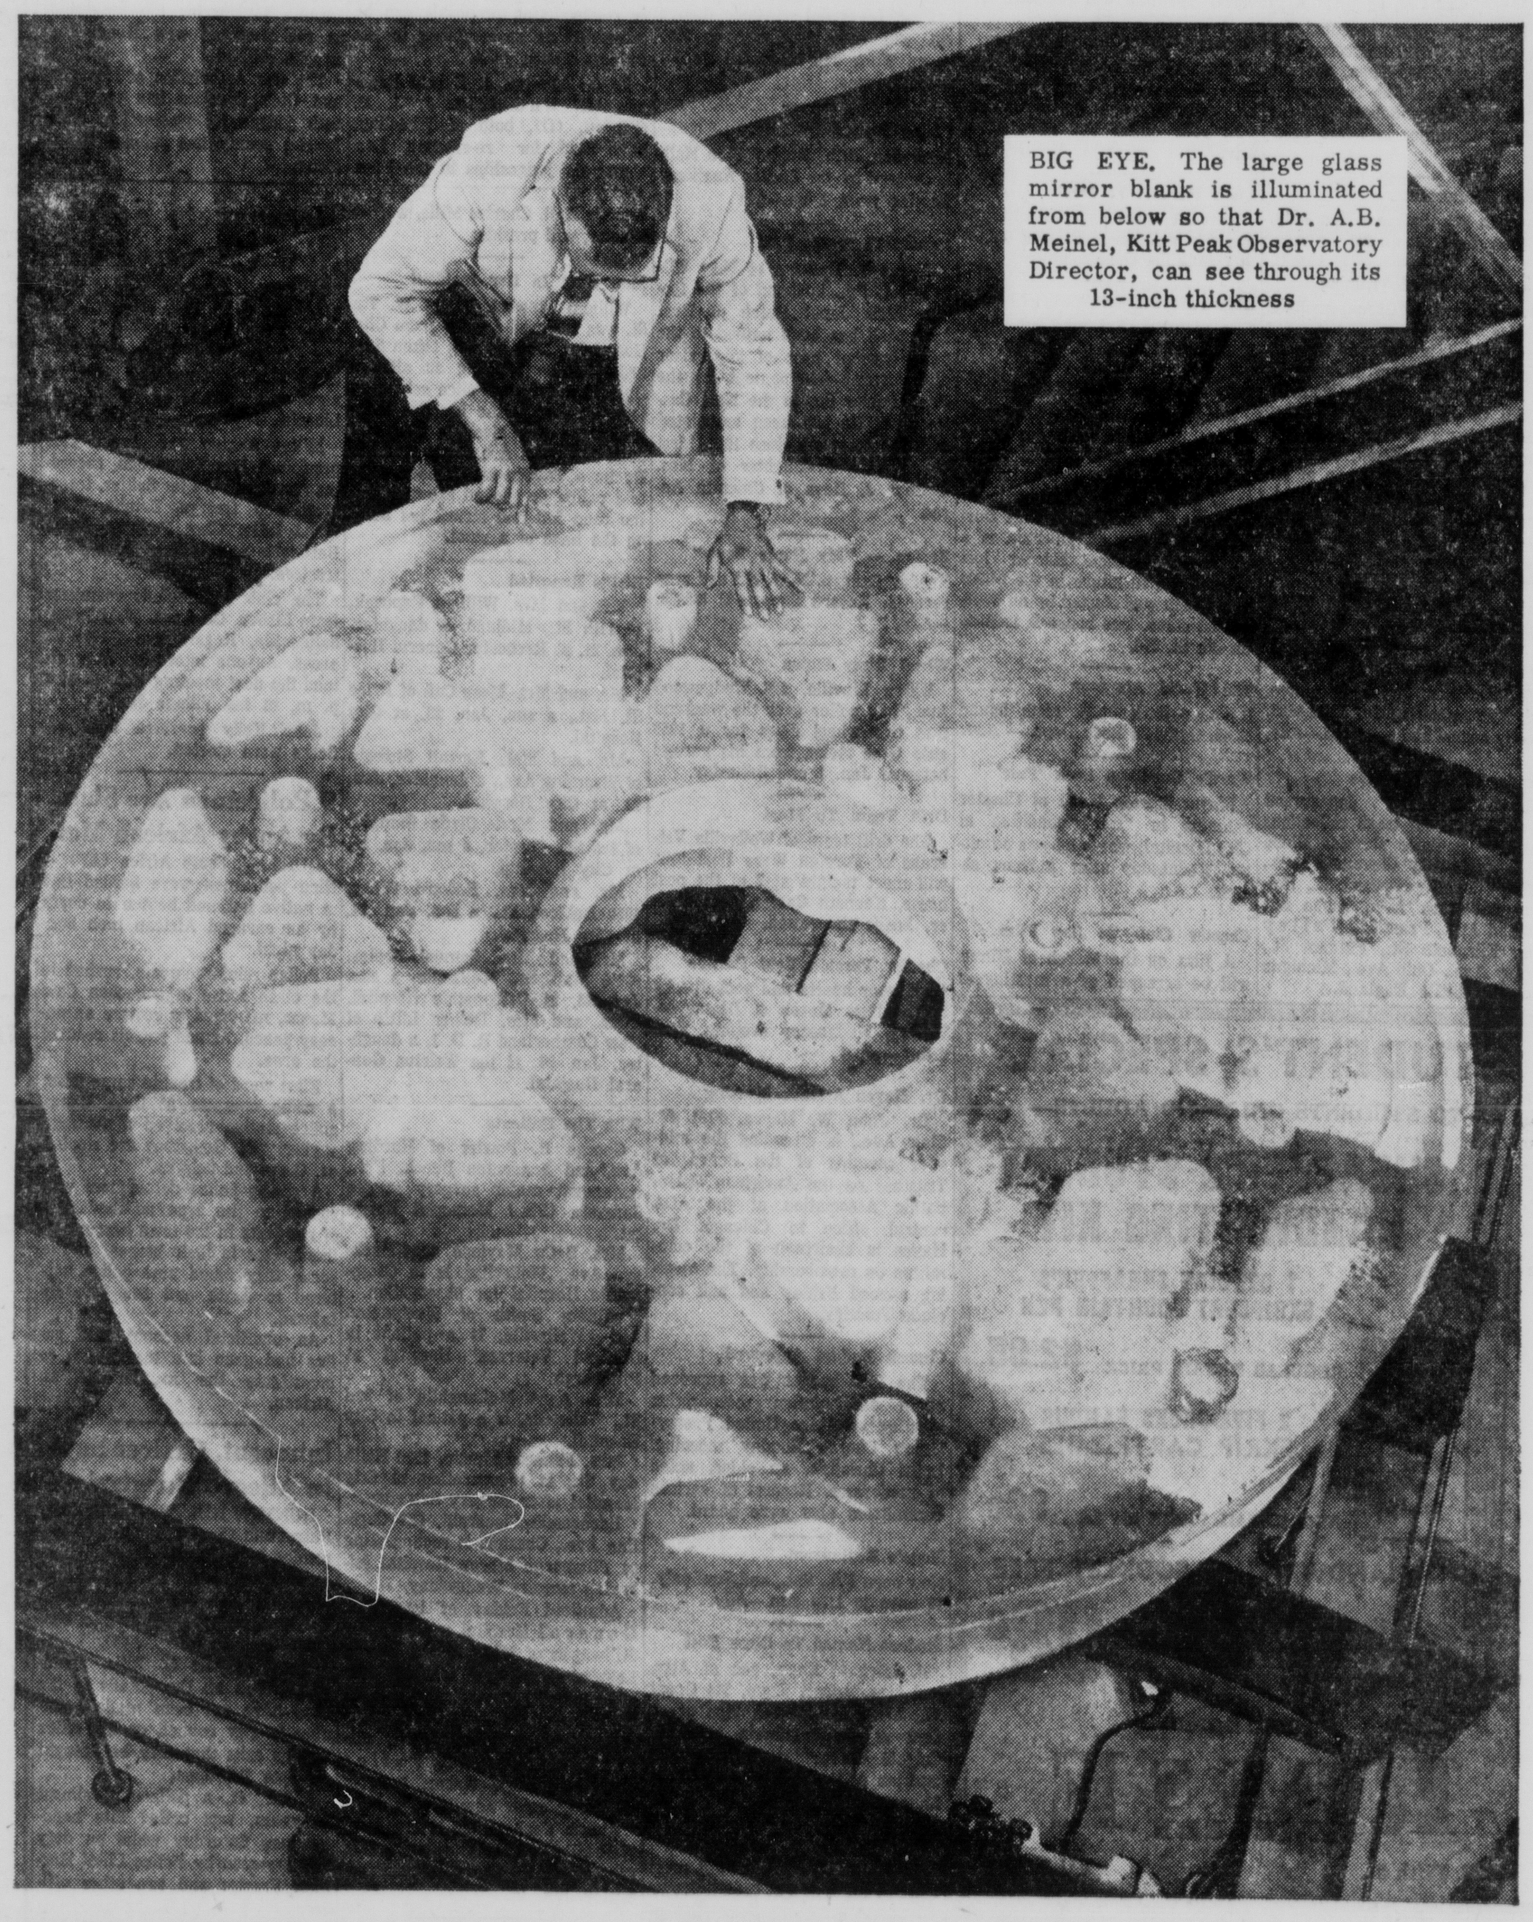

2. Principal piece of glass for the 84-inch mirror blank, weighing 2,796 pounds, is hoisted, then placed atop mold of insulating brick, in background.

3. After placing principal piece of glass on mold, smaller pieces of borosilicate glass are placed evenly around giant chunk. Total weight: 4,000 pounds.

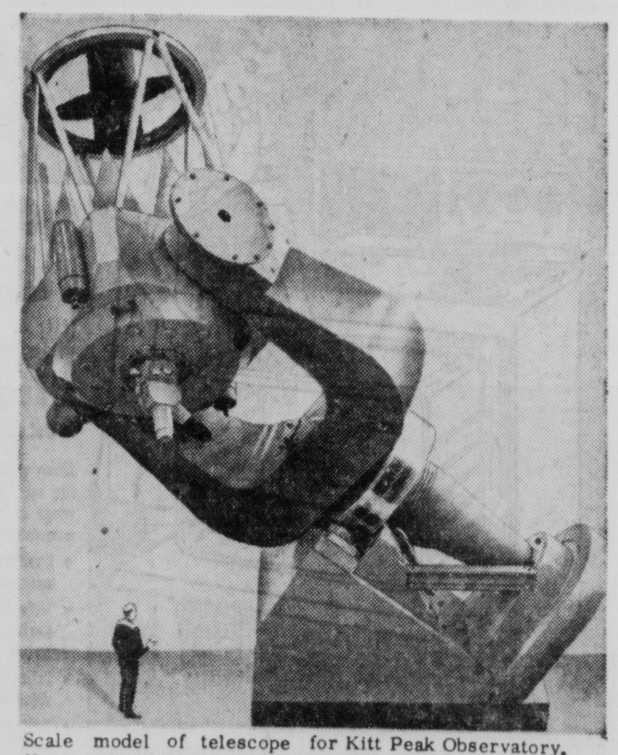

4. Mold is then raised into specially constructed melting furnace where glass chunks are melted down at temperatures reaching 2300 degrees Fahrenheit.

BIG EYE. The large glass mirror blank is illuminated from below so that Dr. A.B. Meinel, Kitt Peak Observatory Director, can see through its 13-inch thickness

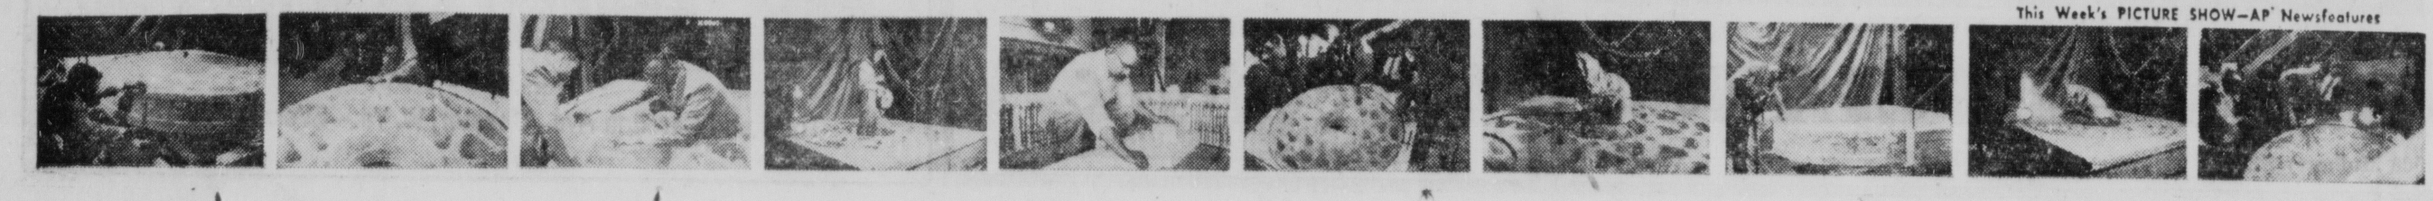

5. Cooling of disk lasted seven months. Engineers examine it before removal starts. Regulated cool-down prevents breakage and eliminates internal stress in glass.

Scale model of telescope for Kitt Peak Observatory. Heart of telescope will be the 84-inch glass disk.

Modern Kitchens Play Key Role In Sale Of A House

AP Newsfeatures

The prospective buyer of a new house generally sets out with a lot of ideas on the features he wants in the future home.

Unless his capital is unlimited, he is forced to compromise between everything he wants and what he can afford.

He selects House A over House B because it is closer to schools and shopping, even though it doesn't have the fireplace he had counted on. He chooses House C over House D because it has two bathrooms, even though it lacks the large dining room he had hoped for.

And so it goes. Fortunately, not everybody places the same importance on the same things. If they did, all houses would be pretty much alike — and those that didn't conform to the pattern would be extremely difficult to sell.

ANOTHER interesting point: there are trends in what people consider important in a house, trends that change with the times.

In this new year of 1960, there appears to be a definite trend toward highly-modernized kitchens. The National Association of Real Estate Boards made this discovery in a check with realtors in 250 communities throughout the country. The realtors listed the physical characteristics considered most important by present - day buyers.

A modern kitchen, featuring built-in equipment, led the list. It was described as a strong positive influence by 77 per cent of the brokers and as a moderate influence by 23 per cent.

If the realtors know their market, and they certainly should, then the presence of a modern kitchen will play the most vital role in the sale of new houses this year.

—:—

SINCE IT IS the lady of the house who spends a considerable part of her time in the kitchen, this demonstrates — again — that the opinions of the distaff side of the family are all - important.

The man may look at the construction, and sometimes pretend that he is a judge of quality workmanship, but it's the woman who usually makes the final selection.

Remember when giant kitchens were the rule in homes? That was when the kitchen was the core of the house. Then kitchens began to get smaller and smaller, until some of them were nothing more or less than work areas. But the women decided they had enough of postage - stamp kitchens, and said so.

Today, most kitchens are large enough to move around in, although still a far cry from the hugh rooms of yesteryear. But more important, built-in equipment has conquered the problem of space.

DiSalle Urges Seniors To Join Mental Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he will contact by letter more than 1,000 seniors in universities and colleges throughout the country, inviting them to work in Ohio mental institutions.

He started sending out the letters this week, seeking to relieve the shortage in professional help at Ohio's mental institutions. The students are majoring in medicine, nursing, psychiatry, social work and therapy.

Sales Step Taken

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—The Armco Division of Armco Steel Corp. has set up three new product departments in a move aimed at streamlining sales, the firm announced today. The new divisions are for carbon steel products, headed by J. G. Wikoff; magnetic steel with William Jones as manager, and stainless steel headed by J. P. Butterfield.

Lions Official Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawrence B. Slater, 58, who helped organize more than 500 Lions International civic clubs in the United States, died Sunday. Slater, who was field director for the Lions clubs from 1928-48, was secretary of Rep. Charles M. Teague (R-Calif.) at the time of his death. He was born in Esmond, N.D.

Foreign Steel Prices Down

CLEVELAND (AP) — Foreign steel prices are being cut as overseas producers try to keep the American accounts they picked up during the 116-day strike by steelworkers last year, Steel magazine reported today.

The metalworking weekly said steelmakers in western Europe have reduced their price on hot rolled sheets by $40 a ton while cold rolled and galvanized sheets have been reduced $26 a ton.

Meanwhile, the magazine reported that shipments of finished steel from mills in this country are running 25 per cent ahead of consumption as users rebuild their strike - depleted inventories at a rapid rate. Shipments this month are expected to total 8.5 million tons with consumption estimated at 6.8 million tons.

Steel said consumption in March may jump to 7.4 million tons as automobile manufacturers strive to reach their first quarter production goals and weather stimulates construction activity.

"Demand for sheets and tin plate is nearly as strong as it was before the strike settlement," the publication said. "Users expect a tight market through June, but they are concentrating on getting first quarter deliveries. Automakers are still pressing for all the sheets they can get."

Steel mill operations were steady at 95.5 per cent of rated capacity last week. Production was estimated at 2,271,000 ingot tons.

District operating rates included: Cleveland 99 per cent, up 2 points from the previous week; Youngstown 99 per cent, no change; Pittsburgh 97 per cent, up one-half point, and Wheeling 92 per cent, down 3 points.

Steel's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting steel scrap climbed another 66 cents to $42.33 a gross ton.

This Home Offers Leisure, Safety

LAKE MOHAWK, N. J. (AP) — Dr. Francis R. Russell is a chemical engineer who likes islands, pistol shooting, water tobagganing, shuffle board, model railroading and photography.

He dislikes bombs.

Natural, then, that Russell should build a pleasure dome of an island in Lake Mohawk that provides for all the diversions he likes.

It also contains a subterranean bomb shelter.

Russell designed the structure himself.

And he's made the bomb shelter so that he can use it as a den if he doesn't get bombed.

His wife Janet likes to sew. Therefore, he's provided her with a sewing room.

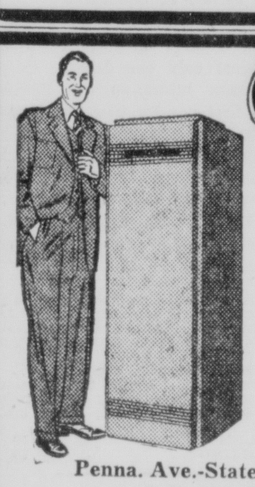

Both like music. The hi-fi variety can be piped anywhere in the structure.

Russell designed the house so he'd never have to paint it. Outside are asbestos shingles. Inside the walls are covered with linoleum and fabric.

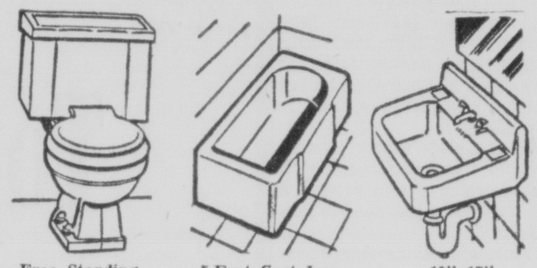

"This is our last and final home," says Russell.

Wellsville Upset, 67-64, On Small Central Catholic Floor

Central Wins 4th Straight At Home

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

An unheralded Steubenville Central Catholic team served up a dose of potent "home court jinx" medicine and stunned highly - ranked Wellsville, 67-64, Saturday night.

A capacity crowd of about 400 watched the Crusaders halt Wellsville's eight-game victory streak in a rough game at the Catholic Community Center in Steubenville.

Wellsville's defeat was not exactly unexpected, however, as records show the Tigers have been victimized on the Steubenville club's small court four campaigns in succession.

Earlier this season, Coach Jack McDevitt's 12th-ranked Tigers had proved their superiority over Central by dealing them a 22-point lacing, 68-46, at Beacom Memorial gym in Wellsville.

But however unfavorable were the playing conditions Saturday night against Central Catholic, the Tigers did little to overcome the odds by turning in a ragged showing, especially in passing.

CENTRAL took full advantage of many Wellsville miscues to turn bad passes into points.

Wellsville center Franklin Jackson turned in a near flawless performance in scoring 24 points and rebounding in outstanding form, but his efforts went for naught in the wake of jittery floor play by his teammates.

Coach Francis Sebring's Crusaders poured in 23 of 34 foul shots to overcome a deficit of three buckets and win their fourth game of the season. All four victories have come at the expense of other area clubs on Central's home boards. The Crusaders are winless on the road in six games.

Behind most of the time, Wellsville perked up late in the fourth period to deadlock the score at 62-62, but moments later served up a bunny shot to Central's Joe Polshaw on an in-bounds play and could never recover.

POLSHAW, 6-2 senior guard, pumped in 22 points, but it was his easy layup in the final 50 seconds of action that hurt Wellsville more than anything. He stole an erratic Tiger pass directly under the basket and scored to hoist Central ahead by three points, 65-62.

Jackson followed the miscue by tipping in a shot to cut the lead to one point, 65-64, and Wellsville's Bob Kiggans fouled out within the next few seconds. Polshaw then sank a pair of free throws to put Central farther ahead, 67-64.

Jackson received considerable aid in the scoring and rebounding departments from Kiggans, 6-3 junior, who delivered 18 points. Three other starters — apparently frustrated by the limited playing area — contributed virtually nothing in the way of assists or scores.

THE CRUSADERS picked up many scoring opportunities by forcing action with a full-court press. The Crusaders were fouled heavily, but also played a ragged brand of basketball.

Wellsville cagers may have seen the last of the cramped Community Center as school officials commented after the game that "this is the last one for us on this court."

The defeat — Wellsville's second in 10 games — removed some of the lustre from Friday's big battle with third-ranked Salem, but the game already is a sell-out.

Central got away fast for a 22-16 first-quarter lead. Polshaw flipped in three goals from long range and his brother, John, 6-3 pivot man, made four of five free throws to lead the assault. The score was tied five times the first period.

The battle raged on in the second quarter and the Tigers kept in contention on the corner jump shots of Jackson and several fielders by Milt Lamp. Central flurried in the final minutes to take a 34-32 halftime lead.

BOTH SQUADS picked up momentum in the third quarter and Wellsville forged ahead, 53-49, at the quarter's end sparked by the outside shooting of Raymond Franklin.

Kiggans brought the crowd to its feet when the third quarter buzzer sounded by firing in a 35-foot set shot from beyond the center jump circle.

Wellsville was behind 59 - 58 when forward Phil Baldwin was benched on fouls with about four and one-half minutes left in the game. A flurry of foul shots by Tom Eroshevich pulled Central ahead and they stayed there for the remainder of the game.

The jubilant Crusader fans hoisted Coach Sebring to their shoulders and carried him from the floor after the final buzzer.

In the preliminary, Wellsville's outstanding reserve squad was nipped by the Central Jayvees, 31-29.

Coach Carl Firm's Tiger reserves, now 7-3 for the season, trailed most of the distance as the Central quint gained revenge for a defeat on the Wellsville boards.

Wilbert Jones and Ben Cannadate each scored eight points for the losers. Drosack featured for Central with nine points.

Thrilling Contest Goes To Benwood

A fired-up Chester Panther five battled into an overtime period before bowing to Benwood Union, 61-55, in a thriller Saturday night at Chester.

Never more than four points separated the two teams throughout the regulation time.

Senior Bob Shaffer sent the game into overtime. With only three seconds remaining and Chester trailing, 53-51, Shaffer hit on a jump shot from the side to knot the count at 53-53.

Blaine Pinney, Chester's pivot man, put his team ahead, 55-53, with the first field goal in the overtime.

Cox of Benwood Union dropped in a basket and a foul to send the visitors in front, 56-55, however.

One point behind, Chester began fouling in an attempt to get possession and Benwood then converted four out of five fouls to gain the six-point margin.

Both teams fought bitterly for the lead, which changed hands on numerous occasions. Coach Max Tuttle's Panthers went out in front 10-9 at the end of the first period, but were trailing 24-23 at halftime.

The battle continued through the third quarter, with Chester holding a 41-39 edge when the period ended. The fourth quarter saw the score see-saw until Shaffer tied it up in the waning seconds.

Shaffer also took point honors for the night with 19. John Steele and Pinney also broke into double figures with 14 and 12, respectively.

Bosworth and Horvat dropped in 16 and 15 points to pace Benwood Union.

The loss marked Chester's seventh in 12 games. The Panthers will return to action Friday night at United.

99 Register For New Loop

Ninty-nine youngsters signed up to play in the newly-organized Little Potters Cage League Saturday at Westgate school.

The first practice sessions for the new league will be held Saturday morning at the high school gym on Broadway and 4th St.

The eight-team league is scheduled to get under way early in February.

League officials expect the number of candidates to reach about 130. Youngsters who didn't register last Saturday may sign up this Saturday at the high school gym.

Each team will carry 10 players and a seven-game schedule will be played, followed by a tournament at the end of the regular season.

Cunningham's Continue To Pace Grade Loop Play

Cunningham's of Westgate gained their fourth straight victory to remain on top in the Grade School League Satuday morning at Westgate.

Cunningham's edged Batistelli's, 22-18, as Kinsey poured in 12 points to lead the way. House dropped in eight for the losers.

The East End Whirlwinds picked up a 26-14 win over Andersons, its third in four games. Loy's 12 markers led the way. Manley paced Anderson's with six.

With Roach grabbing scoring honors for the day by netting 16 points, Neville's picked up a 30-13 victory over the East End Knicks. Starkey had five points for the losers.

Four Remain Unbeaten In Church Loop

The unbeaten list was cut to four in the YMCA-Church League Saturday night.

Two remain with clean records in each division. Stephens and First Methodist are tied for the lead in the Inter-Collegiate division with three victories each, while Trinity U. P. and First U. P. continue unbeaten in the Collegiate League.

St. Stephen's nipped Newell First Presbyterian, 21-19, with Burbick netting 11 points to lead the way. Bailey tossed in eight for Newell.

First Methodist was pressed before coming out on top, 13-9, in its win over First Church of the Nazarene. Roush had six points for the winners, while Eckles' four topped the losers.

In two other Inter-Collegiate battles, Second U. P. knocked off Chester First Methodist, 12-4. Loy's six markers topped Second U. P.

St. John's Lutheran picked up a 25-14 win over First Church of Christ. Bob Forzano topped the winners with 12 points, while Kinsey's six were high for First Church of Christ.

Trinity U. P. remained unbeaten with an easy 23-4 win over Calvary Methodist. Heddleston's nine points paced Trinity, while Hanselman scored all four of Calvary's points.

With Oliver dropping in 14 points, First U. P. gained a 31-5 win over Anderson Methodist. R. Francis had four points for the losers.

Chester First Christian, led by Blankenship's 12 markers, scored a 23-16 win over Oakland Free Methodist. J. Owens tallied 10 for the Oakland five.

Grace U. P. outscored Chester U. P. 11-7 as C. Talbott topped the winners with seven points.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's team, which entered the tourney with an 8-1 season record, scored 82 points.

Other scores in the meet showed Willoughby South with 57, Kent State High 40, Louisville 39, Brecksville 36, Kenston 32, Ravenna Township 23, Chagrin Falls 21, Canton Lincoln 20 and Rootstown 16.

Five Beaver Local wrestlers took first place in the meet, while three others took a second, third and fourth.

Chuck Timmons stretched his winning streak to 13 during the two-day tourney by winning four matches. Beaver Local's 103-pounder hasn't been scored upon this season.

He won the 103-pound title by decisioning Samblant of Louisville 5-0 in the finals.

Francis Possage captured the 112-pound championship with a 2-1 decision over McLad of Brecksville.

Beaver Local's Larry Yost took the 127-pound title with a 6-3 decision over West of Brecksville.

Carl Hoppel, 1959 state wrestling champ, drew two byes in the tourney. In his 133-pound division, all four wrestlers entered the semi-finals undefeated.

Hoppel came out with the championship belt by decisioning Braun of Willoughby South, 4-0. It was Hoppel's 11th victory in a row.

The fifth first place recorded by a Beaver Local wrestler was won by Francis Campbell, who gained a 7-3 verdict over Esgor of Louisville in the 175-pound battle.

Bob McBane, Beaver Local's 145-pounder, won second when he lost to Esner of Brecksville, 3-0, in the finals.

Jim Hall finished third in the 154-pound class by decisioning Hunt of Louisville 1-0, in the semi-finals.

Art Matheny was fourth in the heavyweight division when he lost to Lagan of Willoughby South in the semi-finals.

Each first-place winner received individual trophies, while medals were presented to the runnerups. A team trophy was presented to Beaver Local.

The Beavers will travel to Mentor Saturday afternoon shooting for their ninth win in 10 duel matches.

Francona Is Honored By Baseball Writers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Tito Francona will be honored tonight by Cleveland"s baseball writers as their "Man of the Year, 1959."

Francona finished last season with a .363 batting average—highest by any regular member of the Indians in more than 20 years. He came to Cleveland a year ago after three undistinguished seasons with Baltimore, Chicago and Detroit. To get him the Indians sent Larry Doby to Detroit in an even-up swap of outfielders.

Juan Marichal of the Springfield Giants led the Eastern League pitchers with a 2.39 earned run average in 1959. He won 18 games and lost 13.

Sportsmen's Club At Midland Sets Rally Wednesday

The Midland Sportsmen's Club will hold its mid-winter rally for members and guests Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Polish Falcon's Club.

Four clubs — Midland, Sunflower, Beaverkettle and Broadhead—took part in the Midland archery shoot last week.

Winners were Tony Azzarella 252, AA Class; Kenneth Alford 231, XA Class; Tony Kazman 171, XB Class; Joe Martell 278 and Emeric Scarsella 270, both free style. Martell used an 8-inch target.

Midland archers shot a Chicago round Sunday at the Sunflower Club at Marlon Hill.

Harris To Speak Before Nonpareil Club On Tuesday

Potter basketball coach Jim Harris will speak and screen movies of the East Liverpool - Midland game when the Blue and White Nonpareil Club meets Tuesday night at 8 in the YMCA.

Ralph Musuraca, president, said officers of the Little Potters League also will be present to discuss and explain activities of the basketball loop for youngsters 11-13 years old.

The meeting will be open to all Nonpareil Club members, plus all other sport fans in the city. Harry McConville is president of the Little Potters League.

Halfback Ger Schwedes led the 1959 Syracuse University football team in scoring with 100 points. He made 16 touchdowns and four extra points.

99 Register For New Loop

Ninty-nine youngsters signed up to play in the newly-organized Little Potters Cage League Saturday at Westgate school.

The first practice sessions for the new league will be held Saturday morning at the high school gym on Broadway and 4th St.

The eight-team league is scheduled to get under way early in February.

League officials expect the number of candidates to reach about 130. Youngsters who didn't register last Saturday may sign up this Saturday at the high school gym.

Each team will carry 10 players and a seven-game schedule will be played, followed by a tournament at the end of the regular season.

Cunningham's Continue To Pace Grade Loop Play

Cunningham's of Westgate gained their fourth straight victory to remain on top in the Grade School League Satuday morning at Westgate.

Cunningham's edged Batistelli's, 22-18, as Kinsey poured in 12 points to lead the way. House dropped in eight for the losers.

The East End Whirlwinds picked up a 26-14 win over Andersons, its third in four games. Loy's 12 markers led the way. Manley paced Anderson's with six.

With Roach grabbing scoring honors for the day by netting 16 points, Neville's picked up a 30-13 victory over the East End Knicks. Starkey had five points for the losers.

Four Remain Unbeaten In Church Loop

The unbeaten list was cut to four in the YMCA-Church League Saturday night.

Two remain with clean records in each division. Stephens and First Methodist are tied for the lead in the Inter-Collegiate division with three victories each, while Trinity U. P. and First U. P. continue unbeaten in the Collegiate League.

St. Stephen's nipped Newell First Presbyterian, 21-19, with Burbick netting 11 points to lead the way. Bailey tossed in eight for Newell.

First Methodist was pressed before coming out on top, 13-9, in its win over First Church of the Nazarene. Roush had six points for the winners, while Eckles' four topped the losers.

In two other Inter-Collegiate battles, Second U. P. knocked off Chester First Methodist, 12-4. Loy's six markers topped Second U. P.

St. John's Lutheran picked up a 25-14 win over First Church of Christ. Bob Forzano topped the winners with 12 points, while Kinsey's six were high for First Church of Christ.

Trinity U. P. remained unbeaten with an easy 23-4 win over Calvary Methodist. Heddleston's nine points paced Trinity, while Hanselman scored all four of Calvary's points.

With Oliver dropping in 14 points, First U. P. gained a 31-5 win over Anderson Methodist. R. Francis had four points for the losers.

Chester First Christian, led by Blankenship's 12 markers, scored a 23-16 win over Oakland Free Methodist. J. Owens tallied 10 for the Oakland five.

Grace U. P. outscored Chester U. P. 11-7 as C. Talbott topped the winners with seven points.

Kentucky Duel With Tech Holds Collegiate Spotlight

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the night college basketball learns if Adolph Rupp and his Kentucky Wildcats still have the knack for winning the big ones.

The big one this time puts Kentucky at Georgia Tech in a game that probably will decide the Southeastern Conference championship and the SEC club to challenge for the national collegiate tournament title in March.

Challenging for the NCAA and winning it is an old Kentucky habit, what with Baron Rupp and his Wildcats holding NCAA records for number of games won in tournament play, number of appearances and number of national collegiate titles (four).

This time, however, Georgia Tech stands in the way—and has the edge so far on the Blue Grass perennials after whipping Kentucky at their Lexington lair Jan. 2. They get together tonight at Tech with the Engineers holding first place in the SEC with a 5-0 record to Kentucky's 4-1.

Besides being the road club, Kentucky is further hampered by the temporary loss of junior star Billy Lickert, who has a leg injury, and the ineligibility of his planned replacement, Roger Newman.

Out of the top ten rankings so far, Kentucky has a 10-4 record but has come on strong after dropping three of its first seven games. Tech was ranked sixth nationally in last week's Associated Press poll and has a 14-2 over-all mark after splitting a pair last week.

The Kentucky-Georgia Tech game tops the Monday program as basketball begins to perk up some with many of the schools having finished mid-term examinations.

All of the top ten teams have games this week except 10th-ranked Texas A&M and the likes of Bradley, California, West Virginia and company probably can hardly wait to get going again after the way top-ranked Cincinnati and its All-America, Oscar Robertson, have been floundering.

Cincinnati, coming off its Jan. 16 loss to Bradley, managed to win its 14th in 15 tries, 61-58 over Duquense Saturday night, but the Bearcats had one of their toughest struggles with Robertson limited to 13 points by the defensive play of George Brown.

Oscar, needing 46 points to break the all-time three-year scoring record of 2,538 points established by Furman's Frank Selvy in 1954, hit only 4 of 14 shots from the field. He is still 33 points away from breaking Selvy's mark and needs 82 to top the major school all-time career record of 2,587 set in four seasons ending in 1955 by Wake Forest's Dickie Hemric.

Robertson gets one crack this week—against The Citadel at Cincinnati on Friday.

Meanwhile, second-ranked Bradley plays next at Marquette on Saturday in its second stop on a four-game road trip that began with an 86-65 victory over strong Notre Dame at Chicago Stadium Friday night. California (14-1) and West Virginia (15-1), both idle last week, have a pair of games—third-ranked Cal against Oregon Friday and Oregon State Saturday, and fourth-ranked West Virginia at Pitt Wednesday and William & Mary at Norfolk Saturday.

NFL Deadlock Continues In Bid For Commissioner

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Efforts of National Football League owners to select a successor to the late Bert Bell have gone to the ridiculous side.

Not only can't the 12 owners agree on a boss, they even have trouble deciding what time to start disagreeing. After seven unsuccessful ballots Sunday—21 in all since voting began last Thursday—a motion was made to adjourn again.

"Move we reconvene at 5 p.m. tomorrow," said one owner who must have had visions of a day at Hialeah. Then came a few other motions, one suggesting an 8 a.m. starting time, another 11 a.m., still another 1 p.m. The latter, after some discussion, finally prevailed.

It was midnight when the suntanned executives came from the meeting room. Attorney Marshall Leahy of San Francisco still had seven votes—San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Detroit, New York, Green Bay and the Chicago Cardinals. The "Solid Seven" refuses to budge. They won't even nominate a compromise candidate.

Lined up permanently as opposition is the "Fearless Four," —Philadelphia, Washington, Pittsburgh and Baltimore. The minority group switched from time to time from Baltimore's general manager, Don Kellett, to Acting Commissioner Austin H. Gunsel. They switched just to break the monotony. The four votes, however, remain solid. They were last cast for Gunsel on the 21st round.

Nine votes are necessary to elect a new commissioner.

Also static is the position of George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears. Papa Bear passes on every round. The leading exponent of league expansion, Halas has been criticized from both sides. "Vote for the other group and you lose our expansion vote," said Halas.

The battle obviously tends to reduce the meeting to a war of nerves. The chief factions are trying to wait each other out. Each is counting on the other to give in to end the debacle.

U.S. Entry Is 47th

MONTE CARLO (AP)—William Dodd of Amherst, Ohio, and Don Delling, Bethel, Conn., the only surviving U. S. entry in the week-long Monte Carlo auto rally, finished 47th in their Volvo with 2,627 penalty points. Only 79 cars completed the rally from the original field of 298 which converged on Monte Carlo from various European cities. After arriving here, drivers had a final, 12-hour mountain test.

Cheese Pioneer Dies

MONROE, Wis. (AP) — Carl Marty Sr., 86, a pioneer in the Swiss cheese industry and a prominent figure in Swiss-American culture in Wisconsin, died Sunday after an illness of several weeks. He was born in Switzerland and came to Monroe in 1887.

Ailing Stokes Gets Big Kick Out Of Game

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mo Stokes knew it wouldn't be easy but after his doctors okayed it, almost nothing could have kept him from that pro basketball game.

There aren't many of his old Cincinnati Royals teammates left. And his close friend and guardian, Jack Twyman, had a bad afternoon Sunday as Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati 104-95.

But Maurice Stokes, once a tall, quick, husky star and best rebounder in the National Basketball Assn., savored each minute of this game with huge delight.

This was the first time he has left Christ Hospital since his paralyzing brain illness hit nearly two years ago.

His doctors thought the game would be good for him. It was one of the first things he asked for when he first could make himself understood again.

Old teammates and friends, players and officials stopped at his wheelchair at Cincinnati Garden to greet him. He flashed a big acknowledging smile.

A new star, Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain, greeted him before the game, then went out and set a new Garden record of 37 rebounds.

Stokes watched the game intently. The brain inflammation that hit him in March 1958 left him with no immediate muscle control or coordination, but his mind is as keen as ever.

Former Miami Gridder Dies Of Plane Injuries

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Marine 1st Lt. Tom Troxell, 25, a former Miami (Ohio) University football star, is dead as the result of an airplane collision.

Troxell's mother, Mrs. Regina Winters of Greenville, was notified that he died Sunday in a Camp Pendleton, Calif., hospital of injuries received in the crash last Tuesday night.

The Crusader Jet Troxell was flying at the El Toro Marine Air Station in California collided with another plane on the landing strip. The other pilot was unhurt but Troxell suffered burns and numerous fractures.

Troxell, who graduated from Miami in 1956, was an outstanding halfback on the 1955 Redskin squad that recorded the school's first unbeaten season in 25 years.

Besides his mother, he leaves his widow, Beverly, and a brother, James, also a marine lieutenant, stationed at Quantico, Va.

Trades Help Cardinals, Manager Hemus Feels

By SOLLY HEMUS
Manager, St. Louis Cardinals

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Four winter trades have made the St. Louis Cardinals a better and more interesting club for 1960. We have added power and helped our pitching.

Our pennant chances depend largely upon our young pitchers and upon the new players we have added in trades with the Giants, Phillies, Pirates and Orioles.

We helped our power from the right-handed side of the plate when we added Daryl Spencer and Bob Nieman. We added left-handed power by obtaining Carl Sawatski and Leon Wagner. We certainly improved our pitching by acquiring Ronnie Kline for our starting staff.

I do feel, however, we have hurt ourselves a little bit defensively by giving up Don Blasingame, whom I consider one of the top second basemen in the league, and Gino Cimoli, who is a fine outfielder and got a lot of big hits for us. However, I feel that Curt Flood, with a chance to play regularly in center field, will more than atone for Cimoli's loss and Alex Grammas will do an acceptable job at second base. Young Wally Shannon could figure in that position, too. Our plan is to put Spencer back at shortstop, his original position.

Our biggest weakness last year was our lack of offense. We seemed to get a lot of men on base, but couldn't get the big hit to drive in the big runs. I think that the addition of Spencer, Wagner, Nieman and Sawatski will give us a much better balanced attack than we had last year.

Our club lacks pitching experience but we have the nucleus of a good pitching staff. Our experienced starting pitchers will be Larry Jackson, Vinegar Bend Mizell, and Kline. Bob Gibson, Ernie Broglio and Bob Miller, three promising youngsters, should benefit from last year's experience. The bullpen is well protected by Lindy McDaniel and Bob Duliba, righthander, and Marshall Bridges a lefthander.

We will have a solid lineup. Hal Smith is our No. 1 catcher, along with Sawatski and Darrell Johnson, whom he drafted from Richmond. Our infield situation will depend upon how much Stan Musial will be able to play. Besides Stan at first, we have Bill White and George Crowe. White, of course, will play in the outfield when he's not at first base. We've already discussed second and short. At third we have the best third baseman in the league in Boyer.

We're much better in the outfield than we were a year ago. Flood is our center fielder. Joe Cunningham, the team's leading hitter in 1959, is set in left or right. Nieman and Wagner may alternate in one of the outfield positions.

I think the team to beat at the present time is San Francisco. The Giants have helped themselves more than any other club. Milwaukee must be considered a strong threat. I feel the league balance will give anyone a chance to win the pennant. Needless to say, I feel we have as good a chance as anyone.

(Next: Jimmy Dykes, Detroit Tigers.)

Former All-State Cagers Shine In Collegiate Action

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Back in 1956 The Associated Press picked an All-Ohio Class AA high school basketball team.

The five were John Milhoan of Gallipolis, Larry Willey of Defiance, Jerry Lucas of Middletown, Jim Darrow of Akron South, and Gary Hornsby of Hamilton.

Where are they today?

Well, Darrow, now at Bowling Green, is the country's fourth-best scorer with a 15-game average of 28.3, and is head man in the rugged Mid - American Conference. Milhoan, Marshall's mightiest, is second in the Mid-American with a 23.4 average, and has made 27 of 32 free throws, third best average in the country.

Lucas, with a 13-game average of 27.4, is the land's fifth-best scorer and has paced Ohio State to four straight wins in the Big Ten. Willey, playing in the shadow of Oscar Robertson at Cincinnati, has the nation's best field goal percentage with .671, Lucas holding second with .611.

Hornsby, as a sophomore, was the sixth man on Cincinnati's 1958 team and probably would have been a top-flight regular now. But he married and dropped out of school, and is now a standout in a Hamilton industrial loop.

No wonder out-of-state talent-seeking coaches look on Ohio as the "happy hunting grounds."

Ohio's collegiate cagers go into this week's slate, abbreviated by semester exams, without an unbeaten representative. Ashland upset Defiance by 94-94 Saturday to erase the last of the clean-record teams, throwing the Mid-Ohio loop race into turmoil. Defiance still leads with 4-1, but Ashland and Ohio Northern are next with 4-2 in what had appeared earlier to be a runaway as Defiance won its first 11.

Ohio University roared to a 100-72 win over Kent State Saturday and moved into a tie with Toledo at 5-1 for the top spot in the Mid-American, well ahead of Bowling Green's third-place 3-2.

Akron also won a big one in convincing fashion, 93 - 53 over Wooster, to knock the Scots out of second place in the Ohio Conference. Oberlin, a 64-60 victor over Mount Union, eased into a runner-up tie with Akron at 5-1, Wittenberg's idle club holding the top with 6-0. Wooster had been all alone at 4-1 for second in last week's ratings.

Cincinnati's national pacesetters settled for a 61-58 win over Duquesne at Pittsburgh as the Keystone Staters held Oscar Robertson to 13 points, his lowest collegiate output. The "Big O" clung to the national scoring lead, however, with a 15-game total of 544 for a 36.2 average.

Ohio State made good on its first Big Ten road trip, blasting Purdue 85-71 at Lafayette as Lucas contributed 27 points although out of the fray for more than eight minutes because of fouls. He was outscored as Terry Dischinger of the Boilermakers, best in the Big Ten, stuffed in 32.

The victory moved the Bucks far out front in the Western Conference with 4-0, Iowa's second-place Hawkeyes having a 4-2 record, and the next four being deadlocked at 3-2. The Ohioans entertain Michigan State (3-2) here next Saturday, and Michigan (0-3) next Monday.

After winning 12 of 22 interstate games last week the Ohio clubs hold a 123-82 edge over out-of-state clubs for the season.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of LEONARD J. KINZEL, who passed away 2 years ago, Jan. 25, 1958: Sad and sudden was the call of one so dearly loved by all. It was a bitter grief, a shock severe, to part with one we loved so dear, to love to hold and then to part is the saddest thing of the human heart. O, Lord keep green the grave that lies beneath the wide and starry skies, keep sweet the sleep and give him rest. Whose hands are folded over his breast, forgotten to the world by some you may be, but dear to our memory you ever will be.

SADLY MISSED BY HIS WIFE, AND CHILDREN.

Kentucky Duel With Tech Holds Collegiate Spotlight

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the night college basketball learns if Adolph Rupp and his Kentucky Wildcats still have the knack for winning the big ones.

The big one this time puts Kentucky at Georgia Tech in a game that probably will decide the Southeastern Conference championship and the SEC club to challenge for the national collegiate tournament title in March.

Challenging for the NCAA and winning it is an old Kentucky habit, what with Baron Rupp and his Wildcats holding NCAA records for number of games won in tournament play, number of appearances and number of national collegiate titles (four).

This time, however, Georgia Tech stands in the way—and has the edge so far on the Blue Grass perennials after whipping Kentucky at their Lexington lair Jan. 2. They get together tonight at Tech with the Engineers holding first place in the SEC with a 5-0 record to Kentucky's 4-1.

Besides being the road club, Kentucky is further hampered by the temporary loss of junior star Billy Lickert, who has a leg injury, and the ineligibility of his planned replacement, Roger Newman.

Out of the top ten rankings so far, Kentucky has a 10-4 record but has come on strong after dropping three of its first seven games. Tech was ranked sixth nationally in last week's Associated Press poll and has a 14-2 over-all mark after splitting a pair last week.

The Kentucky-Georgia Tech game tops the Monday program as basketball begins to perk up some with many of the schools having finished mid-term examinations.

All of the top ten teams have games this week except 10th-ranked Texas A&M and the likes of Bradley, California, West Virginia and company probably can hardly wait to get going again after the way top-ranked Cincinnati and its All-America, Oscar Robertson, have been floundering.

Cincinnati, coming off its Jan. 16 loss to Bradley, managed to win its 14th in 15 tries, 61-58 over Duquesne Saturday night, but the Bearcats had one of their toughest struggles with Robertson limited to 13 points by the defensive play of George Brown.

Oscar, needing 46 points to break the all-time three-year scoring record of 2,538 points established by Furman's Frank Selvy in 1954, hit only 4 of 14 shots from the field. He is still 33 points away from breaking Selvy's mark and needs 82 to top the major school all-time career record of 2,587 set in four seasons ending in 1955 by Wake Forest's Dickie Hemric.

Robertson gets one crack this week—against The Citadel at Cincinnati on Friday.

Meanwhile, second-ranked Bradley plays next at Marquette on Saturday in its second stop on a four-game road trip that began with an 86-65 victory over strong Notre Dame at Chicago Stadium Friday night. California (14-1) and West Virginia (15-1), both idle last week, have a pair of games—third-ranked Cal against Oregon Friday and Oregon State Saturday, and fourth-ranked West Virginia at Pitt Wednesday and William & Mary at Norfolk Saturday.

NFL Deadlock Continues In Bid For Commissioner

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Efforts of National Football League owners to select a successor to the late Bert Bell have gone to the ridiculous side.

Not only can't the 12 owners agree on a boss, they even have trouble deciding what time to start disagreeing. After seven unsuccessful ballots Sunday—21 in all since voting began last Thursday—a motion was made to adjourn again.

"Move we reconvene at 5 p.m. tomorrow," said one owner who must have had visions of a day at Hialeah. Then came a few other motions, one suggesting an 8 a.m. starting time, another 11 a.m., still another 1 p.m. The latter, after some discussion, finally prevailed.

It was midnight when the sun-tanned executives came from the meeting room. Attorney Marshall Leahy of San Francisco still had seven votes—San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Detroit, New York, Green Bay and the Chicago Cardinals. The "Solid Seven" refuses to budge. They won't even nominate a compromise candidate.

Lined up permanently as opposition is the "Fearless Four,"—Philadelphia, Washington, Pittsburgh and Baltimore. The minority group switched from time to time from Baltimore's general manager, Don Kellett, to Acting Commissioner Austin H. Gunsel. They switched just to break the monotony. The four votes, however, remain solid. They were last cast for Gunsel on the 21st round.

Nine votes are necessary to elect a new commissioner.

Also static is the position of George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears. Papa Bear passes on every round. The leading exponent of league expansion, Halas has been criticized from both sides. "Vote for the other group and you lose our expansion vote," said Halas.

The battle obviously tends to reduce the meeting to a war of nerves. The chief factions are trying to wait each other out. Each is counting on the other to give in to end the debacle.

U.S. Entry Is 47th

MONTE CARLO (AP)—William Dodd of Amherst, Ohio, and Don Delling, Bethel, Conn., the only surviving U. S. entry in the week-long Monte Carlo auto rally, finished 47th in their Volvo with 2,627 penalty points. Only 79 cars completed the rally from the original field of 298 which converged on Monte Carlo from various European cities. After arriving here, drivers had a final, 12-hour mountain test.

Cheese Pioneer Dies

MONROE, Wis. (AP) — Carl Marty Sr., 86, a pioneer in the Swiss cheese industry and a prominent figure in Swiss-American culture in Wisconsin, died Sunday after an illness of several weeks. He was born in Switzerland and came to Monroe in 1887.

Ailing Stokes Gets Big Kick Out Of Game

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mo Stokes knew it wouldn't be easy but after his doctors okayed it, almost nothing could have kept him from that pro basketball game.

There aren't many of his old Cincinnati Royals teammates left. And his close friend and guardian, Jack Twyman, had a bad afternoon Sunday as Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati 104-95.

But Maurice Stokes, once a tall, quick, husky star and best rebounder in the National Basketball Assn., savored each minute of this game with huge delight.

This was the first time he has left Christ Hospital since his paralyzing brain illness hit nearly two years ago.

His doctors thought the game would be good for him. It was one of the first things he asked for when he first could make himself understood again.

Old teammates and friends, players and officials stopped at his wheelchair at Cincinnati Garden to greet him. He flashed a big acknowledging smile.

A new star, Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain, greeted him before the game, then went out and set a new Garden record of 37 rebounds.

Stokes watched the game intently. The brain inflammation that hit him in March 1958 left him with no immediate muscle control or coordination, but his mind is as keen as ever.

Former Miami Gridder Dies Of Plane Injuries

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Marine 1st Lt. Tom Troxell, 25, a former Miami (Ohio) University football star, is dead as the result of an airplane collision.

Troxell's mother, Mrs. Regina Winters of Greenville, was notified that he died Sunday in a Camp Pendleton, Calif., hospital of injuries received in the crash last Tuesday night.

The Crusader Jet Troxell was flying at the El Toro Marine Air Station in California collided with another plane on the landing strip. The other pilot was unhurt but Troxell suffered burns and numerous fractures.

Troxell, who graduated from Miami in 1956, was an outstanding halfback on the 1955 Redskin squad that recorded the school's first unbeaten season in 25 years.

Besides his mother, he leaves his widow, Beverly, and a brother, James, also a marine lieutenant, stationed at Quantico, Va.

Trades Help Cardinals, Manager Hemus Feels

By SOLLY HEMUS
Manager, St. Louis Cardinals

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Four winter trades have made the St. Louis Cardinals a better and more interesting club for 1960. We have added power and helped our pitching.

Our pennant chances depend largely upon our young pitchers and upon the new players we have added in trades with the Giants, Phillies, Pirates and Orioles.

We helped our power from the right-handed side of the plate when we added Daryl Spencer and Bob Nieman. We added left-handed power by obtaining Carl Sawatski and Leon Wagner. We certainly improved our pitching by acquiring Ronnie Kline for our starting staff.

I do feel, however, we have hurt ourselves a little bit defensively by giving up Don Blasingame, whom I consider one of the top second basemen in the league, and Gino Cimoli, who is a fine outfielder and got a lot of big hits for us. However, I feel that Curt Flood, with a chance to play regularly in center field, will more than atone for Cimoli's loss and Alex Grammas will do an acceptable job at second base. Young Wally Shannon could figure in that position, too. Our plan is to put Spencer back at shortstop, his original position.

Our biggest weakness last year was our lack of offense. We seemed to get a lot of men on base, but couldn't get the big hit to drive in the big runs. I think that the addition of Spencer, Wagner, Nieman and Sawatski will give us a much better balanced attack than we had last year.

Our club lacks pitching experience but we have the nucleus of a good pitching staff. Our experienced starting pitchers will be Larry Jackson, Vinegar Bend Mizell, and Kline. Bob Gibson, Ernie Broglio and Bob Miller, three promising youngsters, should benefit from last year's experience. The bullpen is well protected by Lindy McDaniel and Bob Duliba, righthander, and Marshall Bridges a lefthander.

We will have a solid lineup. Hal Smith is our No. 1 catcher, along with Sawatski and Darrell Johnson, whom he drafted from Richmond. Our infield situation will depend upon how much Stan Musial will be able to play. Besides Stan at first, we have Bill White and George Crowe. White, of course, will play in the outfield when he's not at first base. We've already discussed second and short. At third we have the best third baseman in the league in Boyer.

We're much better in the outfield than we were a year ago. Flood is our center fielder. Joe Cunningham, the team's leading hitter in 1959, is set in left or right. Nieman and Wagner may alternate in one of the outfield positions.

I think the team to beat at the present time is San Francisco. The Giants have helped themselves more than any other club. Milwaukee must be considered a strong threat. I feel the league balance will give anyone a chance to win the pennant. Needless to say, I feel we have as good a chance as anyone.

(Next: Jimmy Dykes, Detroit Tigers.)

Former All-State Cagers Shine In Collegiate Action

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Back in 1956 The Associated Press picked an All-Ohio Class AA high school basketball team.

The five were John Milhoan of Gallipolis, Larry Willey of Defiance, Jerry Lucas of Middletown, Jim Darrow of Akron South, and Gary Hornsby of Hamilton.

Where are they today?

Well, Darrow, now at Bowling Green, is the country's fourth-best scorer with a 15-game average of 28.3, and is head man in the rugged Mid - American Conference. Milhoan, Marshall's mightiest, is second in the Mid-American with a 23.4 average, and has made 27 of 32 free throws, third best average in the country.

Lucas, with a 13-game average of 27.4, is the land's fifth-best scorer and has paced Ohio State to four straight wins in the Big Ten. Willey, playing in the shadow of Oscar Robertson at Cincinnati, has the nation's best field goal percentage with .671, Lucas holding second with .611.

Hornsby, as a sophomore, was the sixth man on Cincinnati's 1958 team and probably would have been a top-flight regular now. But he married and dropped out of school, and is now a standout in a Hamilton industrial loop.

No wonder out-of-state talent-seeking coaches look on Ohio as the "happy hunting grounds."

Ohio's collegiate cagers go into this week's slate, abbreviated by semester exams, without an unbeaten representative. Ashland upset Defiance by 94-94 Saturday to erase the last of the clean-record teams, throwing the Mid-Ohio loop race into turmoil. Defiance still leads with 4-1, but Ashland and Ohio Northern are next with 4-2 in what had appeared earlier to be a runaway as Defiance won its first 11.

Ohio University roared to a 100-72 win over Kent State Saturday and moved into a tie with Toledo at 5-1 for the top spot in the Mid-American, well ahead of Bowling Green's third-place 3-2.

Akron also won a big one in convincing fashion, 93 - 53 over Wooster, to knock the Scots out of second place in the Ohio Conference. Oberlin, a 64-60 victor over Mount Union, eased into a runner-up tie with Akron at 5-1, Wittenberg's idle club holding the top with 6-0. Wooster had been all alone at 4-1 for second in last week's ratings.

Cincinnati's national pacesetters settled for a 61-58 win over Duquesne at Pittsburgh as the Keystone Staters held Oscar Robertson to 13 points, his lowest collegiate output. The "Big O" clung to the national scoring lead, however, with a 15-game total of 544 for a 36.2 average.

Ohio State made good on its first Big Ten road trip, blasting Purdue 85-71 at Lafayette as Lucas contributed 27 points although out of the fray for more than eight minutes because of fouls. He was outscored as Terry Dischinger of the Boilermakers, best in the Big Ten, stuffed in 32.

The victory moved the Bucks far out front in the Western Conference with 4-0, Iowa's second-place Hawkeyes having a 4-2 record, and the next four being deadlocked at 3-2. The Ohioans entertain Michigan State (3-2) here next Saturday, and Michigan (0-3) next Monday.

After winning 12 of 22 interstate games last week the Ohio clubs hold a 123-82 edge over out-of-state clubs for the season.

The Review as well as every other member of the Association endeavors to print only truthful classified advertisements and will appreciate having its attention called to any advertising not conforming to the highest standard of honesty.

The Review is not liable for errors after the first insertion and reserves the right to properly classify, index and edit all ads.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of LEONARD J. KINZEL, who passed away 2 years ago, Jan. 25, 1958: Sad and sudden was the call of one so dearly loved by all, It was a bitter grief, a shock severe, to part with one we loved so dear, to love to hold and then to part is the saddest thing of the human heart. O, Lord keep green the grave that lies beneath the wide and starry skies, keep sweet the sleep and give him rest. Whose hands are folded over his breast, forgotten to the world by some you may be, but dear to our memory you ever will be.

SADLY MISSED BY HIS WIFE, AND CHILDREN.

After Washington Dinner

Nominee Left Up In Air By Democratic Chieftains

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders controlling major blocs of party power remained uncommitted on a party nominee today after a weekend parade of presidential hopefuls.

With former President Harry S. Truman setting a "give 'em hell" pace, four major and several minor contenders for top place on the ticket tried out their personalities and oratorical persuasion on 2,500 party members at a $100 a plate fund-raising dinner here.

The upshot seemed to be that nobody started any bandwagons rolling. This was confirmed by a check of the men in a position to control the big-vote delegations likely to have the final say in any down-to-the-wire contest that develops in the Los Angeles convention.

Truman, who retains strong influence with a minority segment of the party, dealt something of a blow to the incipient candidacy of Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), when he told he group he has no commitments on any presidential aspirant. Symington has been counting heavily on Truman's support.

Truman also took what appeared to be an indirect swipe at Adlai Stevenson, the man he wanted as a candidate in 1952 and didn't want in 1956. Stevenson won the nomination but lost the election both times.

Truman said that, in addition to having the necessary qualifications for office, the man he supports is going to have "the ability as well to arouse the support of the people to vote him into office."

Stevenson, who did not attend the dinner, sent a message in which he called for maintenance of military strnegth, controlled disarmament, wider research, better education and "a greater thrust into outer space." It provoked only routine applause.

New York leaders, nominally headed by National Committeeman Carmine De Sapio, gave no evidence of unity behind any single candidate. Although there were reports that sentiment for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) might be strong among prospective delegates, there was no jelling of sentiment at the top.

Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago and Col. Jacob Arvey, Illinois national committeeman, conspicously gave equal applause to Kennedy and Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), and Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn). Kennedy and Humphrey are announced candidates. Johnson is unavowed but obviously is available.

Daley said he does not expect the hefty Illinois delegation to decide which candidate it will support until the July convention gets under way.

Gov. David Lawrence, who hopes to lead an uninstructed 81-vote delegation into the convention from Pennsylvania, said he isn't making any decision between possible candidates now.

Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California insisted all he wants is to be let alone as a favorite son candidate. He said that if he gets this designation in the state's June 7 primary there will be plenty of time to decide on which candidate to support.

Brown shopped around, visiting most of the hopefuls. Govs. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, who seem likely to be favorite sons, got in some strategic licks that conceivably could lead to a second-place nomination.

Pennsylvania To Pick Democratic Bloc Today

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania's Democratic party picks the nation's first large bloc of presidential convention delegates today. They most likely will be uncommitted.

The 42 delegates-at-large elected by the Democratic State Committee will have half a vote each at the July convention in Los Angeles.

The public will choose 120 district delegates—each with half a vote — at the April 26 primary election, thus completing the state's 81-vote delegation, third largest in the nation.

Only Alaska has chosen its convention delegates.

Gov. David L. Lawrence, one of the country's most powerful Democrats, was certain to get the chairmanship of the delegation.

The 70-year-old governor was expected to tell the delegates not to commit themselves. His aides have said he wants the delegation free to manuever at the convention.

Only one man in line for a delegate-at-large post has come out publicly for a presidential hopeful. House Speaker H. G. Andrews is for Sen. John F. Kennedy (Mass.).

The governor, also a Democratic national committeeman, reportedly favors either Sen. Stuart Symington (Mo.) or Adlai Stevenson.

Lawrence will meet Saturday night with Symington and former President Harry S. Truman in Springfield, Mo. He will address a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner there.

He has met with supporters of Kennedy and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (Minn.). By report, he refused to back either man.

The Republican State Committee will choose its delegates-at-large in March.

Church Starts Election Plans

Six members were named as a nominating committee during morning worship Sunday at the Clarkson Presbyterian Church.

They include Wallace Swaney, Paul Lower, and Paul Lipp, elders; Everett George, a trustee; Mrs. Mildred Welce, superintendeent of the Sunday School and president of the Women's Organization, and Mrs. Dorothy Davis, organist. They will prepare a slate of church officers for an election to be held sometime in February. Swaney conducted the meeting.

In the evening, the elders met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis in Clarkson to elect a budget committee and a committee to select a name for the newly-purchased former Clarkson school house, which is used for church social activities.

Named to the budget committee are Earl Gibson. Mrs. Ottis Gibson, Raymond Watson, Mrs. Mildred Welce, Mrs. Ruth Daiger and Earl Davis. The other committee includes Mrs. Marie George, Mrs. Daiger, Bob Welce, Mrs. Mildred Welce, Mrs. Catherine Fitzsimmons and Mrs. Dorothy Davis.

Kerry Meier of Pittsburgh, student at the Western Theological Seminary at Pittsburgh, is pastor. He conducted the meeting at the Davis home.

Toy Gun Is Used To Seize Suspect

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A young mother of three held an 18-year-old youth at bay with a child's BB gun Sunday until police arrived and arrested him on a charge of burglary.

Mrs. Flacha D. Guzzi of the city's Oakland section heard someone breaking into a grocery below her second-floor apartment about 5 a. m.

She called police, but by the time they arrived the burglars had made off with a strong box containing $500, eight packs of cigarets and a package of wieners.

Police found the strong box in the yard. Then two hours later Mrs. Guzzi heard another noise in the back yard and discovered John Mitchell, 18.

She grabbed a BB pistol, called police and rushed to the street in a housecoat, shouting:

"Stop or I'll shoot!"

She pointed the toy gun at Mitchell until police arrived.

Police later picked up two other youths in connection with the burglary.

Police Bullets Kill Man After Knifing Incident

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Struck by three police bullets after he allegedly tried to choke his wife and threatened officers with a butcher knife, Herbert Harville, 44, was killed here Sunday.

Police Lt. R. J. Rado described the events as follows:

Patrolmen M. V. Manning and R. M. Shiveley were sent to the Harville home on a complaint of family trouble. Harville, who had been drinking, invited the officers into his kitchen.

Suddenly Harville pulled the knife from a drawer and insisted "You aren't going to take me out of here!" Manning went to use the telephone and Harville thrust at him with the knife.

Manning drew his revolver and fired four shots, two hitting Harville in the leg. Then Shiveley fired twice, one shot hitting Harville in the left side. Harville died within the hour at a hospital.

3 Men Named On Board Of Hancock Red Cross

Two Chester men and another from Newell have been named members of the Board of Directors of the North Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

They are Edward D. McNicol and Paul McHenry of Chester and V. R. Zerkle of Newell. Their terms will expire in July 1962, according to Mrs. Ruth Sprouse, executive secretary.

McNicol is chairman for the chapter's annual fund campaign, which will get underway in March.

Weirton Steel Executive To Speak For Chamber

"Industry and the Community" will be the topic of Dan Sweaney, former city manager of Weirton, at the annual meeting of the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the First Methodist Church.

Sweaney, a member of the Industrial Relations Department of Weirton Steel Co., is a member of the firm's Speakers Bureau. He was the first city manager of Weirton.

A 30-year veteran with Weirton Steel, Sweaney started as an oiler in the steel works mechanical department. He was promoted to foreman in 1933 and held that position until 1945, when he advanced to Industrial Relations.

Sweaney was appointed city manager July 1, 1947. He served until July 1, 1955, when he returned to Weirton Steel as a special representative in Industrial Relations.

He is president of the Weirton Hospital Co. and is a member of the Elks and Lions Clubs. He is past president of the Lions and also a past district governor.

Reservations for the dinner event are due by noon Tuesday, according to Atty. William Bush, secretary.

The selection of four new members for the Board of Directors will be announced. Voting was by mail.

The board will meet within 10 days after the dinner to reorganize and elect officers. Richard Brown is president.

DAN SWEANEY
He's Former City Manager.

Two Men Grilled In Whisky Theft

CLEVELAND (AP) — Eighty cases of whisky were stolen Sunday from a state wholesale store at 7640 Broadway, and two East Side men were arrested for questioning in the theft. This same store was looted of 80 cases of liquor on the night of Jan. 12.

Patrolman Andrew Julius and John Madison, making a routine check, found the door to the store had been jimmied and radioed for help. Police cars moving into the neighborhood found two parked cars about three blocks away, one of them containing 30 cases of whisky of the brand stolen from the store. In the other car were Joseph De Pasquale, 52, operator of Duffy's Tavern on E. 91st., and Mitchell J. Jusczyk, 41, of Cleveland.

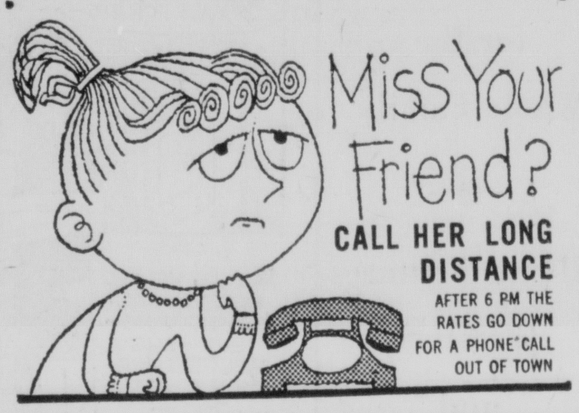

Police said the two men had in their car an opened carton of whisky containing seven bottles and that the serial number was torn off the box. Later in DePasquale's living quarters 28 cases of liquor of the kind missing were found and DePasquale could not explain where he obtained it, police said.

As an economy move the Ohio Department of Liquor Control last summer cancelled burglar alarm protection service on its stores throughout the state. Cleveland Police Chief Frank Story called the move an open invitation to burglars.

The external face of a building, especially its principal front, is known as the facade.

Lisbon Women Press Drive For Library Endowment Fund

Mrs. Frank Adomitus, Mrs. Maurice Bell, Mrs. Greba Kinsey, Mrs. Raymond Morris, Mrs. Harold Vincent and Mrs. Cornell Monda, members of Trinity Episcopal land Thursday to attend a "Day for Bexley" meeting held at the Episcopal Church of Ascension there. T. G. Whitney, rector, also attended.

Episcopal church women of the Diocese of Ohio have opened a new phase of their drive to raise $100,000 endowment fund to provide badly-needed books for the library at the Bexley Hall Seminary of Kenyon College at Gambier.

A spring "Books for Bexley" solicitation to meet the pledge made by the Womens Organization at its convention last May began following a luncheon meeting at the Cleveland church.

Dr. F. Edward Lund, president of Kenyon College, and the Very Rev. Almus Thorp, dean of Bexley Hall, told the audience of parish presidents, parish Bexley chairmen, clergy and other interested persons that the need for books is serious at the Bexley Library, which ranks seventh among the libraries of the eleven Episcopal seminaries.

The Right Rev. Nelson M. Burroughs, bishop of Ohio, also spoke in support of the project, which he said will greatly strengthen the position of Bexley.

Bexley Hall Divinity School of Kenyon College was founded in 1824 by Bishop Philander Chase and became the first seminary of the church west of the Alleghenies and third in the nation.

Mrs. Julien Jones is chairman of "Books for Bexley" in Lisbon.

The auxiliary of John J. Welsh American Legion Post has made plans for its annual Americanism dinner Monday, Feb. 1, at 6:30 p. m. Husbands will be guests. Members will take a coverdish and their own table service. Rolls, butter and coffee will be furnished.

Special attraction will be the appearance of the East Liverpool Sweet Adeline Chorus under the direction of Glenn Woods.

The Sweet Adeline Chorus was organized in August 1959 and includes Mrs. Seth Phelps of Lisbon as one of the lead singers. The group now has 34 members. They sing barbershop harmony and also appear as quartets.

Mrs. Russell Shaw, president of the auxiliary, reported that Mrs. Edwin McKelvey of Scio, 10th District auxiliary president, will be the speaker.

Members of Gamma Nu Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority entertained their husbands at a "Twelfth Night Party" Saturday night at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henry at Guilford Lake. Eighteen were present. Bridge and 500 were the diversion.

Lunch was served cafeteria style, with Mrs. Frank Adomitis, Mrs. Clayton Hunter and Mrs. Dale Mason assisting.

Pythian Sisters held their regular meeting Friday night in the Pythian Temple.

Following business, a silent auction was held, which netted over $17.

A social hour followed. Members with birthdays in October, November and December were honored with a birthday cake and lunch.

Mrs. John Williams of N. Market St. entertained 500 Club associates Thursday night.

Miss Sadie Pannier and Mrs. Wilfred Welsh were awarded prizes.

Mrs. Tom Burnip of S. Lincoln Ave. will receive the club Feb. 4.

Mrs. Carolyn Trotter is reported improved in Salem City Hospital, where she was admitted early last week with pneumonia. Mrs. Trotter observed her 90th birthday in December. A former resident of East Liverpool, she now resides with her daughter, Mrs. Earl Apple of E. Lincoln Way.

Hearings Fixed Later For 3 Cited Motorists

Three motorists cited over the weekend by city police and the State Highway Patrol are due for hearings this week in Municipal Court.

Wallace O. Stephens, 21, of Petersburg posted a $56 bond after being cited about 3 a. m. today in Peach Alley on a charge of improper registration.

Floyd W. Framton of New York is to appear Tuesday on a charge of speeding, while David A. Paulman of Toronto will receive a hearing Saturday on a similar charge.

Both were cited at 6:30 a. m. today while traveling 75 miles an hour on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd., the patrol said.

Lisbon Man Fined

LISBON — Roger L. Senior, 23, of 131 W. High St., was fined $15 and costs Sunday by Mayor Dean Stockman for failure to register his auto. He was cited by the Sate Highway Patrol.

Scout Lessons Pay Off As Boy Rescues Pair

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Two Tulsa youngsters are pretty happy that Howard White, 12, knew his Boy Scout lessons.

Douglas Poplin, 7, and David Staley, 9, slipped through ice on a city park pond Sunday and were struggling in the water.

White saw their plight, found a long pole and slid onto the ice on his stomach. The youngsters held the pole until passers-by rescued them with a rope.

White's father, Robert Lloyd White, is a scoutmaster.

Nominee Left Up In Air By Democratic Chieftains

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders controlling major blocs of party power remained uncommitted on a party nominee today after a weekend parade of presidential hopefuls.

With former President Harry S. Truman setting a "give 'em hell" pace, four major and several minor contenders for top place on the ticket tried out their personalities and oratorical persuasion on 2,500 party members at a $100 a plate fund-raising dinner here.

The upshot seemed to be that nobody started any bandwagons rolling. This was confirmed by a check of the men in a position to control the big-vote delegations likely to have the final say in any down-to-the-wire contest that develops in the Los Angeles convention.

Truman, who retains strong influence with a minority segment of the party, dealt something of a blow to the incipient candidacy of Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), when he told he group he has no commitments on any presidential aspirant. Symington has been counting heavily on Truman's support.

Truman also took what appeared to be an indirect swipe at Adlai Stevenson, the man he wanted as a candidate in 1952 and didn't want in 1956. Stevenson won the nomination but lost the election both times.

Truman said that, in addition to having the necessary qualifications for office, the man he supports is going to have "the ability as well to arouse the support of the people to vote him into office."

Stevenson, who did not attend the dinner, sent a message in which he called for maintenance of military strnegth, controlled disarmament, wider research, better education and "a greater thrust into outer space." It provoked only routine applause.

New York leaders, nominally headed by National Committeeman Carmine De Sapio, gave no evidence of unity behind any single candidate. Although there were reports that sentiment for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) might be strong among prospective delegates, there was no jelling of sentiment at the top.

Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago and Col. Jacob Arvey, Illinois national committeeman, conspicously gave equal applause to Kennedy and Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), and Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn). Kennedy and Humphrey are announced candidates. Johnson is unavowed but obviously is available.

Daley said he does not expect the hefty Illinois delegation to decide which candidate it will support until the July convention gets under way.

Gov. David Lawrence, who hopes to lead an uninstructed 81-vote delegation into the convention from Pennsylvania, said he isn't making any decision between possible candidates now.

Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California insisted all he wants is to be let alone as a favorite son candidate. He said that if he gets this designation in the state's June 7 primary there will be plenty of time to decide on which candidate to support.

Brown shopped around, visiting most of the hopefuls. Govs. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, who seem likely to be favorite sons, got in some strategic licks that conceivably could lead to a second-place nomination.

Pennsylvania To Pick Democratic Bloc Today

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania's Democratic party picks the nation's first large bloc of presidential convention delegates today. They most likely will be uncommitted.

The 42 delegates-at-large elected by the Democratic State Committee will have half a vote each at the July convention in Los Angeles.

The public will choose 120 district delegates—each with half a vote — at the April 26 primary election, thus completing the state's 81-vote delegation, third largest in the nation.

Only Alaska has chosen its convention delegates.

Gov. David L. Lawrence, one of the country's most powerful Democrats, was certain to get the chairmanship of the delegation.

The 70-year-old governor was expected to tell the delegates not to commit themselves. His aides have said he wants the delegation free to manuever at the convention.

Only one man in line for a delegate-at-large post has come out publicly for a presidential hopeful. House Speaker H. G. Andrews is for Sen. John F. Kennedy (Mass.).

The governor, also a Democratic national committeeman, reportedly favors either Sen. Stuart Symington (Mo.) or Adlai Stevenson.

Lawrence will meet Saturday night with Symington and former President Harry S. Truman in Springfield, Mo. He will address a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner there.

He has met with supporters of Kennedy and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (Minn.). By report, he refused to back either man.

The Republican State Committee will choose its delegates-at-large in March.

Church Starts Election Plans

Six members were named as a nominating committee during morning worship Sunday at the Clarkson Presbyterian Church.

They include Wallace Swaney, Paul Lower, and Paul Lipp, elders; Everett George, a trustee; Mrs. Mildred Welce, superintendeent of the Sunday School and president of the Women's Organization, and Mrs. Dorothy Davis, organist. They will prepare a slate of church officers for an election to be held sometime in February. Swaney conducted the meeting.

In the evening, the elders met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis in Clarkson to elect a budget committee and a committee to select a name for the newly-purchased former Clarkson school house, which is used for church social activities.

Named to the budget committee are Earl Gibson. Mrs. Ottis Gibson, Raymond Watson, Mrs. Mildred Welce, Mrs. Ruth Daiger and Earl Davis. The other committee includes Mrs. Marie George, Mrs. Daiger, Bob Welce, Mrs. Mildred Welce, Mrs. Catherine Fitzsimmons and Mrs. Dorothy Davis.

Scout Lessons Pay Off As Boy Rescues Pair

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Two Tulsa youngsters are pretty happy that Howard White, 12, knew his Boy Scout lessons.

Douglas Poplin, 7, and David Staley, 9, slipped through ice on a city park pond Sunday and were struggling in the water.

White saw their plight, found a long pole and slid onto the ice on his stomach. The youngsters held the pole until passers-by rescued them with a rope.

White's father, Robert Lloyd White, is a scoutmaster.
